Holiday "Drop-In" Guests No Problem to Modern Hostess

With a buffet table laden with "Self-service" hostess, the hostess is ready for any number of unexpected guests.

UNEXPECTED guests who "just drop in" during Christmas week are no longer a menace to the nervous system of the hostess.

The solution, of course, is the buffet table, from which guests help themselves as they please.

sandwich. Many a home has been reunited across preserved peaches and a dish of little cakes!

But even so, there were things to be said—this pleasant interlude couldn't go on forever.

Ellen precipitated the crisis. She was always saying things she didn't intend to say.

"Can Jane cook?" she asked. Tony shrugged.

"I wish," she said, "that we might have liked each other, Jane and I. But I'm afraid it isn't possible."

"That," said Tony, "is the way I feel about Alven. He's a nice guy, and I don't doubt a good artist—but I'm afraid he's out. So far as I'm concerned."

"Dick," Ellen rose and carried her tray away to the kitchenette place, "Dick is so regular, Tony, you must understand that. He'd asked me to marry him, yes. But never—never—has he ever kissed me, before this day—you've got to believe that! And he'll never kiss me again, I'm sure—unless I tell him to. You can count on Dick, Tony. Dick is a gentleman."

"And Jane," said Tony shortly, "is a gentlewoman. You can count on her!"

Ellen could have killed herself for saying it, but she couldn't help herself.

"Jane didn't make it very easy for me, tonight," she said. "I didn't think she acted like a gentlewoman, exactly. She gave me a rotten time."

Tony was flushing, but, oddly enough, he held his peace. "I don't think she behaved very well, either," he said. "And I don't know whether or not she was in love with me. Our families were friends—our summer places were adjoining."

Black-Draught Good For Biliousness and Bad Taste in Mouth

"I have found Thedford's Black-Draught so good for biliousness, bad taste in the mouth and other disagreeable feelings due to constipation," writes Mrs. Mary Garner, of Burleson, Texas.

I'm fond of Jane, too. She rides well and plays a swell game of golf, and tennis, and she can dance.

"I can dance, too," said Ellen. She offered it babyishly, as an apology because she couldn't ride or play golf or play tennis...

Tony agreed. "I'll say you can dance," he agreed. All at once he was coming across the little prim room—and then he was on the arm of Ellen's chair, and his arm was around her.

"I'll never forget our first dance together," he said. "Will you—my darling?"

But even as their lips met, Ellen found herself wondering whether her father and said that, long ago, to her mother. She fought against the way in which she was returning Tony's kisses—she fought to keep the thoughts of her father, of her mother, uppermost.

"I'll not let you get me," she said, a trifle breathlessly, more than a trifle wildly.

Tony's arm grew tighter; he hadn't quite caught the words. "But I have got you!" he said. "You never get me," she said. "Not really! Remember that, Tony. There can be fifty girls like Jane, and they can all love you, and it won't matter to me! Remember that, Tony. Fifty girls—like Jane!"

Will Offer Contracts To Peanut Growers

The peanut adjustment contracts to be offered North Carolina farmers in January will quality the growers for division and benefit payments on the 1934 crop, says B. Troy Ferguson, district farm agent at State College.

The diversion payments will be $20 a ton on Virginia type, $15 a ton on Spanish type, and $10 a ton of runner type peanuts which are diverted to oil production this year, provided payments shall not be made on more than 20 per cent of the crop.

The benefit payments will be $8 a ton on the peanuts raised in 1934 by growers who sign the contract for 1935, says Ferguson, who has been placed in charge of the peanut program in North Carolina.

The contract permits the growers to plant in 1935 the average number of acres they had in peanuts in 1933 and 1934 or 90 per cent of their 1933 or their 1934 acreage.

The sign-up campaign will probably start during the week of January 7 in the peanut growing counties, Ferguson said, with every grower being given an opportunity to cooperate in the program.

The farm agents in the peanut counties have been instructed to appoint three county committees and a number of community committees in each county to conduct the sign-up and to administer the program.

The contracts will go with the land, as in the case of tobacco and cotton contracts, and will be signed by the landlords for farms operated by share-tenants.

A man owning several farms in one county may place them all under one contract, but separate contracts must be made for farms in different counties.

The production of cash or grain crops for sale or of basic commodity crops on farms covered by a peanut contract must not exceed the production of these crops in 1932 or 1933, Ferguson added.
