A Frog in the Stomach .-- A son of Mr. Charles Davis, in Gould's Court, leading from Montgomery, near Light street, has caused the family great uneasiness for three years past in consequence of his being subject at times, for together, to spasms and terible fits. Physicians were consulted, but all their investigations failed to reveal the causes that produced the malady, Yesterday afternoon, about three o'clock, when entering the house, the lad was seized with the symptoms of his malady, and in a fit of retching, threw upon the floor a live frog, about two inches in length. The frog hopped gaily about the floor until secured by the family. Instant relief was experienced by the lad. His name is William Davis, and he is about ten years of age. He has no recollection of the time the frog was taken into the stomach, but his father thinks it was swallowed with his drink about three years ago, when he was first afflicted with fits.

MR. EDITOR: -- Gen. Leach achieved a decided victory over Mr. Scales, in the discussion at Teaguetown. The General poured hot shot into the Administration ranks, from all sides, and I really pitied Mr. Scales. Scales was dumb as a lamb before the shearer, on the expenditures of the government, to which Gen. Leach drew the attention of the audience, in a very happy and impressive manner.

Mr. Scales was also very unfortunate in his attempt to vindicate his course in regard to the Pension Bill. He said, he hoped there was no old soldier present, who for the sake of a few dollars pension money would desire to envolve the general Government in more pecuniary difficulty, and sighty one millions, either under Buchanan or Pierce; for it nover was pretended that they amounted to so much before Pierce's day. It amounted to so much before Pierce's day. It is amusing to see credit claimed for what the dulministration "will soon" do.

Celebration of the 4th.

Our late National Anniversary was celebrated in this place in a more spirited and appropriate manner, than we have witnessed for many years. The day was ushered in amid the booming of cannon, thirteen salutes being fired at intervals. About 7 o'clock a large procession on horse-back was formed and moved through the principal streets of Salem and Winston, headed by the Salem Brass Band. The procession was conducted with proper order and decorum under the charge of W. H. Wheeler, Marshal, assisted by S. C. James and F. W. Leinbach. The music of the band added much to enliven the occasion. At 10 o'clock, there was service in the church, which was numerously attended. Rev. F. R. Holland delivered an eloquent and patriotic sermon, basing his remarks on the proverb of Solomon, "Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people" The address was well calculated to make a deep and lasting impression upon the audience, replete as it was with sound national principles, the duties of one citizen towards another, and the duties we owe our Great Lord and Master. The Choir sang a very beautiful and appropriate anthem. In the evening, however, came off the most "Square" was all a blaze of light, being illumizated with 1050 tapers. The effect was grand and sublime, and it is difficult to do justice to the occasion, as the beholder could only properly appreciate its magnificer co.

The Stand, erected for the speakers, in the western part of the square, (a spot rendered sacred by numerous similar scenes,) was tastefully decerated with wreaths and festoons of evergreen, interspersed with boquets, relieved by draperies in "red, white and blue."

In front of the stand, immediately around the speaker's desk were 13 boquets, emblematic of the old 13 states, while on either side floated the glorious banners of our Country and State THE LEXINGTON MAIL ROUTE.—This and State.

The "star spangled banner" on the right and mail route was regularly bid off, but at a the well known blue silk flag, which has graced the well known features of Washington, cled-with evergreens. This attracted the attention of all, and it was remarked, that asithe terable veneration with which the "Father of his Country" was he'd by every American, as

The National Declaration was read by Dr. By this arrangement, at least one very important Post Office, "Midway," in the Marklarbox Desired was read by Dr. Linebach, in a distinct and impressive manner, after which the audience sang "Hail Columbia."
