THE SCOURGE AT NEW ORLEANS .- The Louisiana Courier contains a comparative statement of the daily number of deaths by yellow fever during the present epidemic term and that of 1853. The whole number of deaths in 1853 up to the 1st of October, was 7,896, and deaths in 1853 up to the 1st of October, was 7,896, and during the present term up to the same period, they have numbered only 3,164, showing the present to be less than one half as fatal as the pravious visit of the epidemic. The figures for this year, however, fall short several hundred from the true mortality, on account of the neglect to furnish the interments in the two Hebrew cameteries. The Courier says that the continued prevalence of the yellow fever is mainly attributable to the constant influx of strangers and the unacclimated, and warns all who are alment from the city to stay away until the epidemic has left.

DYSPEPSIA AND PITS.

DR. O. PHELPS BROWN, the great curer of Consumption, was for several years so hadly afflicted by Dyspersia, that for a part of the time he was confined to his bed. He was evidently cured by a prescription furnished him by a young clairroint girl. This prescription, given him by a mere child, while in a state of trance, has cured everybody who has taken it, pever having failed once. It is equally as sure in cases of Fern as of Dragmenta. The ingredients may be found in any drug store. I will bend this valuable prescription to any person on the receipt of one stamp to pay posings. Address ... DR. O.
