

DAILY CAROLINA WATCHMAN.

VOL. 1

SALISBURY, N. C., AUGUST 31, 1864.

NO. 9

TELEGRAPHIC.

REPORTS OF THE PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Entered according to act of Congress in the year 1863, by J. S. THASHER, in the Clerk's office of the District Court of the Confederate States for the Northern District of Georgia.

PRISONERS TO BE EXCHANGED.

MOBILE, Aug. 30.

The flag of truce boat arrived bringing letters and papers from New Orleans from prisoners captured in Mobile Bay. Confederate Surgeons to be sent over by first boat to Pascagoula. Federal and Confederate Exchange Agents have come to a perfect understanding and prisoners are to be exchanged shortly.

Six vessels off Dog river this evening.

RICHMOND, Aug. 30.

The Lynchburg Republican of Sunday states that the Yankee cavalry which advanced on Rogersville five days ago, suddenly retired the way they came. It says also, that it is reported on what appears to be good authority, that Wheeler with a large force is between Knoxville and Bristol, advancing into Kentucky.

PETERSBURG, Aug. 30th.

The Situation in front of this place and Bermuda Hundreds unchanged. Burying the whole of yesterday. The enemy poured a furious and continuous fire of shot and shell upon the town, doing however, little or no damage. Today all comparatively quiet.

RICHMOND, Aug. 30.

The following was received this morning:

ATLANTA, Aug. 30.

To Hon. J. A. Seddon:

The enemy have changed their entire position, and have left their line resting near Chatahochee, about same time, and his right extending to points opposite and near to the West Point railroad, between East Point and Fairburn. They hold all crossings on the Chatahochee, but not with a continued line.

Dispatches from Wheeler to the 19th, report the capture of Dalton with a large quantity of stores, about 200 prisoners and two hundred mules. He destroyed three trains of cars and twenty miles of railroad. His command is in good condition.

(Signed) B. HOOD.

ATLANTA, Aug. 30.

The enemy occupied the West Point road fortifying and removing the track. Scouts report the Federal cavalry last night advancing in the direction of West Point. Col. M. H. Cofer of the 6th Kentucky Regt. appointed Provost Marshall Gen. of this army and assumed position this morning.

A SAD MISFORTUNE.

A gallant soldier, Capt. Joseph G. Morrison, who was wounded in the leg, near Drewry's Bluff, in May last, returned to Richmond a few days ago en route for his post. Having a brother in the army before Petersburg, he thought he would pay him a visit before reporting for duty. Arriving there, he found his brother in the advanced lines, and stopped for the night at the headquarters of Gen. Hoke. About three o'clock, A. M., a shell fell among the mess with whom he was staying, exploded, and tore off his left foot and severely wounded the calf of his right leg. He is now lying in a critical condition at Chester. Captain M. is brother-in-law to the late Lieut. Gen. Stonewall Jackson, and was formerly on his staff; he was subsequently upon the staff of Gen. Hoke, and was finally assigned to the command of a company in a North Carolina regiment, in which capacity he was acting with distinguished gallantry when wounded in May, and to which he was returning. He is also, we learn, brother of Maj. W. W. Morrison, District Commissary of this place.—State Journal.

Caught.—A deserter, dressed in ladies' apparel, was caught on the Southern train, last evening, just before leaving for Columbia. He said, after being arrested, that he belonged to the 12th Alabama regiment.

ALL NOISY ALONG THE APPOMATTOX TO-NIGHT.

Whereas, in consideration of the fact that every poem written now is certain to call forth an answer—the song, "Some One to Love," having produced as replies "No One to Love," "Why No One to Love," "Love Me," &c.; and the song "Rock Me to Sleep, Mother," having elicited a counter poem, the refrain of which is "Keep Me Awake, Mother; Keep Me Awake"; Therefore,

All's noisy along the Appomattox to-night, For Columbiads, Whitworths and Parrotts Are shelling the town, from the left to the right, From Pocahontas to Jarratt's. Grant finds that the "rebels" will not resign, But are ready for every comer; So he only can "shell it out on that line, If it takes him all the summer."

