Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the first Hospital of Louben, Parts, Philadelphis, and classwhere, has effected some of the most eminent colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the first Hospital of Louben, Parts, Philadelphis, and classwhere, has effected some of the mest astonishing cares that were ever known, many troubled with ringing in the head and care when safety, greatner-yousness, bring slarmed a studien sounds, and beatfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sumetimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

When the misguided and imprudent votary of plassure finds he has imbited the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill timed some of shaue, or dread of discavery destere him from applying to those who from education and recognishity, can alone befrom discase make their appearance, such as ulcerated acre throat, diseased nose, nocturns patter in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, desforces, nodes on the skin bones, and arms, bistches on the head, face, and extremities, progressing with freplatful repidity, till at last the polate of the nouth of the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a borrid object of commisseeration, till death puts a period to his dreadful suderings by sending them to "the bones of the dreadful suderings by sending them to "the bones of the dreadful suderings by sending them to "the bones."

the bones of the rose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commisseration, till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings by sending them to "that bourns from whence no trayeler returns". To such therefore Dr. Johnson, and the automistre prestree in the first hospitals to Europe and America, he can confidently recommend a safe and speedy cure to the unfortunate victim of this horrid disease.

It is a melancholy lact, that thousands fall victims to this dreadful disease, owing to the unskillulations of ignerant presenders, who, by the use of that dreadful poison, melcur, rain the constitution, and either send the unfortunate unfarer to an attimely grave, or else make the residue of his life miserable.

Take Particular Notice.

Young Men, Who have injured themselves by a Cartain Practice indujed in when alone—a habit frequently learned from evil companions, as at school—the effects of which are nightly felt, even when askep, and if not cared, renders maringe impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply imme liately. What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, and the durling of his parents, should be suntched from all prospects and euloyments of life, by the counsequences of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons before contemplating should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote consubial happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view; the faind becomes shadowed with despoir and filted with the meiancholy reflection, that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own.
