Nation-Wide Drought Not Serious In North Carolina

(By C. B. Williams, Head Agronomy Department North Carolina College)

The current drought, holding a large part of the nation in its grip, has not affected North Carolina to a serious extent.

However, in some sections of the State, outside of the higher elevations in the mountains, drought conditions have been such that before recent rains, farmers were unable to seed the proper acreages of suitable crops for hay to meet livestock needs this fall and winter.

In order to secure a sufficient amount of feed for livestock as well as to have the requisite acreage of soil improving crops, the following crops are suggested for seeding during the next ten days:

COWPEAS

Cowpeas—This crop, seeded broadcast at the rate of 60 to 90 pounds on good land during the next ten days, may be expected to give a fairly good growth, especially if the remainder of the growing season is at all favorable. In seeding use those varieties available on the farm or which may be secured quickly in the neighborhood. If the seed have to be purchased from a distance, get seed of the Brabham, Iron, Groit, Whipperwill, or Black varieties.

If sown in rows, have the rows wide enough apart to permit about two cultivations, using about 30 pounds of seed per acre. If desired, the cowpeas may be seeded with sorghum, using 45 to 50 pounds of cowpea seed and 20 to 25 pounds of sorghum seed.

SOYBEANS

Soybeans—If seeded shortly, soybeans should produce a good amount of excellent hay or a fairly large amount of material, which, if turned under, will materially improve the productivity of the soil. The seeding should be in 2 1/2 to 3 foot rows. The crop should be cultivated once or twice during its growth.

Seed of the Mamouth Yellow variety, most generally grown in the State, may be obtained easily and cheaply if home-grown or local seed of some variety is not obtainable.

Soybeans should be sown in rows at the rate of 15 to 30 pounds of seed to the acre, the exact amount depending largely upon the size of the seed.

SUDAN GRASS

Sudan Grass—This grass will grow rapidly and will make a large amount of excellent quality hay within two months or less after seeding. Its growth should not be attempted except on fairly productive lands where the moisture is reasonably fair to good. The seed should be put in broadcast or in 24 to 30-inch drills in well-prepared land at the rate of 20 to 30 pounds of seed per acre. This crop has considerable value for temporary grazing purposes.

MILLET

German or Golden Millet—This is the best of the millets for late summer seeding, and is particularly well adapted for seeding on moist bottomlands. It should be sown broadcast on a well-prepared finely pulverized seed-bed, using about 25 pounds of seed to the acre. The crop should be ready to cut for hay within 55 or 60 days after seeding.

FERTILIZATION

In fertilizing the above crops, which should be done if possible, it is suggested that the following fertilizer treatments be used to each acre:

For cowpeas and soybeans, 300 pounds of a 2-8-4 mixture.
For cowpeas and sorghum, 300 to 350 pounds of a 4-8-4 mixture.
For Sudan grass and millet, 300 to 350 pounds of a 4-8-4 mixture.

Highway Deaths Show Decrease

Raleigh.—Automobile accident fatalities in North Carolina were on the decrease Monday, records of the state highway safety division showed.

During June 72 persons were killed on state highways, this total being 21 under the figure for May and 11 less than in June, 1935. For the first six months of this year, there were 439 fatalities as compared with 480 in the same period last year.

The injury and accident list was seen to be increasing over comparable periods, however.

Officer Not Impressed By Wooden 'Gun'

Greensboro.—Kenneth I. Stone, West Virginia, emulated the late John Dillinger in attempting a "wooden pistol" escape from the Guilford county jail and came very near to joining the Indiana desperado in eternity.

Although not shot, Stone would have been had he not quickly responded by dropping his make-believe weapon when ordered to do so by Deputy Warden W. J. Hobbs, who, shotgun in hand, frustrated the attempt after the fleeing prisoner had reached the jail elevator. Stone, a Federal prisoner held for impersonating a government officer in Winston-Salem, broke from his cell tier at 10:45 o'clock when Deputy Warden Hobbs made his round to lock the prisoners inside their cells for the night.

