Filimore Ratification Meeting.

PUTLADRIPHIA, Sept. 21.-A Fillmore ratification seeling was held last night at National Hall, which gely attended and very enthusiastic. Aldermpson presided and addresses were delivered by Messre, Banks, of North Carolina, David Paul Brown, Mesars. Hasbrouck, of New York, Cooper, of Tennessee, Sanderson, of Florida, Grimsly, of Mis-souri. The meeting adjourned with rounds of cheers for Fillmore and Donelson and for the State Union ticket, and with groans for Buchanan and Levin.

In the National Hall, Philadelphia, a few nights age, the supporters of Mr. Fillmore-the national, mfe men, with whom the people of the South are neked to fraternise, and for whom it is contended that they should desert Buchanan and the Democratsheld a meeting to endorse the Union, Black Republican ticket for State officers, and they did endorse it, and they did, denounce al who would not support said licket, as " traitors " and so forth

This National Hall is a sort of Know Nothing, Black Republican, joint stock Amalgamated Head Quarters. This being the character of the place. such its recent antecedents, we must confess to something more than surprise when we found the same of a citizen of North Carolina flourishing among the speakers in that Hall, at a Fillmore ratification meeting, held on the 20th; we suppose it was called a "Whig " meeting ; held in the Know Nothing Abolition Hall, assisting at the Know Nothing Abalition orgies. What business had Mr. Banks of Fayetteville, North Carolina, as an ac or in a meeting which as the telegraph informs us, "adjourned with rounds of cheers for Fillmore and Donelson and for the State Union Ticket !" Union with what ! Black Republicanism .- For what ? To elect known and acknowledged Black Republicans to office. This is the way Fillmore's name is associated in Pennsylvanin, at the meetings addressed by Southern men. But we suppose there are some who find a compensation for all this in what followed, "three groans for Buchanan and Levin." Buchanan's sin is that of being a Democrat, Levin has been turned out of the Richlands and Catharine Lake are supplied through immaculate Fillmore party for objecting to the Kenansville. "Union" A bolition licket for State officers Centainly the Fillmore organization can easily take in the whole country, when men from North Caro lina, Missouri, Tennessee and Florida, can, in Pula delphia, quietly harangue crowds that adjourn with cheers for an abolition ticket and groans for those who oppose it, and when, in the capital of old Virginia, Fillmore meetings are harangued by Henry Winter Davis, himself the representative of a Southern city, yet voting with the abolitionists of the North in favour of the abolition proviso to the Army bill. Surely it is time for the South to pause and reflect. Surely it is time for Southern men to review their position and mark well how they stand, before taking a single step in advance, which may place them in association with parties and party movements the very opposites of all to which they should be attached or in which they should co-operate. Surely the mere insane desire of butting at the Democratic party, as a buffalo would at a red cloth, ought not to be indalged in, when such indulgence amounts to sulolde, inasmuch as, if persevered in, it must result in the ruin of the South, and her ruin will carry with if every citizen who shares her fortunes. We commend these scattering remarks, in all honesty and sincerity, to Mr. Banks and all others whose zeal as partizins overruns, if not their discretion, at least their reflection. It would be paltering with the truth to say that the times are without danger. We say what we most honestly believe and think we have good reason for believing, when we ament that in every doubtful State at the North there is an understood, if not an open fusion between the Fillmore and Fremont lenders, and in many cases it is impossible to tell which is which. As the time advances these things will develope themselves more fully, their precise form and pressure, in different locations, being modified to suit circumstances as these may be exhibited at the Ociober elections. It therefore becomes still more obligatory upon Southern mon to watch their footsteps-to regulate their walk as Southern men, and for once, at least, forget that inveterate pursuit of a party trail which leads only to the diamal den of Northern Abolitionism. Moch, very much may, and indeed must, depend upon the action of the South herself in this emergeney. Relieved from the Southern pressure, once as, sured of complete Southern submission, and fusion and coalition would feel no check and know no bounds, not even in appearance. It cannot be doubted that the presence of Southern men at such meetings as that at National Hall, adds aid and comfort to the momies of the South, and leads to the impression that the portion of the people of the South who favour fr. Fillmore, will sanction Free Soil coalitions and lend their support and countenance to any Northern movement, so it only has the effect of defeating the Democrate. We must presume that the three cheers for Fillmore and Donelson and the Union, or Abolition State ticket, was a course of the banquet to which the Southern guests did not know that they ware invited, but was nevertheless one which they night have expreted, and of which all who favour Mr. Fillmure at the North must be prepared to partake. The thing, we teel Lound to say, is, in our honest olon, rapidly nerrowing down to Mr. Buchanan the field-the Democrate against the North To carry any State at the North, the ints must overthrow the united friends of Fillbelief to mand upon.

