

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR GOVERNOR.
HON. JOHN W. ELLIS.
OF HOWAN COUNTY.

Appointments.
Gov. Ellis and Mr. Pool will address the people at the following times and places:
Smithfield, Johnson, Wednesday, April 23rd.
Goldensboro, Wayne, Thursday, 24th.
Kannapolis, Dupont, Saturday, 26th.
Oswayo C. H., Monday, 30th.
Beaufort, Currituck, Tuesday, May 1st.
Newbern, Currituck, Thursday, 3d.
Kinston, Lenoir, Saturday, 5th.
New Hill, Greene, Monday, 7th.
Greenville, Pitt, Tuesday, 8th.
Washington, Beaufort, Wednesday, 9th.

Supreme Court.—Spring term of New Hanover Superior Court, His Honor, Judge Shepard, presiding, was commenced this morning, and holds, by law, for two weeks. The only case of public interest is the trial of Wm. Tubbs and Thos. Lanfield, negroes, for kidnapping or stealing a negro belonging to Rev. M. Robbins, and concealing him on board of a vessel with intent to carry him off to a free State. The prisoners were tried last fall, but were granted a new trial, which will take place during the present term.

The Charleston & Savannah Rail Road.—Has been completed to Savannah River, and the first through train from Savannah, arrived at Charleston on Saturday last. The Charleston Courier's Savannah Correspondent says, that Messrs. Drane & Singletary, the energetic and successful contractors for the building of the Road, gave a handsome collation on the ground. A good time was had generally, and the success of the enterprise was toasted in copious bumpers of generous wine.

Public Sale of Bank and Rail Road Stock.—Torboro' Southern of the 21st inst. says: On Tuesday last, 20 shares of Cape Fear Bank Stock was sold at Public sale in this town, at $125 50 per share—5 shares of Wilmington and Weldon Rail Road Stock sold at $75 30 per share—and 60 shares Torboro' Branch of said Road sold at $65 10 per share—all belonging to Estate of the late Henry S. Lloyd.

Fire in Lewisburg, Ark.—The Memphis Enquirer of the 17th inst., reports that the town of Lewisburg, Conway county, Ark., was entirely destroyed by fire several days since. No particulars are, as yet, received.

Theatre.
There was a fair attendance at Thalian Hall on Saturday evening last to witness the tragedy of Richard the Third, which was very well played, Mr. Fleming taking the principal character, and being well sustained by the balance of the Company.

The after-piece of "Boots at the Swan" was received with rapturous applause, and every one in the house was apparently well pleased.

The piece for to-night is Shakspeare's great play of Hamlet, in which Mr. Fleming takes the leading character. We trust that there will be a full house to witness this performance, as Mr. F. and company certainly deserve a more liberal support than they have yet received from our citizens, for their unceasing efforts to please all who visit the Hall.

We find the following telegraphic dispatch in our exchanges received since Saturday last. We do not receive the daily Constitution, and cannot, therefore, vouch for its appearance in that issue. The tri-weekly of the 21st inst. does not contain it:

WASHINGTON, April 21st.—The Constitution of this morning says, if any members of the Cabinet, has sought, or taken steps, to change the line of action of the President, in an important matter of State policy, without the advice, knowledge or consent of the President, he has been guilty of an act of infidelity, and bad faith, which should invoke his severest censure. Indeed, such conduct, would be dishonorable, and justly incur a forfeiture of his confidence.

In this view we think we have the right to demand of Mr. Walker the naming of the individual implicated. In the absence of a reply we shall maintain that he is wholly unable to substantiate the grounds of his belief. This article excites much comment from its semi-official character and as it involves the question of the unity of the cabinet.

Three Days later from Europe.
The steamship America arrived at Halifax on the 21st inst. She brings Liverpool dated the 7th inst., three days later.
The steamship Nova Scotia had arrived on it.
The authorities of Hertfordshire had placed John C. Hoennan, the prize-fighter, under arrest.
In the cotton market of Liverpool the Easter holidays had produced quietness.
The weekly circulars were printed on Thursday, and their contents have already been published. There was no market on Saturday.
The steamship Borussia was detained at Southampton in consequence of a slight damage to her machinery. The steamer Hungarian will probably tranship the passengers and cargo of the Borussia.

