The Orphan's Friend has donned a new dress.

It is stated that President Cleveland has declined the invitation to visit Atlanta, Georgia.

The Southern Baptist Convention has been in session in Augusta, Ga., during the past week.

By a recent fall and fire of two buildings in Brooklyn, N. Y., between twenty and thirty lives were lost.

Joseph P. Caldwell, of the Statesville Landmark, has been appointed a director for the Western Insane Asylum.

Maxwell, the murderer of Praeler at the St. Louis hotel, in Missouri, has been arrested at Auckland, New Zealand.

The latest from Gen. Grant is that whilst his general health has improved the cancer shows a slight tendency to progress.

The trial of Cluverius for the murder of Fanny Lillian Madison is progressing in Richmond. It excites a good deal of interest.

The President has appointed Hamilton C. Jones, of Charlotte, to be United States District Attorney for the Western District of North Carolina.

The Asheville Citizen says that the Cherokee Indians living in North Carolina have brought suit for lands in the Indian Territory valued at about $2,000,000.

Frost in S. W. Virginia.—It is reported that a heavy frost with ice, formed on Sunday night last, in South Western Virginia, doing considerable damage.

On the return of the Presidential party from a visit to the battlefield of Gettysburg, near Mt. Hope station, in Maryland, three shots were fired near the conveyance.

THE WESTERN FREEZE.—In Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota, on the night of the 6th inst., hard frosts prevailed, and ice formed from a half to three quarters of an inch thick.

The trustees of the State Library have appointed Capt. Randolph A. Shotwell, editor of the Farmer and Mechanic, State Librarian, to take effect on the 1st day of June next.

At a recent conference in London between Lord Granville and the Russian minister an agreement satisfactory to both governments was arrived at upon the Afghan boundary question.

In plague-stricken Plymouth in Pennsylvania, there are said to be fourteen hundred persons sick with the disease, which is now pronounced typhoid fever. Death rates five or six a day.

Last Wednesday morning Mr. John Webb, one of Oxford's most successful young tobaccoists and popular townsmen, was married to Miss Annie Devin, daughter of Rev. R. I. Devin. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father at his residence in Oxford.

The number of persons who visited Florida during the past season, according to figures recently published, was much larger than last year. The winter travel to the State is assuming huge proportions, and as a consequence the various towns and villages are prosperous.

DEPUTY MARSHALS.—Among the Deputy Marshals appointed by Col. David Settle, U. S. Marshal for the Western District of North Carolina, are the following: W. B. Clements, Davie county; John Baird, Rowan; S. B. Taylor, Stokes; Houston Williams, Surry; W. T. Pennell and J. P. Rousseau, Wilkes.

THE MORMON TROUBLE.—Salt Lake City dates of May 12 are exciting. At Paris, Idaho, a Mormon settlement, a posse of officers, who had warrants for five polygamists, were marched out of town by an armed mob, who threatened to kill any one who attempted to serve the warrants. Marshal Dabois and posse gone on a special train to the scene of action.

In the British possessions, Gen. Middleton, commanding the Canadian troops, drove Reil and his half-breeds and Indians from their entrenched position in the bush, near Batoche, a rebel stronghold, which was entirely destroyed. The steamer carrying supplies for Middleton, was in great danger of capture. Although the fight is considered a drawn battle, Middleton had an undoubted advantage in the end. It is believed that there are about 1500 half-breeds in the field, and 6000 Indians ready for the war-path, and but 4,000 Canadian troops to oppose them.

The thirty-second annual meeting of the State Medical Society will convene in Durham on the 19th inst. This association was organized about twenty-five years ago, and has been holding annual meetings ever since. The State Board of Health, which has become a part of the organic law of the State, owes its existence to the State Medical Society. Dr. W. C. McDuffie, of Fayetteville, who by diligence and industry has worked himself to the front ranks of his profession, is president for 1884-85. The membership numbers about four hundred and fifty.—Charlotte Observer.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK for June is on our table. It has a handsome steel-plate frontispiece, representing the "Poppy Class" at a bench show, containing nine cuts little puppets in characteristic attitudes. Besides the beautiful colored fashion plate, the picture "The Village Wedding" is one of the best small engravings we have seen. The literary department is interesting. Miss Fisher's short story is concluded in a pleasant style, and "Through Fire" a new prize story, shows unusual strength. "The Doctor's Dilemma" is spicy. It is one of the best numbers of the year.