AWFUL CATASTROPHE. -- HORRIBLE OCCURRENCE --We are pained to learn from the Petersburg Express, that on Saturday evening last, the usually moral and respectable "cockade city," was the scene of a terrible occurrence, involving the flaying alive, butchoring and eating up of two very respectable and worthy citizens of that place, Messrs. J. W. Syme and A. D. Banks. Mr. Syme was about fifty years of age; Mr. Banks perhaps about thirty. This fearful tragedy took place at Phoenix Hall, between the hours of 7 and 10 o'clock, and although witnessed by the police and a large concourse of citizens, no effort was made to prevent it, but on the contrary every fresh act of atrocity was hailed with shouts of applause and encouragement.

The unfortunate gentlemen were the authors and agents of their mutual destruction. Mr. Syme was the editor of the Petersburg Intelligencer, Know Nothing organ, Mr. Banks was a Democrat and presided over the columns of the South Side Democrat; hence all the difficulty. By pre-arrangement they met upon the stand at Phoenix Hall and commenced the work of death, Mr. Banks skinning Mr. Syme for one hour and fifteen minutes, the latter bearing up with great fortitude and an occasional wry face. It next became Syme's turn and he commenced skinning Banks for a similar length of time. The main battle being thus over, they occupied themselves for half an hour in swallowing each other and succeeded so effectually that the friends of Mr. Banks were totally unable to perceive the slightest vestige of Mr. Syme and those of Mr. Syme said that there was not even a button of Mr Banks' cost tail left.

It is barely possible that there may have been some optical illusion and that these gentlemen only appeared to swallow each other, and that the skinning was oaly in a pickwickian way. They have a rumour that a man about Mr. Syme's size was seen to take a snifter for the good of his " wholesome," late that evening, and it is even hinted that Banks was not invisible. Either these latter appearances were delu sive or there was some mistake about the original story of the skinning and cating up. Their respective papers came out yesterday morning and neither of them in mourning, but with the names of the skinned and eaten men still flourishing as editors, a emarkable manifestation of the spirits.

A prosaic, matter of fact, person hints that Banks and Syme had some sort of a bet or challenge between them, involving a public discussion of party politics, which came off as above, and that the tragedy is merely owing to the exaggoration of excited Dartizana

The following sentiments from the Pennsylptnian will meet with a warm response from every Demoeratic heart. If there are any who would for a mo-ment falter and make sacrifices for supposed expe-diency, let them crush the unholy thought in a mo-ment. The Democratic party have presented to the country candidates for the Presidency and Vice Demits are the moral and intellectual loster of whom Presidency the moral and intellectual lustre of whose characters are worthy of the sternest days of our Republic. They stand upon a platform of principles which has given peace and prosperity to our beloved country for seventy years. They are known of all men. Under the benign influence of the Constitution as administered by Democratic statesmen, the world have beheld the progress of our nation with wonder and amazement. If, now, the people have become so deluded by lies and imposture as to break it up, to deug their brethren of the South their just and constitutional rights let them do so; but let no stain rest upon the Democratic party. Ours is a party of principles, others of expediency. If a dissolution of the confederacy shall follow the election of Fremont, (and God only knows, in the present excited state of affairs, what may occur) let the Democracy have the satisfaction of knowing that to the latest howr they were true to all obligations imposed by the solemn agreement between the States. The Pennsylvanian says:

The Democratic candidates are presented to the public with a sincerity of purpose which makes them reference to the nominees of our party, there is the confident assurance felt by the community, that there will be no deception practised as to who are to be the candidates at a subsequent state of the political canvass. In such matters, at least, the Democratic party is universally acknowledged to be one of integri-It has this honorable distinction over all other parties that have ever existed. No policy can induce it to abase itself by yielding its honor to notions of availability. The nominations of its candidates are held as matters of sacred validity, and can only be abrogated for crime, or departure from principles --This elevated trait in its organization, exalts it far above the sinister combinations which are now known as the " opposition."