LONDON.—Consols 95 3/4 for money, and 94 3/4 for account.
The political news is unimportant, and the British Parliament had adjourned over for the Easter holidays. Hoennan, the American champion, was arrested at Derby early in the morning of Good Friday, and would be kept in custody until after the America sailed, when he would be brought before the Magistrate. It was supposed that the fight with Sayers would be indefinitely postponed.
It is reported that the steamer Great Eastern would be ready to sail on her American trip at the same time with the squadron which is to accompany the Prince of Wales to Canada in June.
It is stated that the inhabitants of Savoy and Nice would vote in a few days, by universal suffrage, on the question of annexation to France.
The London money market was slightly easier. The bullion in the Bank of England had decreased £887,000 during the week.
HAYES COTTON MARKET, April 4.—The market is dull at 104 1/2 for New Orleans tres ordinaire, and 98 1/2 for ditto bas. There is a stock of 135,000 bales in port.
WEXFORD PROVISION MARKET.—Messrs. Richardson & Spence report a firm steady, with a large business in the old stock, at 54s. 6d. Beef steady. Bacon steady.
PRODUCE MARKET.—Sugars are dull; the prices are easier, but the quotations unchanged. Spirits of Turpentine firm, and slightly advanced. Sales at 36s. Coffee firm.
LONDON, Thursday evening.—Baring Brothers report breadstuffs dull but steady.
LONDON, Saturday.—The Paris Bourse has advanced. Consols close at 94 3/4 for money and account.
The Hamam was to sail on the 9th with the passengers and freight by the Borussia.
The steamship Asia arrived on the 8th inst.

From the South.
The following is a copy of a letter from the Hon. John W. Ellis, Governor of North Carolina, to the Hon. James M. Caldwell, Governor of South Carolina, dated at Raleigh, N. C., April 20, 1860.

As the United States Senate, in February, 1859, Henry Clay contained a speech on the slavery question in the following words of wisdom: "They have been repeatedly published, but they will bear republication and attentive perusal a thousand times."
"It is one dark spot on our political horizon, but it is not obscured by the bright and brilliant and cheering light that beams around us. Was ever a people before so blessed as we are, if true to ourselves? Did eternity contain within its bosom so many elements of prosperity, of greatness, and of glory? Our own real danger lies ahead, conspicuous, elevated and visible. It was clearly discerned at the commencement, and distinctly seen throughout our whole career. Shall we wantonly run upon it, and destroy all the glorious anticipations of the high destiny that awaits us? I beseech the abolitionists, themselves, solemnly, to pause in their mad and fatal course. Amid the infinite variety of objects of humanity and benevolence which invite employment of their energies, let them select some one more harmless, that does not threaten to deign our country in blood."

"I call upon that small portion of the clergy which has lent itself to these wild and ruinous schemes, not to forget the nature of the divine mission of the founder of our religion, and to profit by this peaceful example. I entreat that portion of my countrymen who have given their countenance to abolition, to remember that they ever most loved and honored when moving in their own appropriate and delightful sphere, and to reflect that the link which they shed in subscribing with their fair hands abolition petitions, may prove but the prelude to the shedding of the blood of their brethren. I adjure all the inhabitants of the free States to rebuke and discourage, by their opinion and their example, measures which must inevitably lead to the most calamitous consequences. And let us all, as countrymen, as friends, and as brothers, cherish in unfeigned memory the motto which bore our ancestors triumphantly through all the trials of the Revolution, as, if addressed to, it will conduct their posterity through all that may, in the dispensations of Providence, be reserved for them."

