Co-operation with the Farmers.

A plan of co-operation with farmers of the State has been instituted by which the benefits of the N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station are brought more directly before their attention. All of the sub-alliances in North Carolina (numbering nearly 2,300) have been requested to form "Experimental Committees," the chairman of which is to be in constant communication with the Station Press Bulletins, as well as regto these committees, and the matters contained in them are discussed. A question-box is also used, in which any member can deposit any question. After discussion by the meeting, headed by the Experimental Committee, the question, if desired, can be submitted to the Experiment Station for answer. Give the Party a Chance. The Democratic party, no doubt, if it gets into power will be able to devise a plan to increase the currency of the country. It is pledged to financial reform, and will do all in its power to secure it. Why, then, cannot Democrats and Alliancemen come together here and work as one man for financial reform without the offensive sub-tressury feature? What Does It Mean? In spite of the general quietude that prevails in department circles in Wast. ington, there is an activity in army and navy circles that seems to indicate fear of an early necessity for this Government being able to make a show of ferce. Extraordinary efforts are being made to equip both the army and navy with the latest warlike appliances. Experiments with smokeless powder, rapid fire guns, rifled cannon, seacoast mortars, dynamite projectiles, and war balloons being conducted at different points by army boards. In the navy Secretary Tracy has issued orders providing examinations intended to weed out all inactive commanders of vessels, while the most earnest efforts are being made to complete and equip new vessels of war, including the heavy battleships to be plated with nickel steel armor. It is believed our Government has information indicating an early breaking out of hostilities in Europe, which would render it necessary for this country to be prepared to protect its rights as a neutral power. Notes.

Young Men Mortally Wound Each Other at Camp Meeting. It is not often that a deadly duel fought at a religious camp meeting to defend the name of a lady. But such a duel, bloody, desperate, and fought to the death was an incident at the Delmar camp meeting, held in a tent in the rear of the Methodist church at Delmar, Del. Over a year ago Wells spoke disparagingly of Williams's sister, and since then the men have been enemies.

The two men met at the camp meeting and had some words. It was first agreed that the two should fight it out with fists. But they went at it so in earnest that both Wells and Williams soon lost their heads, clinched each other in a firm grasp and rolled upon the ground, each struggling to his utmost to win.

It was then that the affair was transformed from a prize fight into a mortal combat with weapons. Wells, who was getting the worst of it, was soon seen to be cutting at Williams with a large knife. Realizing his danger, Williams got out his revolver, and its repeated discharges brought to an abrupt end all religious exercises in the grove.

Bystanders separated the men as soon as possi le; but the few second, le perate work had wrought a terrible butchery.
