THE ATTACHES; on Rail, Steam, and other modes of Transportation, by J. W. WHITAKER.

PIRE ENGINES,
FORCING AND LIFT PUMPS.
THE FIRE ENGINES manufactured by Coving & Co., New York, are being generally introduced, as they are admirably adapted to the purpose for which they are intended—speedy action and efficient service, in time of Fire. They are so light as to be readily brought into requisition by a small force; and will, with six men, throw a five-inch stream of water 120 feet horizontally, or over any ordinary three-story building. They weigh only about 800 lbs.; are constructed of the best and most durable materials; work with or without suction, and do not cost more than one-eighth the price of large machines.

The Force and Lift Pumps, together with the "Garden of Fire Engine," from the same manufacturer, are all excellent articles, cheap, durable, and constructed to give satisfaction. These Pumps can be furnished with Iron, Lead or Wood Pipe—the latter preferable where water is required for drinking. The Force Pump, with the power of one man, will throw water 50 feet perpendicularly, or 75 feet horizontally. The Garden of Fire Engine will do the same—either constituting an efficient protection in cases of fire near where they are situated. No lot, where water can be had, should be without a Force Pump or Engine. We are prepared to supply any description of Pumps for Rail Road Stations, Factories or other purposes, on short notice, and will furnish Station and Leading Hose of Rubber or Leather, of any size required, for Fire Engines or Force Pumps.