TWO VIEWS OF THE CASE.—Judge C., United States Senator from Vermont, related to us a good anecdote, the other day, illustrative of Abolitionism. The morning he was leaving home to enter upon his duties in this city, a straight faced deacon, who looked upon the whole South as a great pandemonium, called on him and said:
"Now, Judge, I want you to do all in your power to abolish slavery."
"Well," said the Judge, "how shall I proceed?"
"Oh, I don't know; but you must abolish it. It's a great curse, and must be abolished. You know more about law than I do. The church is my stronghold but you understand national matters and can devise some plan, and I know it."
"The only way I see to abolish it," said the Judge, "is to buy all the slaves and set them free."
"Well, go in for that; have a law passed that the North shall buy them, and then this trouble will end. Yes, you go in strong for that, Judge."
"Just as you say, deacon. I will agree to it in a moment, and will stand my share of the expense. Here in Woodstock with three hundred inhabitants, and this town would be called on for about six hundred thousand dollars, and I will urge it before the Senate."
The good deacon opened his mouth, then his eyes, allowed his tongue to escape from one corner of his face, scratched his head, and tapped impatiently on the floor with his foot. As the Judge was leaving the room, the deacon's power of speech came to him, and he called out:
"Oh, say, Judge, I guess you'd better let slavery alone. The poor black fellows are better off in the South than up here in this cold climate!"
There are several just such deacons in the country.—Washington paper.

THE MAYOR WANTS TO SEE THEE.—A young man, a nephew, had been to sea; and on his return, he was narrating to his uncle an adventure which he had met on board a ship:
"I was one night leaning over the taffrail, looking down into the mighty ocean," said the nephew, whom we will call William, "when my gold watch fell from my lap and immediately sunk out of sight. The vessel was going ten knots an hour; but nothing daunted, I sprang over the rail, down, and, after a long search, found it, came up close under the stern, and climbed back to the deck, without any one knowing I had been absent."
"William," said his uncle, slightly elevating his broad brow, and opening his eyes to their widest capacity, "how fast did thee say the vessel was going?"
"Ten knots, uncle."
"And then thee dove down into the sea, and came up with the watch, and climbed up by the rudder chains?"
"Yes, uncle."
"And thee expects me to believe thy story?"
"Of course! You couldn't dream of calling me a liar, would you, uncle?"
"William," replied the uncle, gravely, "thee knows I never call anybody names; but William, if the Mayor of the city were to come to me, and say, 'Joseph, I want thee to find the biggest liar in all Philadelphia,' I would come straight to thee, and put my hand on thy shoulder, and say to thee, 'William, the Mayor wants to see thee!'"

Mexico and Brazil.—A Contrast.
About the same time—not quite forty years ago—Mexico and Brazil became independent. They set out under very similar circumstances. With regard to natural advantages, Mexico had no rival in North America, except the United States, and in some respects it was even more favorably situated than this country; while Brazil possessed the largest and finest territory belonging to any one government of the Western Continent. The people of the two countries were of kindred origin, although the Castilian colonists of the one rather looked down upon the Lusitanian inhabitants of the other as an inferior variety of the same race.
How unlike the subsequent history and present condition of the two nations! Mexico has been distracted by perpetual revolutions, torn by incessant civil discord, dismembered of her territory, and is now a byword among the nations. Brazil, on the other hand, has grown slowly, but surely, in wealth, power and prosperity, has enjoyed internal peace and a stable government; has passed through one bloodless revolution without any violent change or protracted excitement, and is now one of the happiest and most interesting countries in either hemisphere.
Mexico has tried the experiment of republicanism, while Brazil has satisfied herself with a constitutional monarchy. We do not know that this difference alone is the key to the contrast in their history and condition, but it certainly goes far to verify the truth of what many observant men have long suspected—that republicanism is not adapted to the races of Southern Europe, as we find them in modern times.
It is no disparagement to the Latin races to say this. They are, no doubt superior to the Teutonic stock in some respects—inferior to them in others. The difference that we have alluded to would be regarded in different lights by different persons. We merely allude to it as a truth established by experience. It may tend to illustrate a principle which has too generally been lost sight of in the treatment of social, political and moral questions—that is, the necessity of modifying theories of government, laws and "domestic institutions," in order to adapt them to ethnological distinctions and differences.
We throw out these ideas, for the present, merely as suggestive of a wide range of application. Perhaps we may pursue the subject at some future time.
Mobile Tribune.

