ROOSEVELT'S SECOND TERM

Mr. Roosevelt's second term as President will start on January 20th, six weeks less than four years since he was inaugurated on March 4, 1933. One effect of the Constitutional change in the date of Presidential inauguration is to put an end to the custom of great military parades with which Presidents have long been ushered in. Washington is sometimes springlike in March, but in January it is always wintry.

DEATH ON THE HIGHWAY

While the year's tally of automobile deaths is not yet complete, the figures already available make it clear that the record of 1936 is higher than that of 1935. About 37,000 persons were killed in motor accidents in the twelve months. This brings the total number of persons killed in America by motor cars, in the 15 years since records began to be kept, up to above 425,000. That is more by half than all of the Americans who have been killed in all our wars from the Revolution down to the World War. The motor car has become the nation's deadliest weapon. With 2,000,000 more cars on the roads, we may expect even more highway deaths in 1937.

Those who have given this subject the closest study agree that the blame for most of these motor killings lies not with the car nor the road, but with the driver. There are still twenty states in which no license is required to drive a car; in many others, the examination of drivers for licenses is no perfunctory that possession of a driver's license is no proof that its owner is a good driver.

The most dangerous place to drive is on a wide, well-paved highway on a clear day. That is where and when motorists get careless. Sunday is the most dangerous day in the week, Wednesday the safest. Twice as many persons are killed by cars between 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening as between 7 and 8 in the morning.

The motor death rate in the cities is coming down, by reason of better lighting, more effective traffic control, and better enforcement of the traffic laws. The rate is going up in the country. It would take more money than the taxpayers would stand for to light and police a million miles of highway.

The solution of the problem would seem to be the better education of drivers, not so much in the alert of driving but in what might be called "motor manners." If every driver behaved on the road with the same consideration for others that he shows elsewhere, the toll of motor murders might be greatly reduced.

Don't let your children suffer a moment longer than strictly necessary. Home made cures are messy, smelly, slow and uncertain.

GOOD MEN ARE SCARCE

Every once in a while somebody's name will be mentioned and everybody present will say: "He's a good man." But how often are most of us moved to pay that tribute to one of our fellow citizens?

The truth is that good men are scarce. Good men, that is, in the sense of being first-rate workmen at their trades or professions, honest and upright, in all their dealings with others, independent and self-reliant, industrious and sober. The highest tribute one man can pay to another is to say "He's a good man."

Of how many in any community can that be said? How many farmers are really good farmers? How many workers in any trade can be relied upon to do an honest day's work, and do everything as well as it can be done?

From all over the country the complaint is heard that good men are scarce. Industrialists are saying that there is a real shortage of competent workers, in spite of all the talk about unemployment. Good men are seldom unemployed and never for long.

Public attention has been directed in these recent years to the plight of those who, for one reason or another, have not been able to earn a living. It might be a good idea to pay a little attention to the good men who have got along without calling for help. They are the "forgotten men." Maybe there are a lot more of them than we realize. They are not heard from so loudly as are the second-raters and the no-goods.

THE SCRAP BOOK

THIS LITTLE story could have

HAPPENED IN any home where

THERE ARE more or less neg-

LECTED HUSBANDS And it did

HAPPEN IN a Main street home

SUNDAY MORNING. "Where in

THE WORLD did you get that

HORRIBLE NECKTIE? Asked the

WIFE. "THE laugh's on you,"

WAS HUBBY'S ready reply. You

GAVE IT to me at Christmas a

YEAR AGO, and this is the first

TIME I have got up nerve enough

TO WEAR it."

I THANK YOU.

Refreshing Relief When You Need a Laxative

Because of the refreshing relief it has brought them, thousands of men and women, who could afford much more expensive laxatives, use Black-Draught when needed. It is very economical, purely vegetable, highly effective. . . Mr. J. Lester Roberson, well known hardware dealer at Martinsville, Va., writes: "I certainly can recommend Black-Draught as a splendid medicine. I have taken it for constipation and the dull feelings that follow, and have found it very satisfactory."

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON

30,000 reserve officers to active duty for two weeks each year instead of the present 20,000, to enlarge the capacity of the Citizens Military Training Camps, enlist about 150,000 "specialists" in the Army Reserve Corps, and to rush to completion the Army's program of 2,320 fighting airplanes.

Mr. Woodring does not say that he expects a war, but he wants to be ready to fight if necessary.

THE "OFFICIAL" ELECTION

The official count of the ballots cast at the Presidential election on November 3 has been completed, and the Presidential Electors have met in their respective states and formally elected Roosevelt and Garner. The exact popular vote was:

Roosevelt	27,752,309
Landon	16,682,524
Others	1,379,565
Roosevelt's plurality	11,069,785

THIS WEEK IN WASH

The figures as certified by election officials included the following minor party votes:

Lemke (Union Party)	892,793
Thomas (Socialist)	187,342
Browder (Communist)	80,096
Colvin (Prohibitionist)	37,609
Aiken (Socialist-Labor)	12,793
Scattering and void	168,911

The death of Senator Peter Norbeck of South Dakota reduces the number of Republican Senators to sixteen, or exactly one-sixth of the total number of Senators. Governor Tom Berry of South Dakota is expected to appoint a Democrat to succeed Mr. Norbeck, but unless he acts promptly the incoming Governor, a Republican, will have the say as to who shall fill the vacant seat.

NO ARGUMENT WANTED

Mrs. Wimpus: John dear, would you marry again if I were to die?

Wimpus: Now, Mary Ann, let's not start an argument.

Await President's Plans

Adjustments of details in the security act can be expected to precede any major extension, such as applying the pension section to more working classes. The principles of the tax on corporation surpluses is considered in the law to stay, but relief may be undertaken for debt-burdened corporations.

White House advisors were divided in their hopes and expectations. One group would have the President seek merely to consolidate the policies of his first administration. Another would have him project his program farther to the left without pause to learn the Supreme Court's attitude toward the Wagner labor act the social security act, Federal encouragement of municipal power projects and other fundamental of his policy.

Those who know Mr. Roosevelt well incline to look for a middle course. He took the massive November vote as an indorsement of foundations laid. First, apparently, will come an attempt to rivet those foundations.