Santa Fe de Bogota, that wonderful city nine thousand feet high in the air, so that it forms "a temperate zone on the very verge of the equator," is the subject of an interesting paper, with a panorama of illustrations, in the coming (June) HARPER'S. The city is in the bed of an old mountain lake, called the Sabana of Bogota, sixty by thirty miles, and around it tower what still seem mountains even from the altitude of the city. Humboldt said of this South American city that it stands upon its own grave, his thoughts looking to the probabilities of its ultimate destruction by an engulfing earthquake. Among the products of this strange place is the "alligator pear," a fruit pronounced "the masterpiece of nature," and "a demi-god." The description of the place and the people will be a surprise to Anglo-Saxon Americans.

The above article is by Lieut. H. R. Lemly, U. S. A., a native of this place.

THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

An Invitation Which Raised an Uproar, followed by a Fraternal Greeting.
BALTIMORE, May 6.—Baltimore today presented more activity than for some time past. There is a great deal more decoration than was expected and the streets are filled with people drawn here by the meeting of the Society of the Army of the Potomac. Uniformed men are plentiful and generally they are greeted with a cordial welcome. Robert E. Lee Camp of Confederate volunteers arrived in the city at 1:40 p. m., and received quite an ovation.

The business meeting of the eleventh army corps was held at Ford's opera house at two o'clock. General Grant was elected commander by acclamation amid a storm of enthusiasm which lasted several minutes. All of the old officers were then re-elected in a similar manner. At this point Gen. W. S. Brown, of Washington, took the floor and suggested that as R. E. Lee Camp, of Richmond, Va., were in the immediate neighborhood, it would be both generous and grateful to invite them to occupy seats on the floor of the house and make their acquaintance. A motion to that effect was made and seconded when two or three men jumped up and violently opposed such a proceeding, one of them saying that a rebel, no matter how repentant, had no interest in the business of Union soldiers and that their presence was an insult which he could not endure. Nearly every man in the house was instantly on his feet trying to make himself heard and for a while there was a scene of wild confusion which threatened to terminate in personal encounters. The chairman vainly endeavored to secure order and threatened to invoke the aid of the police. Quiet was finally restored and a committee appointed to invite the ex-Confederates to meet their old opponents after the business of the meeting was disposed of.

After the adjournment the committee appointed to invite R. E. Lee Camp to seats on the floor came in bringing with them a long string of men in gray suits. They were greeted with great applause and in return filled the house with a genuine rebel yell that threatened to pull down the ceiling. The ex-Confederates were scattered among the blue coats and their officers invited to seats on the stage. Col. McGinnis, of Montana, welcomed them with a graceful speech to which Commander General Cook responded. Short but brilliant addresses were made by Col. Charles Marshall who was chief of General Lee's staff and Col. Evans of Richmond, Va.

Bartholdi's Great Statue.

This new wonder which is now being loaded on the French transport Isere for shipment to this country, is the largest statue in the world. Some idea of its magnitude may be obtained from the fact that forty persons found standing room within its head. A six foot man standing on a level with the lips only just reached the eye brow. While workmen were employed on the crown of the head they seemed to be making a huge sugar caudron, and they jumped with ease in and out of the tip of the nose. Fitted people might sit round the flame of the torch, which elevation can be reached by a spiral staircase within the outstretched arm.

The London News, in speaking of it, says: "It is out and away the largest statue of modern times. The Colossus of Rhodes was nothing to it. It would carry the Eravaria or the Hermann in its arms. It towers to the skies from the yard of the Rue de Chazelles, where it has been 8 years in construction, and the view from its coronet sweeps clear of the 6 story houses and beyond the walls of Paris."

The weight of the stupendous statue is 440,000 pounds, of which 176,000 pounds are copper and the remainder wrought iron. It is expected to arrive in New York about the 25th of May, where it will be erected on Bedloe's Island, this being the location selected for it by Gen. W. T. Sherman, who was appointed by the President to make the selection. When placed in position it will loom up 305 feet above tide water, the height of the statue being 1512 feet, that of the pedestal 91 feet, and foundation 52 1/2 feet.

This imposing statue, higher than the enormous towers of the great Brooklyn Bridge, which is the tallest in the city of New York—higher, in fact, than any of the colossal statues of antiquity—by its rare artistic proportions, as well as by its stupendous dimensions, will add another to the wonders of the world. As to its artistic merit, the pose, stride, and gesture, with its classic face, are pronounced perfect; the drapery is both massive and fine, and in some parts is as delicate and silky in effect as is wrought with a fine chisel on the smallest scale.