A VENERABLE LADY.—A new vicar regent of the Ladies' Mount Vernon Association is Mrs. M. Chesnut, the mother of the South Carolina Senator. This lady, now eighty-five years of age, was at Trenton, N. J., in 1786, when Gen. Washington had a grand receipt there. A "triumphal arch" was erected on the bank, over the Assanpink creek at the entrance of which six young girls strewed flowers before him and sang a song of welcome. One of these girls is now Mrs. Chesnut.

ELOPEMENT.—Some excitement has been created in Philadelphia "circles" by the elopement and marriage of Miss Queen A. Roe, a young lady from Alabama, and Joel H. Bogart, of Miss, a medical student. The guardian of the young lady got out a habes corpus and got possession of the lady, leaving her husband wifeless.

BY TELEGRAPH.
FOR THE DAILY JOURNAL.
ADDITIONAL PER STRANGER AMERICA.
HALIFAX, N. S. April 22, 1860.
A ship was seen on fire on the Scilly Islands, supposed to be an American Cotton ship.
It is believed that the fight between Hoennan and Sayers has been indefinitely postponed in consequence of the arrest of Hoennan.
It is reported that the Great Eastern will escort the Prince of Wales to Canada in June.
Three Sardinian divisions of troops have been posted in the Duchies.
THE CHARLESTON CONVENTION.
WASHINGTON CITY, D. C., April 23, 1860.
A special dispatch from Charleston says that delegations from six of the Southern States have resolved to stand upon the Alabama platform, but this is doubted here.
For the Journal.
Messrs. Editors: While I am very grateful to those who placed my name upon the ticket for Commissioners of Navigation, I must beg that it be withdrawn, as for reasons personal to myself it will be impossible for me to serve, if elected.
Very truly,
ELI W. HALL.
April 23, 1860.

I DON'T CARE IF I DO.—Who is responsible for this one?
In Eden time, before the Maine laws were invented, Wing kept the hotel at Middle Granville, and from his well stocked bar furnished "accommodation to man and beast." He was a good landlord, but terribly deaf. Fish, the village painter, was afflicted in the same way. One day they were sitting by themselves in the bar room. Wing was behind the counter waiting for the next customer; while Fish was lounging before the fire with a thirsty look, casting sheep's eyes occasionally at Wing's decanters, and wishing devoutly that some one would come in and treat.
A traveler from the South, on his way to Brandon, stepped in to inquire the distance. Going up to the counter, he said:
"Can you tell me, sir, how far it is to Brandon?"
"Brandy?" says the ready landlord, jumping up; "yes, sir, I think I have some," at the same time handing down a decanter of the precious liquid.
"You misunderstand me," says the stranger, "I asked how far it was to Brandon?"
"They call it pretty good brandy," says Wing.
"Will you take sugar with it?" reaching as he spoke for the bowl and tongs.
The despairing traveler turned to Fish.
"The landlord," said he, "seems to be deaf: will you tell me how far it is to Brandon?"
"Thank you," said Fish, "I don't care if I do take a drink with you."
The stranger treated and fled.

From the London Times of Tuesday, March 20.
Sir M. Seymour wished to make an explanation in reference to some remarks of the Prime Minister on the mission of the American Minister to Pekin. He should be sorry if anything like discredit should be cast upon an eminent man, or that the American nation should be supposed to have submitted to insulting conduct. A distinguished American wrote to him:
"You may be interested to know the actual truth as to Mr. Ward's visit to Pekin, for your newspapers, I regret to say, are full of misrepresentations. I have received a full account from him, in a private letter, in which he speaks of his visit as in every respect satisfactory. He writes in the same tone to the government, adding further intelligence which, I doubt not, will be soon made public. He ascertained that arrangements in the way of houses were made at the capital for the reception and entertainment of the English and French Ministers." (Loud opposition cheers.)
He also wished to call attention to the gallant conduct of the flag-officer, Admiral Tatnall, who commanded the American force—who, seeing the difficulties of the gallant Admiral Hope, offered to bring up reinforcements, and though his boat was sunk by the heavy fire, and some of his men wounded, insisted in conveying his sympathy, and desire to give every assistance to the English commander. (Cheers.)
The motion for the adjournment was withdrawn, and the report was agreed to.