These latter political bodies are regulated neither by motives of honor, nor impulses of patriotism -Hence, their nominations by Conventions are frauds upon the public, made in deceit, and altered through treachery. No honorable man is safe in their keeping, nor is he aware of the moment he is to be subected to degradation. Like a thief in the night, a Committee steal upon him, and rob him both of his bonor and manhood. This is the flagitious process which dooms all "opposition" to the Democra ic party to a transient existence. Lacking rectitude of intention, the acts of all such factions-for they are nothing else-are viewed first with distrust, and then visited with condemantion. Such will be the fate of the recent nominations made by the American and Republican Conventions, though they should fuse in their operations.

THE SAN FRANCISCO VIGILANCE COMMITTEE .- The Arrest of their President -- William T. Coleman, the head of a prominent film doing business in New York and San Francisco, was arrested in the latter city on Thursday on the complaint of James R. Maloney, and admitted to bail in the sum of $50,000. The suit is for $100,000 damages, as compensation for injuries sustained in the plaintiff's person and property at the hands of the Vigilance Committee of the executive branch of which the defendant is alleged to be president or head. The Tribune says :

Mr. Maloney alleges in substance, in his affi davit, that he was settled in merchandle business in this city, previously to 1849 when he went to California, and continued in a profitable busi ness till 1854, when he was appointed Naval Agent; that in June, 1856, a quantity of arms and mmunition was put in his charge by Governor Johnson, on the Schooner Sarah ; that this vessel was boarded by a party of men, who took possession of the arms, and seized him in order to prevent his becoming a witness in any action which might be brought against them or their prin cipals for piracy; that he was handcuffed and confined in a dungeon for twelve or fourteen days, in spite of repeated demands for release; that a writ of habeas corpus was put into the United States Marshal's hands in order to bring him before a court, but his jailors escorted him to and fro in such wise that the writ did not reach them, and the Marshal was obliged to return non est inventus; that finally he underwent what was called a tria!, over which Mr. Coleman presided, who replied, when asked by the prisoner by what title he was proceeding, that he was there to ask, and not to answer questions ; that he was released on the 4th of July, on condition of taking the Eastern steamer at once, and signing a paper stating that he left of his own accord. The latter he refused to do for some time, but at length did it through compulsion. Several suits of a similar character, it is said, will soon be commenced. A new question of law will thus come up, involving many nice distinctions in Sinte, Federal and Municipal jurisdiction. Mr. Coleman and Mr. Maloney have each engaged eminent counsel

All parties and classes in Europe, however much they may differ on the questions touching their own rights and condition, appear to concur in being thorough Abolitionists as regards African slavery i.) the United States, which is every where denounced with unsparing bitterness. An excellent Virginia lady who has been sojourning here some years with her family, having recently 1 ade arrangements to return home, found on the eve of departure that a negro girl of some 22 years, who had been brought up and most kindly treated as a confidential domestic, had been advised to leave her and remain in the country, which she resolved to do notwithstanding her own manifest attachment to her benefactress and her children. The girl besides having been well instructed in the more common branches is of an English education, had been taught both French and Italian, under this beneficent care. She had, moreover, been repeatedly assured that she might consider herself as free, whenever she could a wantigeously change her circumstances. Yet the influence of numerous advisers here has prevailed, and she remains in a land of strangers, under the alarming conjurations of Italian imaginations. A New Orieans lady lost a favorite domestic in the same way a few months since, and the poor creature, having thus deprived herself of early associations, and a sure support, lost her wits in the trial, and is now in a lunatic asylum. It should be added to the honor of the lady first named, that she has made ample provision through a friend here to secure her lost favorite from such cortingency.
