Forsyth County Day at Exposition. Last Wednesday was Forsyth county day at the Southern Exposition. A number of our citizens were present and the display was a credit to the county, and is one of the most extensive and interesting exhibits on the grounds. In the center of the large exhibit is a pyramid made of grain both in the growing state and threshed. There are eleven varieties of wheat, the Beaviest weighing 68 pounds to the bushel. This pyramid is sur boy had no idea of hydrophobia, and mounted by one of the famous Waughtown wagons in miniature. PARNELL'S FUNERIAL.

Genuine Display of Irish Sympath; and Patriotism The funeral of Charles S. Parnell. which was held on Sunday in Dublin. Ireland, drew forth a most remarkable exhibition of Irish sentiment. People came in from all directions by thousands. and the pageant was the most remarkable seen in recent Irish history. The difference regarding Parnell's recent course seemed to be forgotten in warm hearted recognition of his past services for the Irish cause. The city hall was draped in black, and all public houses were closed. The procession was formed at Kingston, on the arrival of the mail boat from Holyhead bearing the casket, and marched to the town hall in Dublin, where it was received by the mayor and civic authorities. The cortege was composed exclusively of Parnellites.

Most of the municipal and other organizations throughout the country sent representatives to the funeral.

The remains were conducted according to the rites of the Episcopal Church. Archdeacon Gellbraith, of Wicklow, of ficiating, assisted by Rev. Mr. Fry, of Manchester. Great excitement prevailed preceding the funeral, and incendiary posters. headed "Murdered to please the Englishmen," and surrounded by a black border were posted over the city. The Parnell leaders, however, exerted themselves to maintain order and decorum. The press generally denounced the placarding as ar incendiary or meaningless exhibition. Westchester, N. Y., Presbytery on Infantile Preordination. The Westchester Presbytery, which includes the Presbyterian ministers of Connecticut and Westchester county, N. At the suggestion of Rev. Dr. Hodge, of Hartford, the Presbytery amended the general committee's report on infantile eordination so that section 3 of chapter shall read as follows:

MYSTERIOUS DEATHS EXPLAINED. Skeletons With Bullets in the Skulls

Found at Sutton, W. Va. The 'mysterious disappearance of pedllers, revenue officers, and others, which a few years since agitated the citizens of his county and town, says a Sutton, W. Va., dispatch, has been partially ex plained by the exhumation by workmen of the skeletons of several persons who had been buried in the cellar of an old house on the outskirts of the town.

A careful examination of the skeletons show that in every case the skulls were fractured, and many bullet holes are visible in different places. Sutton is the present terminal of the Camden system. It is in the wildest and most sparsely settled portion of the State, and until recently has been complety isolated from the world. There is great excitement over the disclosures.

DIAMONDS IN A BIRD'S BILL. Precious Stones Worth $30,000 Smuggled in by a Pelican. The most novel scheme to defraud Uncle Sam out of a high tariff duty, states a dispatch from Chicago, Ill., was brought to light yesterday when it was learned that a Mrs. Yancy, of New York, had been importing diamonds in the beak of a large pelican. She had been hired to get $30,000 worth of the stones for a firm in that city, she to have a snug share of the duty that was not paid. The bird, for some reason, delivered up the jewels in a New York coach, on its way to the city, and the scheme leaked out. Mrs. Yancy, alias a half dozen names, has made many like trips before across the Atlantic with her gray bird.

Mad Dogs, Horses, Cows, and Sheep. The residents of Center Valley, Coopersburg, and Upper Sancon, in the county of Lehigh, Pa., are in great excitement over mad dogs. The animals, it is said, have oitten dogs, cats, cattle, horses, and sheep, and many of these animals have manifested unmistakable symptoms of rabies. Horses grazing in the fields were bitten and have gone mad. One person was bitten by a pet cat that subsequently died from hydrophobia.

Convicted of Intimidating Voters. In the United States District Court at Abingdon, Va., Jack Mullins, of Buchanan county, was convicted of intimidating voters at the precinct in Buchanan at the last Presidential election, and sentenced to six months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $500. This is the first conviction in Virginia under the Federal laws for the protection of the elective franchise.
