VOL. 1

SALISBURY, N. C., OCTOBER 18, 1864.

NO. 132

TELEGRAPHIC.

REPORTS OF THE PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Entered according to act of Congress in the year 1863 by J. S. Frazar, in the Clerk's office of the District Court of the Confederate States for the Northern District of Georgia.

Up to 11 o'clock, the hour of going to press, we received nothing by telegraph.

From the Petersburg Express, October 15.

FROM THE FRONT.

On Thursday night a merriment cheering was heard at points of the enemy's lines in front of Petersburg, supposed to have been caused by the reception of the Northern election returns in camp, or by one or more of Stanton's lying war bulletins announcing another brilliant victory in Georgia or elsewhere. It is more than probable, however, that the Yankee troops were cheering over the result of the election in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, which took place on Tuesday last. Whether it was the Lincolnites or the McClellanites who crowed so lustily is not known.

The same night the Yankees made a great noise as though troops were being moved from one point to another. Wagon trains were heard rumbling over the roads, as also artillery trains, and the cars were kept busy running backwards and forwards on the City Point and branch railroads. We suspect much of this commotion was merely for effect, unless, indeed, Grant was engaged in throwing troops back to the south side. The fact is, he has no more men to take from his lines here, unless he weakens them to a dangerous degree.

Twenty-one deserters—foreigners and natives—came into our lines night before last, and were sent over to Richmond yesterday. They will soon be rejoicing beyond the Confederate limits, and for their own sakes we hope, where the Yankee recruiting officer will never trouble them again.

Several heavy reports were heard in the direction of Bermuda Hundred about 11 o'clock, a.m., yesterday, following each other in such quick succession as to create the impression that an explosion had occurred. They may have been, however, the discharges of heavy ordnance from the Yankee gunboats, or the blowing up of the mouth of the famous Dutch Gap canal.

Mr. Wiley Wilkinson, an old and respected citizen of Sussex county, was shot and killed by a body of Yankee cavalry, a night or two since, at his residence near Littleton, adjacent to the Prince George line. Mr. Wilkinson was at the time engaged with a negro in boiling down some sorghum, and desiring to finish the lot before he ceased work, had extended his labors until after night. The Yankee cavalry coming suddenly to the spot, and probably thinking it was one of our picket posts, fired upon Mr. W. and his servant, instantly killing the former, and wounding the latter. After finding out their mistake, and viewing the work they had done, these valiant warriors did not even condescend to render assistance to the dead and wounded, but pursued their route as if nothing had occurred.

Mr. Wilkinson was a well known resident of Sussex, advanced in years, industrious in his calling, and generally esteemed.

We have nothing of interest, and no change to note in the position of affairs on our immediate lines. The enemy seems to be extending his works slowly southward from Fort McRae.

Reinforced.—We learn, on good authority, that the Yankee garrison at Newbern has been reinforced by three regiments of negroes.

We also learn that, at the same place, the Yellow fever is carrying off eighty persons per day.

State Journal.

THE Southern Literary Messenger FOR 1864.

This long established and well-known Journal of Literature having been recently purchased by the subscribers, will, in future, be conducted exclusively under their control. In all its departments, both business and editorial, the Messenger will be under the management of an entirely new regime, and the Proprietors are sanguine of success in the future, which the Magazine has never yet realized, if their friends and the public will yield them a support worthy of so important an enterprise, looking to the advancement of the highest literary interest of the Confederacy.

Argument of appeal in behalf of the importance of an elevated literature to our country, the absence of which has hitherto made us a by-word of reproach among the older nations, and even now militates against our interests abroad, need not be addressed to those whom this circular is designed to reach.

But the attainment of this great end, something more is necessary than mere verbal expressions of sympathy and encouragement. The friends of Southern Literature must foster the growth of our literary talent to secure for us a worthy position in the world of letters.

We design the Messenger to be an enterprise worthy of support of all classes of our people. We shall aim chiefly to secure for our pages the productions of the highest order of genius and scholarship, and at the same time such articles as will contribute to the instruction and amusement of the public at large. To this end we shall give our attention to and solicit contributions from Southern writers in all the departments of Literature: Poetry, Romance, Review, Criticism, in short, every subject whose prominence is sufficient to entitle it to notice will have its due share of attention.

We earnestly solicit the assistance of our friends throughout the Confederacy in the enlargement of our subscription list, which must be increased to enable us to meet the heavy pecuniary outlay to which we shall be subjected.

Terms, $12 for twelve months, $3 for six months. This increase will not affect those who subscribed before the 1st of March. Orders must be accompanied with the money.

