

MODERN WOMEN

CHARL ORMOND WILLIAMS
President of National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc.

Twelve million signatures to a peace poll in America and 38,000,000 in the rest of the world is the aim of the People's Mandate to End War, a new organization of women headed in this country by Dr. Mary E. Wooley, president of Mount Holyoke College.

A successful business woman, who has completed 25 years as head of an embroidery studio, now turned poet. She is Mrs. Mary Cummins Eudy of Louisville, Ky., who never even read poetry during her active business years. She is the author of the recently published "Quarried Crystals." She says that business and poetry are not incompatible.

Two New York women have offered an idea for perpetuating the memories of all the Presidents of the United States. Dr. Gertrude Duncan, civic worker, and Miss Elizabeth Seay Hall of Hunter College, propose a beacon for aviators, which will contain a broadcasting station and stately halls and called the "Tower of the Presidents." If built it will be opened to the public on land adjoining the World's Fair grounds in 1936 in New York.

One woman who drives and obeys every law and rule of traffic courtesy is Mrs. G. H. Bacon of Kansas City, Mo., who has been rewarded for her carefulness with a 1936 license tag presented personally by H. F. McElroy, city manager.

France has honored Sarah Watson, an American, director of the International Students' Center in Paris, by naming her a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor. Miss Watson, a native of Ridge Springs, S. C., went to France during the World War under the War Work Council of the Y. W. C. A.

Dolly Madison, said to be a direct descendant of President Madison, has been appointed assistant to director of the Young Republican division of the Republican national organization. Her home is in Metuchen, N. J., but her political activities will be centered in Washington, D. C.

Times are better so far as jobs for women are concerned. Graduates of the 1934 class of the New Jersey College for Women, according to Miss Fredericka Belknap, enjoyed a more prosperous first year out than the classes which had preceded them for several years. Only 10 per cent who desired employment were still unemployed in May 1935. A census is now being taken of the class of 1935.

The Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor will be fifty years old on October 28 of this year. The 300 foot statue was a gift of the citizens of France to the United States and was paid for by popular subscription. Auguste Bartholdi, the sculptor, portrayed liberty in the form of a woman who had just secured her freedom.

New Hope For Cancer Cure Seen By Doctor

Chicago—New hope for cancer sufferers—hope that centers in those mysterious substances known as "hormones"—was held out by Dr. Antoine La Cassagne, associate director of the famed Curie Institute of the University of Paris.

Now on a lecture tour in the United States on invitation of leading medical and science groups, Dr. La Cassagne said: "Great progress in the understanding of cancer has been made. The major lines of present research are especially promising."

The research with which Dr. La Cassagne and the Curie scientists are principally concerned now is that involving hormones, or chemical substances which circulate through the body, producing changes in its functions and condition. Dr. La Cassagne said: "There is evidence that, for every hormone, there is an antagonistic hormone. The problem, then, is to determine the cancer-producing hormone, and then try to identify and stimulate the action of the hormone that will fight it."

Making the cancer-fighters' task all the more difficult, he said, is the fact that there are many different types of the disease, and probably many different causes. If the causes can be determined, then methods of prevention and treatment can be more intelligently sought.

The physician declared: "Surgery, radium and X-ray remain the principal methods of treatment. Research may show us entirely different and more effective methods."

Because hormones are transmitted from parents to children, the importance of learning what hormones are cancer-producing is tremendous, the doctor pointed out. The study of cancer-producing chemicals is being led by the London doctors, Kenaway and Cook, he said, and their work has shown a close link between these chemicals and the hormones.

"Don't try to change your voice." That's the advice of Ellen Claire Couch, prominent dramatic coach and teacher of speech.

"You are born with your individual voice—soprano, mezzo or contralto—and are likely to injure your speaking apparatus by any attempt to change the timbre or quality. No woman should try to force her voice below its natural pitch," says Miss Couch.

She also suggests that many girls make a mistake in thinking that the rule about peaking softly means the use of low, throaty tones. Even a high soprano voice can be as soft and well modulated as a naturally low one.

Care in the pronunciation of words, and a pleasant natural, unaffected voice that best expresses one's individual personality, is more important to success than voice tone, according to Miss Couch.

Silk prints for spring are sprinkled with stars, vegetables, birds, beasts and fish. These are spattered like polka dots over the fabric and are so tiny that one must look closely to recognize their real form. One effective creation features white beets on a wine background. Flowers, too, are popular in the microscopic designs, and one can find chessmen, flower pots, keys and even the alphabet utilized in the dot technique.

White on dark backgrounds is favored for daytime, with vivid clear tones and many colored effects in larger patterns for evening wear.

Glass sauce pans with which you towns of more than 5,000 inhabitants which have no medical practitioners or nurses.

In Ridgefield Park, N. J., Mrs. Hannah Cuthbertson is weaving Chinese rugs in the Chinese method and on a Chinese loom. She worked for five years as a designer for a rug factory in Peiping. Recently she exhibited at the Roerich Museum, New York.

Olga Petrova, former actress-playwright, who commutes from Europe to see her husband, Dr. John D. Stewart of New York, owns a forty-acre farm near Cannes France where she raises Siamese cats. When she was in this country during the Christmas holidays she bought them a supply of rubber boots. Thus, they don't scratch the furniture when taken to friends' houses.

can cook right over the flame are among the newer novelties to win favor. They are fitted with detachable handles so that the food can be served in the same container in which it is cooked. This makes for considerable savings in time and convenience, as well as fewer dishes to be washed. And there are glass matching covers to go with the sauce pans.

Do you keep a bottle of hand lotion on a kitchen shelf? A quick massage after each washing will help to prevent redness and "chapping" and keep your hands soft and white. Some of the lotion makers are now offering large, economy sizes so that their product can be used more frequently and, also, so that it may be used on the legs, ankles and knees during cold weather.

Spring meant tonic time to an older generation. Today it means greater attention to the importance of vitamins in the diet, for we now know that most 'tonic' effects come from the vitamins in our foods. Milk, eggs, plus sunlight or cod liver oil, plenty of fruit, and the new green vegetables such as lettuce, celery, endive, parsley, cress and spinach will help supply your quota of spring tonic vitamins.

It's so simple you'd think it would have been done long ago, but a brand new type of metal kitchen stool just shown in Chicago's Merchandise Mart has a simple folding rest that drops down completely out of the way when not needed and lets the stool slip easily under a kitchen table.

Handy Kitchen Hint: A damp cloth will enable you to pick up easily, the smallest fragments of a broken glass.

King Henry of England was so pleased with a roast his chef prepared that he drew his sword and knighted it on the spot. That's why we ask for sirloin today. King Henry made it Sir Loin!

SEEK BLAZE AND TRUCK BURNS

Tilden, Neb.—The entire fire department was indignant. Routed out of beds by the siren, the firemen searched vainly for an early morning blaze. And while all this was going on, a fire destroyed the department's truck, leaving the town without fire fighting equipment.

How Cardui Helps Women To Build Up

Cardui stimulates the appetite and improves digestion, helping women to get more strength from the food they eat. As nourishment is improved, strength is built up, certain functional pains go away and women praise Cardui for helping them back to good health. . . . Mrs. C. E. Ratliff, of Hinton, W. Va., writes: "After the birth of my last baby, I did not seem to get my strength back. I took Cardui again and was soon sound and well. I have given it to my daughters and recommend it to other ladies." . . . Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.
