

CCC Will Enlist 2,492 Recruits In Carolinas

Two thousand four hundred ninety-two recruits for the Civilian Conservation Corps are to be enlisted by army recruiting officials of the Carolinas, starting July 2, Colonel Talbot Smith, in charge of recruiting in the two states, said.

Full details of the methods of recruiting have not yet been received, but it is anticipated that the recruiting will be started in Charlotte, as this procedure has been followed in the past.

With the exception of 13 negro junior CCC recruits who are to be sent to Florida conservation camps, three white veterans who are to be sent to Blountstown, Florida, 101 white CCC juniors who are to be sent to Easley, S. C., and 37 white veterans, who are to go to Sumter, S. C., all junior CCC recruits and all veterans are to be sent to North Carolina conservation camps.

Of the 2,492 recruits, 2,135 are to be white junior CCC men, 217 are to be negro junior CCCs, 105 are to be white veterans and 23 are to be negro veterans.

The largest detachment of men, 108 in number, is to go to the CCC at Marion. These are junior white CCC's. One hundred and one junior white CCC's are to go to Easley, S. C.

Ninety-two negro junior CCC's are to go to Franklin, and 57 are to go to Fort Bragg. All of the negro veterans are to go to Littleton. The largest detachment of white veterans, 56, is to go to Fort Bragg. Thirty-seven are to go to Sumter, S. C.

Ranger Makes First Sea Run

Norfolk, Va.—The navy's new aircraft carrier Ranger steamed to sea passing out the Virginia capes for a shakedown cruise along the coast which may extend as far as Rockland, Me. She is scheduled to return to Hampton Roads Saturday en route to the Norfolk navy yard for minor adjustments.

On the disarmament question, every country is willing to disarm, provided all other powers disarm first.

Lady Went Back To Taking CARDUI and Was Helped

For severe periodic pains, cramps or nervousness, try Cardui which so many women have praised, for over fifty years. Mrs. Dora Dunagan, of Science Hill, Ky., writes: "Several years ago, when I was teaching school, I got run-down and suffered intensely during menstruation periods. I took Cardui and was all right again. After I was married, when I felt all run-down and was irregular, I always resorted to Cardui and was helped." It may be just what you need. Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician. Sold in $1 bottles.

Bootleg Trade Hard Pressed

Carolina's Dry Unit Makes Weekly Record of 36 Stills and 37 Arrests.

Whiskey may flow freely in a majority of the states of the Union, but bootleggers in the two Carolinas are faring poorly as the boys under T. Ed Patton, investigator in charge of the alcoholic tax unit of the Carolinas strive to earn their pay and make it hard for the dispensers of illegal booze.

Last month the investigators of the two states made one of the best weekly records ever made in the unit and far surpassed any weekly havoc played among bootleggers in many months.

Thirty-six stills were raided and destroyed during the week until noon Saturday. Almost 40,000 gallons of mash was destroyed, and 487 gallons of non-tax paid whiskey was seized for Uncle Sam.

Six automobiles were confiscated during the week. In addition, one truck was taken in by the investigators and the total value of property seized was $1,100.

Twenty-seven arrests were made, and 18 cases were prepared for presentation in federal court.

Investigator-in-Charge Patton expressed keen appreciation of the efforts of his investigators. "The week's record was really remarkable in view of the scarcity of equipment, and such a record could be made only by willingness of the boys to work day and night for law enforcement," Mr. Patton declared.

He added that sheriff's and other county officers of both states are continuing to show a fine spirit of co-operation, which is partly responsible for the excellent record that has been made.

Car Sales Less In May Than April

Raleigh—New automobile and truck sales in North Carolina were some fewer in May than in April, but still far ahead of May last year, while the sales for the first five months of this year in both are still considerably more than twice the sales for the same period last year, the report of Director L. S. Harris, of the motor vehicle bureau, shows.

The five months sales reached 15,394 passenger cars and 4,146 trucks, as compared with 7,250 cars and 1,735 trucks for the corresponding five months of 1933. The May sales of new cars was 3,890 and trucks 871, far above the 2,147 cars and 510 trucks sold in May, 1933, but less than the high figure of 4,950 cars and 1,144 trucks purchased new in April, 1934.

The production of crops is limited, but the sports persist in raising the usual amount of Cain.

N. C. Gas Tax Yield Higher

Net collections of motorists' gas tax in North Carolina showed a smaller rate of increase from 1932 to 1933 than the figures for the nation, according to a report issued by the American Petroleum Institute.

While the national figures showed a jump from $580,000,000 to $700,000,000 or about 20 per cent, North Carolina's total net collections increased only from $13,903,646 to $14,769,602 or less than 10 per cent.

Although only one state raised its rate in 1933 over the previous year, 29 states reported increased revenue from the gasoline tax, the report declares, despite the fact that the total amount of gasoline consumed in the country decreased last year.

The United States set out to regulate the whole planet when it entered the World War in 1917, but just at present it has posted up the sign "This is my busy day," and its time is fully occupied trying to regulate itself.
