

DAILY CAROLINA WATCHMAN.

VOL. 1

SALISBURY, N. C., JANUARY 26, 1865.

NO. 213

TELEGRAPHIC.

REPORTS OF THE PRESS ASSOCIATION.

RICHMOND, Jan. 24.—Frank Blair is in Richmond again endeavoring to invite negotiations for peace. Mr. Singleton started to Washington to-day, but the flag of truce boat was compelled to return.

NORTHERN NEWS.

RICHMOND, Jan. 24.—Northern papers to the 20th received. Wall street was excited on the 19th, by a report that Blair had returned to Richmond, with a programme from Lincoln in favor of Commissioners to meet at City Point. Every body who had anything to sell, was selling at a sacrifice, in many cases under the conviction that the war was about over. In a day or two, says a writer, they will have occasion to bemoan their cruelty.

Gold opened on the 20th at 189½.

FROM CHARLESTON.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 24th.—The enemy have made no advance movement. Reports report the rail road between Salt Ketobie bridge and Pocotaligo destroyed, ties burnt and the iron carried away. The enemy's pickets extend a short distance this side of Pocotaligo.

THE VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.

RICHMOND, Jan. 24.—The Legislature of Virginia adopted resolutions on the 17th declaring the appointment of Gen. Lee to all armies of the Confederate States, would promote their efficiency, and operate powerfully to animate the spirits of the army, as well as the people of the several States, and inspire increased confidence in formal success of our cause. This resolution was communicated to the President, who, in reply, says Virginia cannot have higher regard for Gen. Lee of a greater confidence in his character and ability than is entertained by him. Gen. Lee has always expressed his inability to manage other armies than that now confided to him, unless relieved of immediate command in the field, or from that opposed to Grant. In conclusion, the President assures the General Assembly whenever it shall be found practicable by Gen. Lee to assume command of all the armies of the Confederate States without withdrawing from direct command of the Army of Northern Virginia, he will deem it promotive to the public interest to place him to such command.

FROM RICHMOND.

We had the pleasure of a conversation, on yesterday, with a very intelligent gentleman just arrived from Richmond, where he had opportunities for ascertaining, with reliable accuracy, the condition of affairs. First, we were pleased to learn that Vice President Stephens is open and unqualified in his denunciation of reconstruction. He expresses the most unbounded confidence in our success, and is determined very soon to visit Georgia and address the people to urge them still further to resist the invasion. Vice President Stephens, by his present earnestness in the cause, is attracting the confidence of his associates, and his rosin is thronged with the eminent men of the nation. It is not too late for Mr. Stephens to do much good. He can at least do a great deal to remedy the mischief which his unfortunate views have contributed to work.

Our informant also had an interview with the President. He had not been prepared to be very partial to President Davis, but he was most agreeably disappointed. We would be glad to use the glowing eulogy passed by our informant upon the distinguished head of the nation. It was most eloquent. Among other things he said with deep feeling, "I left his presence, after a most kind, courteous and agreeable reception, deeply impressed with the conviction that he is a whole souled, earnest, devoted, unselfish patriot, whose life, and heart and mind are yielded up to the cause."

This gentleman, after an association among the very leaders in Richmond, is satisfied "that important events are about to transpire of the most encouraging character; that Lincoln's government and people know that our subjugation is impossible." "But," says he, "they are laboring might and main to throw their whole strength upon us in the next few weeks. Against this end preparations are being made."—Confederate, 25.

We learn that some of the bar rooms have advanced liquor to $10 a drink. This is unfortunate, for it will create a necessity for the members of the Legislature again advancing their pay.—Real Progress.

Gen. Hood returned from his campaign with a loss of not exceeding four thousand men—while that of the enemy was four fold. He completely out-generated Thomas in every movement; to such an extent, indeed, that favorite commander has been relieved by the Washington War Department. He succeeded in raising a large number of recruits in South and Western Kentucky, who, under General Lyon, still occupy that State. That he was not wholly successful and that his name is not now hailed as one of the chiefest of our military leaders, is attributable to the accident at Nashville, against which no human intelligence could have provided. He has already suffered from much undeserved obliquity, but he bears all the opprobrium as the good and gallant and true soldier that he is, should do. "He quietly remarks that he knows the penalty attending failure is the carping criticism and unqualified censure of a hasty public." But he is willing to cheerfully abide his time.

With the spirit of his noble army unbroken, with artillery sufficient for a force of fifty thousand men, with subordinate commanders who repose the greatest confidence in him, General Hood awaits an opportunity to recover the prestige of the Army of Tennessee.

Augusta Constitutionalist.

Casualties at Fort Fisher.—An official return from Fort Fisher gives the following as the casualties at Fort Fisher on the occasion of its fall.—Killed 100, wounded 400, prisoners 2,500. We do not vouch for the exact truth of this return, but we think it will be found to be really correct.

SCHEDULE OF PRICES IN NORTH CAROLINA.

The Commissioners of Appraisement for the State of North Carolina, again present their schedule of prices to govern the purchasing officers of the Government for the next sixty days, unless in the interval facts and circumstances should arise to induce an alteration. Every item has been carefully revised and with the valuable aid of Mr. George W. Mardock, they trust the schedule now presented will prove satisfactory to both the Government and the people. They would respectfully urge the people to hasten on with their supplies to maintain and feed our gallant army now assembled just on our borders, and in whose gallantry and fortitude, under God, we alone owe our exemption from the horrors of a revolution, of our homes and families by the barbarous, inhuman foe, who have constantly shown they only want the power, and not the will to destroy us and take all we have.