The conception and execution of this great work are due to the French sculptor, Bartholdi, who has devoted eight years of his life and the best of his fortune to it, and whose generous impulses prompted him to make such a gift to the United States.

HAPPENINGS IN THE STATE.

—One hundred thousand dollars has been offered for the King's Mountain Tin Mine by a party of capitalists of Cornwall, England.

—Jordan Haney, a lunatic in the Morganton Insane Asylum, hanged himself with his bed clothes last week. About one year he became a sane citizen of Cleveland, and married a young lady, and in one month after matrimony reason was dethroned. The lunatic ended his life and troubles with suicide.

—The Artesian well is a success. Friday 20,000 gallons of water were pumped from the Artesian well at Blackwell's Durham Tobacco Company. Saturday 14,000 more were taken out and no signs of exhaustion. While it does not flow it looks as if it would prove a success after all.

—Great quantities of counterfeit silver are being circulated in some of the eastern counties, notably Pitt and Greene. A negro has been captured having in his possession nearly a peck of quarters and half dollars. He is in jail. In many towns strange persons have been passing counterfeit silver for 2 or 3 weeks.

—In Anson county, along the line of the Carolina Central Railroad, near Wadesboro, extensive preparations have been made to quarry and ship to all parts of the country a fine article of brown stone for building purposes, which is now gaining much favor with architects and builders in the city of New York. The first shipment of this stone was made from Wilkinson last week.

—John M. Fraley, of this vicinity has received the appointment of mail route agent, on the Richmond & Danville system, from Washington to Charlotte. Three car loads of tele are ready for shipment from Nantahala in the western part of the State. Dr. Lucas continues to ship about five tons of corn per week from Webster. They have struck silver ore in the smoky mountains in Swain county that assays 170 ounces to the ton.—Salisbury Watchman.

—The Asheville Citizen says: Last week forty-eight colored persons were baptized in the French Broad just below the iron bridge. It had rather the appearance of a holy day than of a religious occasion. Vehicles of all descriptions thronged the highways, filled with colored people; hundreds of whites thronged to the scene. The bridge was crowded from end to end, and the hillsides were banked with spectators. Probably there was much more of levity than solemnity in the proceedings. The officiating minister performed the rite of immersion with propriety, but was annoyed at the unsympathetic feeling of most of the lookers on.

PETERSBURG, Va., May 7.—Mrs. John Tench, whose mind had been impaired for some time past, died from the effects of fasting at her home in Prince George county, yesterday. The deceased had not yesterday or partaken of food or water for more than 2 months. A few months ago she weighed 250 pounds, but at the time of her death she was a perfect skeleton, not weighing more than 75 pounds. The case has excited much interest.

—The Illinois quarrymen's strike is yet unsettled. The county officials cannot control the strikers who threaten to make things lively. The Governor has sent troops to Cook county to aid the sheriff in doing his duty in the event of serious rioting. A collision occurred with the strikers on the 4th inst.

A WONDERFUL OPERATION.

Muscle from a Dog's Leg Grafted on a Laundress's Arm.
The Bellevue Hospital physicians are just now exchanging congratulations over the successful result of a remarkable operation in muscle grafting—the first of the kind ever attempted in this country. The operation consists in transferring a bunch of muscular tissues from a dog or other animal to any member of a human frame that may be incapacitated through the want of such tissue.

At Bellevue Hospital the dog was a mongrel and the patient a laundress. The latter seriously injured her right arm while at work in the laundry, and five weeks ago went to the hospital to be cured. A large section of the muscular substance between the elbow and the wrist was dead, and the sufferer could not use her fingers at all. Dr. Halsted, visiting surgeon of the hospital, saw that the injury could not be cured except by the operation of a muscle grafting. It was announced, therefore, that the operation would be attempted, and at the appointed hour a crowd of students was present in the amphitheatre to witness it.

The dog was put under the influence of ether. The skin of the wounded arm was laid open and dissected back. The ends of the divided muscles were then found and cut off so as to freshen them. Meanwhile one of the dog's hind legs had been shaved, and as soon as the arm was ready a section of muscular tissue about four inches long and 2 inches wide was cut from the dog's leg, and transferred to her arm and fitted to the divided ends of the muscles. The skin of the arm was then replaced and sewn together.

The operation lasted about half an hour. Three weeks after it was performed the patient found herself able to use her fingers with little difficulty. Since then she has improved so much that the doctors say she will leave the hospital in a few days quite cured.

Dr. Hazelton, the house surgeon at the hospital, was very reticent last evening in regard to the case, and would only say that the girl's recovery was complete.—New York Herald.
