Refreshing Relief When You Need a Laxative

Because of the refreshing relief it has brought them, thousands of men and women, who could afford much more expensive laxatives, use Black-Draught when needed. It is very economical, purely vegetable, highly effective. Mr. J. Lester Roberson, well known hardware dealer at Martinsville, Va., writes: "I certainly can recommend Black-Draught as a splendid medicine. I have taken it for constipation and the dull feelings that follow, and have found it very satisfactory."

Destroy Cotton Stalks To Check Weevils

North Carolina cotton growers are being urged to wage a stiff battle against boll weevils this fall to prevent heavy infestations of the crop next year.

So widespread were the infestations this season that many of the weevils will survive the winter unless they are destroyed in the fall, said C. H. Brannon, extension entomologist at State College.

As soon as the cotton has been picked, he said, the growers should cut down all the stalks and plow them under.

Cutting the stalks under will kill weevils which might otherwise survive the winter.

If the stalks are left to grow until frost, the weevils will approach winter in a healthy, vigorous condition, Brannon added, and they will be well able to withstand the cold weather.

An ounce of prevention is worth several pounds of cure, he declared, and the destruction of boll weevils in fall and winter is one of the best control methods known.

Furthermore, he added, the quicker that the stalks can be cut and plowed under, the better is the chance of destroying most of the weevils.

Cotton tax-exemption certificates will be available to all North Carolina growers in the near future. County agents will notify the growers when their certificates are ready.