THE INNER VOICE

The inner voice is speaking
So sweetly to my soul,
And bids me keep on seeking
Until I find the goal,
Beyond this world of sorrow
Where saints forever reign,
And where a glad tomorrow
Will set me free from pain.

Chorus

The inner voice divinely
Is blessing, day by day,
And ever sweet and kindly
Leads up the heav'nly way,
To where there is no weeping,
No heartaches and no sighs,
Where saints are in God's keeping
And glory fills the skies.

The inner voice is blessing
My heart from day to day,
And bids me keep on pressing
Along the heav'nly way;
For there's a home awaiting
Just in the bye and bye,
Where there's no sin nor hating,
And not a care nor sigh.

The inner voice is telling
Me I should watch and pray;
I feel its sweet impelling
Along the glory way,
Where many saints and sages
By faith have humbly trod
Throughout the by-gone ages
And made it through to God.

Everyday Cooking Miracles

BY VIRGINIA FRANCIS
Director Hotpoint Electric Cookery Institute

Yes—we just bet you've never heard anything like it before—putting up fruit right in your oven! Goodness knows we've done a lot of preserving in our time, but this new wrinkle—made possible by an automatic electric range—is almost uncanny! Remember how you used to have to stand over the old kettle stirring, slicing, paring, pitting—whichever the case may be. Pack into sterilized quart or pint jars. Make a sugar syrup of the desired consistency, then add it to within one inch of the top of the jars. Adjust clean new rubber rings and partially seal. So far you've done the easiest part of ordinary canning, but the dunking jars and side-stepping the hot drops of bubbling juices? That was before modern methods of controlled-heat cookery were known. But today, with your electric range, you can do the canning simply, easily and pleasantly, whether you are an experienced homemaker or a beginner.

With the aid of modern electric ranges homemakers now can fruits in the oven—easily, simply, and with excellent results in flavor.

Heat Can't Escape

No longer need you use open kettles, steamers or water baths as a means of preserving fruits, because the fruit is processed right in the electric oven. No longer need you work in a hot stuffy kitchen while canning because the oven of the electric range is so well insulated that the controlled electric heat can't leak out. No longer need you stir tediously. Long hours of drudgery are eliminated. Foods no longer turn out mushy and tasteless.

Sounds like magic, doesn't it? And you'll find it is, too! Simply select your fruit as you would for ordinary canning, making sure that it is ripe, firm, and unbruised. Prepare for canning by washing, stem-next step in this method is still easier! You are going to be able to process nine quarts or twelve pints of fruit at one time, with practically no trouble. First, you arrange the jars one inch apart on a cookie sheet with turned-up edges and place on the second rack from the bottom of the oven. Then you set the temperature control of the electric oven to the right temperature, turn the oven switch to bake position, and go off to shop or read while the canning is done for you!

When the time is up, remove the jars from the oven and screw or clamp the covers tight to seal. Place the jars on cake racks or oven racks to cool. Then label and store in a cool place.

Fruit Syrup

The syrup for peaches, blackberries and cherries—all fruits that you will want to be canning right now—is made by dissolving one cup sugar in two cups water. Set the oven at 300 degrees for 1 1/2 hours for the peaches. For the blackberries and cherries set the oven at 250 degrees for 1 1/2 hours.

Stokes County farmers liked the old AAA committeemen so well that they re-elected most of them as committeemen under the new farm program.

Damage done by chinch bugs to corn in Pamlico County is decreasing since the farmers started the control methods advocated by the county farm agent.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

FAMILY DOCTOR CURED MEATS BEST FOR SUMMER

A dog may eat meats all his life and die of old age. The ox may do the same on a vegetarian diet exclusively. But man is a very complex, highly organized being, and requires wide variety to properly nourish his body. He must have both animal and vegetable food, properly balanced. Meat is not the only animal food; all dairy products are animal.

Fresh meats must be diminished or eaten with great care during hot months. I saw a fat old man buying two pounds of fresh pork sausage the other evening for his breakfast next morning. I bought ten cents worth of chipped beef—and I am a fat old man myself!