Mr. GEORGE C. WEDDERBURN, formerly of New Orleans, now of this city, will control the business interests of the Messenger, and Mr. FRANK H. ALFRIEND, of this city, will direct its editorial management. Communications connected with the literary conduct of the Messenger will be directed to the editor; other communications should be directed to the Proprietors.

WEDDERBURN & ALFRIEND, June 10, '64. Salisbury, N.C.

Commissary Supplies for the Army.

OFFICE CHIEF COMMISSARY, 5th Purchasing District of N.C., Salisbury, Sept. 26th, 1864.

The serious attention of the farmers of Rowan and the surrounding Counties is invited to the fact that all Commissary supplies for the army are greatly needed, and, if possible, must be had to the utmost capacity of the country to supply them. The Government is willing to pay a fair price for every article, and has been enabled with reference to the performance of its disposition. It is the policy of the Government, and those whom they have chosen to execute the laws and transact its public business have no alternative but to discharge their plain prescribed duty, often rendered unpleasant because of the reluctance shown, or hindrance interposed by some of those whose duty it is to recognize the necessities and embarrassed condition of the country.

I have much reason to be thankful to the people of Rowan and the adjacent Counties for the promptness with which they have responded to every call, and hope the same patriotic spirit will continue to influence them while the war shall last, and it shall be my duty to collect supplies for the army, which are so greatly covering us all from the ravages of this enemy.

Entertaining this confidence, I trust there will be no need for me to seize property of any kind under the impressment acts, but that to the extent of the ability of such men, having surplus products, he will bring them forward at the earliest possible day. Let the tiller payers bring in their tilth to the proper officers now ready to receive them, and those who have surplus provisions of any kind send them in to me or my agents.

The army is at the present time in great need of supplies, and I therefore trust that this appeal will be cordially responded to as speedily as possible.

Unless farmers at once show a disposition to respond to this appeal by selling their surplus supplies, I shall be compelled to commence impressing.

Sales or engagements may be made with the following gentlemen, who are Agents acting under my control:

- J. S. Miller, Statesville.
- H. C. Eccles, Cool Springs, Iredell county, acting for Yadkin and Surry.
- Jas. M. Johnson, Mocksville, Davie Co.
- A. J. Yorke, Concord, Cabarrus Co.
- J. A. March, Lexington, Davidson Co.
- A. B. Shepperson, Salisbury, Rowan Co.
- R. M. Wall, Norwood, Stanly Co.
- W. S. Ingram, Cedar Hill, Anson Co., acting for Anson, Montgomery and Richmond.
- E. L. Hoge, Salem, Forsyth Co., for Stokes and Forsyth.

A. MYERS, Major & C. S. Major, Oct. 17, 1864.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.—Having obtained letters of Administration on the estate of T. J. H. Kistler, I give notice to all indebted to him by note or account to come, and make settlement and those having claims against him will please present them to me for payment.

W. E. KISTLER, Adm'r. Oct. 24, 1864. Salisbury, N.C.

BLACKSMITH.—For sale a good Plantation Smith. Apply to G. V. ANCKER, & Co. Oct. 18th, 1864. Salisbury, N.C.

SCHEDULE OF PRICES IN NORTH CAROLINA.

The Commissioners of Appraisement for the State of North Carolina, again present their schedule of prices to govern the purchasing officers of the Government for the next sixty days, unless in the interval needs and circumstances should arise to induce an alteration. Every item has been carefully revised and with the valuable aid of Mr. George W. Mordecai, they trust the schedule now presented will prove satisfactory to both the Government and the people. They would respectfully urge the people to hasten on with their supplies to maintain and feed our gallant army now assembled just on our borders, and in whose gallantry and fortitude, under God, we alone owe our exemption from the horrors of a revolution, of our homes and families by the barbarous inhuman foe, who have constantly shown they only want the power, and not the will to destroy us and take all we have.

For the information of all persons concerned, we publish the following instructions, with the hope that they will be strictly obeyed:

"No officer, or agent shall impress the necessary supplies which any person may have for the consumption of himself, his family, employees, slaves, or to carry on his ordinary mechanical, manufacturing agricultural implements."

The next meeting of the Board will be held in the Senate Chamber, in the City of Raleigh, on Friday, the 30th day of September next, unless sooner changed. Impressing agents must furnish good and satisfactory reasons for disapprovals on appeals, or the award of local appraisers will be approved. All communications should be addressed to the Secretary of the Board, Raleigh, N. C.
