

Offer Seed Loans Again This Year

Emergency crop and feed loans are being made available to North Carolina farmers again this year, according to information received by Dean I. O. Schaub, of State College.

These loans, handled through the Farm Credit Administration, are intended for those farmers who cannot obtain from other sources the loans or credit needed to buy seed, fertilizer, and feed.

The dean pointed out that the loans will be extended only to farmers who are either cooperating directly with the crop adjustment programs or else are not planning to increase their 1935 production in any way detrimental to the success of the programs.

Growers wishing to obtain loans may file their applications with the county crop loan committees. Security for the loans will consist of a first lien on the crops to be raised or the livestock to be fed, Dean Schaub stated.

The maximum amount of an individual loan will be $500, and the minimum $10. However, no loan will be greater than the amount actually needed to buy seed, fertilizer or feed.

The feed loans will be limited to $10 a head per month for horses and mules during the period when feed must be purchased. Likewise, the amount for other stock has been fixed at $4.50 a head per month for cattle, 50 cents for sheep, 35 cents for goats, $1 for hogs.

Those who borrow $100 or less will receive their loan in one payment. Farmers who get more will receive the money in several installments as required to meet their expenses for seed, feed, and fertilizer.

TIMELY FARM QUESTIONS ANSWERED AT STATE COLLEGE

Question:—What minerals are necessary for the laying flock?

Answer:—The usual mineral feeds are bone meal, oyster shell, or ground limestone, salt and grit. Some minerals are found in small grains such as wheat, corn and oats but the amount in these grains is inadequate and must be supplemented from other sources. Bone meal supplies calcium and phosphorus and helps build tissue and bone. The oyster shell is fed for its high calcium content. Salt stimulates the appetite, renders the mash more palatable and increases the vital processes while grit is an aid in grinding the food. All are absolutely necessary for egg production.

Question:—How soon can grain and may be fed the young calf?

Answer:—Small amounts of both grain and hay should be offered the calf when about two weeks of age. No more grain, however, should be fed at any time than the calf will clean up. The feeding of hay should be sparing at first and gradually increased as the calf becomes accustomed to the feed. Use a clean bright mixed hay for the first three or four weeks. After that a good leafy alfalfa hay is best but any good legume hay may be used. The kind and mixtures of grain for the growing calf are given in Extension Circular No. 177 and copies may be had free upon application to the Agricultural Editor at State College.

Question:—Is sweet sorghum cane suitable for silage,

Answer:—While corn is more widely used than any other crop the sweet sorghum canes are being used extensively. The cane is only about 75 percent as efficient for milk production as corn but the extra tonnage of silage from the cane more than offsets the lower feeding value. Corn, however, has the advantage in being easy to harvest. The sorghums grow tall and produce large yields, but they blow down and tangle easily making them hard to harvest.

Feels a Lot Better When Black-Draught Relieves Constipation

From many states come reports like the following from Mr. W. M. Henderson, of Jasper, Fla.: "I have been taking Theodor's Black-Draught twenty years. I take it for constipation that gives me a dull, tired, aching feeling, and I have headache, too. Black-Draught relieves me of this trouble. After a few doses, I feel as good as new. I keep it in my home. I have a big family. When one of us is ailing (from constipation), we take Black-Draught and almost always feel a lot better.
