O, LITTLE TOWN OF BETHLEHEM

O, little town of Bethlehem,
How still we see thee lie;
Above thy deep and dreamless sleep
The silent stars go by
Yet in thy dark streets shineth
The everlasting Light;
The hopes and fears of all the years
Are met in thee tonight.

II
For Christ is born of Mary;
And gathered all above,
While mortals sleep, the angels keep
Their watch of wondering love.
O morning stars together
Proclaim the Holy birth;
And praises sing to God the King,
And peace to men on earth.

III
O Holy Child of Bethlehem,
Descend to us, we pray;
Cast out our sin and enter in,
Be born in us today.
We hear the Christmas angels
The great glad tidings tell;
O come to us, abide with us,
Our Lord Immanuel.

INJURIES PROVE FATAL
Mrs. Susan Gibson of Massachusetts, died Sunday in a Florence, S. C., hospital from injuries sustained in an automobile wreck.

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON

denounces the naval ratio agreement. National Labor Relations Board has succeeded in enforcing its rulings in only 10 percent of cases, and will ask Congress for broader powers. No further action by the Federal Government will be taken against Samuel Insull until the State of Illinois has tried its case against him. Old age pensions will be strongly recommended in President's annual message to Congress on January 4. That is a guess, and Mr. Roosevelt told newspaper men the other day, "If you guess you'll be wrong," but it's a good guess just the same.

Politics: The 74th Congress will eat out of the President's hand, just like the 73rd. Sam Rayburn is still the best bet for Speaker of the House. Fireworks on Capitol Hill will be set off in investigating committee rooms rather than on the floors of the two houses. Republicans are being warned off the "liberalizing" policies just now widely urged on them. Wise old wheelhorses believe the party's best bet is to stand pat on conservative ground and let the radicals cut up didoes until the Administration support flies apart by the force of internal strife.

Policies: Administration still keen on social reforms, but beginning to realize that too large doses are likely to clog the wheels of recovery. It's aim is to lift the 10 percent of "underprivileged" to higher living standards, without dragging the other 90 percent down. Hopes to inspire business and industry to be more "socially minded."

THEY ALL GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

TRANSPORT PILOT. Maurice Marrs, United Air Lines pilot, says: "When I notice that 'all in' feeling, I pull out a Camel and light up. My natural energy flows back. Tiredness is quickly relieved. I smoke steadily. Camels never upset my nerves."

HOUSEWIFE: "I never knew how much a cigarette could mean until I smoked Camels," says Mrs. Robert Sayles. "I was attracted to Camels because they have such a mild flavor. And I find that when I smoke a Camel, I have more energy."

FOOTBALL REFEREE. Tom Thorp says: "The lift that you get from a Camel sure is a mighty valuable thing to anyone whose job requires fast action. And I know I can smoke them any time I like...and they will never make me 'edgy' or nervous."