All's noisy along the Appomattox to-night, For two vessels loaded with powder, That at the wharf, did chance to ignite, With a noise like an earthquake, and louder. Beest Butler he heard it, and quivering pale, With his heart jumping up in his throat, Went and put on two extra shirts of mail, While Grant took a pull at his bottle.

All's noisy along the Appomattox to-night, For Grant, with his miners so valiant, Did dig a mine, and he grined with delight As he blew up a "rebel" so silent. But General Mahone, as polite as brave, Can bow, and tell him "I thank 'ee; 'Tis true, you've made us a forty foot grave, And we filled it level with Yankees."

All's noisy along the Appomattox to-night, For Grant still continues his shelling, With the hissing fuse, and the lurid light, As it bursts o'er a peaceful dwelling. He may batter the town from a hundred guns; She will shrink not, nor beg him for quarter; She has spent too freely the blood of her sons To care for the bricks and mortar.

Indian Prisoners.—Among the prisoners who have recently passed through Augusta for Andersonville, it is said there was a lot of Indians captured in Virginia. Grant's army must be a sort of mixture truly—niggers, Indians, foreigners of all nations, and Yankees.

The returns from Yancy and Mitchell counties, published in our last issue, gave Holden 85 votes.—That was an error. The sheriff informs us that he only received 35.—Ash News.

SCHEDULE OF PRICES IN NORTH CAROLINA.

The Commissioners of Appraisement for the State of North Carolina, again present their schedule of prices to govern the purchasing officers of the Government for the next sixty days, unless in the interval facts and circumstances should arise to induce an alteration. Every item has been carefully revised and with the valuable aid of Mr. George W. Mordecia, they trust the schedule now presented will prove satisfactory to both the Government and the people. They would respectfully urge the people to hasten on with their supplies to maintain and feed our gallant army now assembled just on our borders, and in whose gallantry and fortitude, under God, we alone owe our exemption from the horrors of a revolution, of our homes and families by the barbarous, inhuman foe, who have constantly shown they only want the power, and not the will to destroy us and take all we have.

THE Southern Literary Messenger FOR 1864.

This long established and well-known Journal of Literature having been recently purchased by the subscribers, will, in future, be conducted exclusively under their control. In all its departments, both business and editorial, the Messenger will be under the management of an entirely new regime, and the Proprietors are sanguine of success in the future, which the Magazine has never yet realized, if their friends and the public shall yield them a support worthy of so important an enterprise, looking to the advancement of the highest literary interest of the Confederacy.
Argument or appeal in behalf of the importance of an elevated literature to our country, the absence of which has hitherto made us a by-word of reproach among the older nations, and even now militates against our interests abroad, need not be addressed to those whom this circular is designed to reach.
But to the attainment of this great end, something more is necessary than mere verbal expressions of sympathy and encouragement.—The friends of Southern Literature must foster the efforts of our literary men to secure for us a worthy position in the world of letters.
We design the Messenger to be an enterprise worthy of support of all classes of our people. We shall aim chiefly to secure for our pages the productions of the highest order of genius and scholarship, and at the same time such articles as will contribute to the instruction and amusement of the public at large. To this end we shall give our attention to and solicit contributions from Southern writers in all the departments of Literature. Poetry, Romance, Reviews, Criticism, in short, every subject whose prominence is sufficient to entitle it to notice will have its due share of attention.
We earnestly solicit the assistance of our friends throughout the Confederacy in the enlargement of our subscription list, which must be increased to enable us to meet the heavy pecuniary outlay to which we shall be subject. Terms, $12 for twelve months, $6 for six months. This increase will not affect those who subscribed before the 1st of March. Orders must be accompanied with the money.
Mr. GEORGE C. WOODRUFF, formerly of New Orleans, now of this city, will conduct the business interests of the Messenger, and Mr. FRANK H. ALFRIEND, of this city, will direct its editorial management. Communications connected with the literary conduct of the Messenger will be directed to the editor; other communications should be directed to the Proprietors.