HINTS TO YOUNG LADIES.—Don't sit down to your crochet work or embroidery unless you have first incised that hole in your stockings. No use crowding it under the heel of your shoe—rags, like murder, will out; and they speak with terribly loud voices and at inconvenient seasons, sometimes.
Don't undertake to write skim-milk poetry when you feel a little disposed towards enthusiasm. Go and do a kind action or speak an encouraging word to somebody, if the feeling must have vent. Depend upon it, you'll be better satisfied afterward.
CONFIRMATION BY THE SENATE.—The appointment of Major E. G. English as United States marshal for the southern district of Indiana was yesterday confirmed by the Senate.
It appears by the report of the marshal of Ohio that the republicans of Ashtabula county are in arms to resist the execution of the Senate's authority to bring Brown before the committee charged with the investigation of the Harper's Ferry affair. This attitude of affairs was foreshadowed in the speech of Redpath. Nationalization is the order of the day in the "labor States."

I'LL TELL PA WHEN HE COMES HOME.—A friend of ours, who had taken pride for several years in cultivating a full crop of hair on his face, was called away from home on business some time since. While absent, an inexperienced barber spoiled his whiskers in trimming them, which so chagrined him that he directed the barber to make a clean job of it by shaving whiskers and moustache off. The barber obeyed, and our friend's face was as smooth and delicate as when in his teens.—He returned home in the night. Next morning his little girl did not recognize him on waking up. Looking over her mother, and seeing, as she supposed, a stranger in the bed, she remarked, in her childish simplicity, "Mister, get out of here; I'll tell my pa on you when he comes home!"

WETTER THAN ALL OTHERS.
LAVATER'S COSMETIC, CHAS. N. Y.,
June 23d, 1859.
Messrs. W. E. Hagan & Co.,—Gentl: My hair having turned prematurely grey, and being now falling to waste "all over my locks" in my painful days, I have tried various preparations which were highly recommended for restoring hair to its original color, among others Prof. Wood's Hair Restorer, but found them all more or less inefficient, and very expensive, until about a year ago I recommended using Hagen's Hair Restorative prepared by you, which I found to be all that good restorative could be.
In view of my hair to its original beauty, and keeps it soft and silky, and the expense is so trifling that it seems nothing at all after continually drawing upon my funds to keep myself supplied with Prof. Wood's for the year previous, and after all my pains receiving no benefit. Therefore, I take pleasure in recommending your Hair Restorative to the public as a cheap and efficient Hair Restorer. Yours truly,
WM. F. WESTWORTH.
Onondaga County, as Subscribed and sworn before me, this 23d day of June, 1859.
H. S. COLE, Justice.
Remember that this result was produced by Hagen's Hair Restorative, the original and only reliable Hair Restorative. Price fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

June 23d, 1859.
Messrs. W. E. Hagan & Co.,—Gentl: My hair having turned prematurely grey, and being now falling to waste "all over my locks" in my painful days, I have tried various preparations which were highly recommended for restoring hair to its original color, among others Prof. Wood's Hair Restorer, but found them all more or less inefficient, and very expensive, until about a year ago I recommended using Hagen's Hair Restorative prepared by you, which I found to be all that good restorative could be.
In view of my hair to its original beauty, and keeps it soft and silky, and the expense is so trifling that it seems nothing at all after continually drawing upon my funds to keep myself supplied with Prof. Wood's for the year previous, and after all my pains receiving no benefit. Therefore, I take pleasure in recommending your Hair Restorative to the public as a cheap and efficient Hair Restorer. Yours truly,
WM. F. WESTWORTH.
Onondaga County, as Subscribed and sworn before me, this 23d day of June, 1859.
H. S. COLE, Justice.
Remember that this result was produced by Hagen's Hair Restorative, the original and only reliable Hair Restorative. Price fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.
Sold in Wilmington by W. H. Lippitt, H. McNeil, and by all Druggists.
