PHIDAY, MARCH 1, 1861.

be had every, day, on soon, as issued, at Whitaken's Book Bronn, Marker Braker. Also at Kelley's Book R, and at this office.

The Election,

tion, with its excitements, is over, for at at least, and we have now only to await the alt. Yesterday everything passed off quietly here, with less feeling than might have been expected, although the vote was nearly a full one. Throughout the county the vote was large, as will be seen by the fig-" Convention" carries the county largely. Of course, Messrs. Ashe and Cowan are elected by very desided majorities. Indeed, nobody expected any other result. New Hanover is very decidedly a secession county. The result, therefore, was not brought about by personal preferences, but was in accordance simply with the views of the voters upon the question before m, for we know gentlemen on both sides yesterday who voted, not by any means as their personal predilections would have led them, but against these predilections, simply on principle. The very large vote for tion also shows that, among the supporters of Mosers. Wright and Dawson, a majority must have gone for " Convention," thus redeeming the pledge that their candidates had made previously in public meeting. No doubt the gentlemen voted for also redeemed this pledge by their own votes. The very full vote in the precincts outside of town, especially in view of the fact that there was no other election pending to draw the voters out, shows the strong and deep interest lelt in this question by the citizens of this county. The majority for Conention will be about fitteen hundred.

Brunswick county has, no doubt, elected Mr. Meares, onist, as the delegate to the Convention. We have only reports from the following preceinets :- North West gives Mr. Baker, "Union," 24 majority. The vote on Covention is 125 for Convention and 13 against it. Town Creek gives Convention 52 majority and Mr. Baker 39 majority. Brunswick has unquestionably gone largely for " Convention," and has pretty certainly lected Mr. Mearen.

In Duplin Mesers. Houston and Rhodes, secessionists had no opposition. In 4 precincts on the line of the railroad 420 votes were polled for Convention and only three against it. Duplin will probably give at leas 1300 majority for Convention, Wayne county goes largely for Convention. Thompson and Strong, secessionists, are no doubt elected by a large majority. This is almost a matter of course.

A friend writes us that the vote in Wilson, a part of old Edgecombe, was 300 for Convention-none against it. John L. Bridgers, 285; K. Thigpen, 281-no op-

A private despatch received here, says that Johnston Wake, Orange, Alamance and Rowan have gone for Union. Guilford almost unanimous against Conven-Wake has probably given a majority for Con-from the indications which have been received so far, that the State will go for Convention. It is true we apprehend a large opposition vote in some of the central counties, but we think the West will be all right, and the East goes so overwhelmingly for Convention that we hardly see how it can be defeated.

A gentleman who got here since twelve o'clock reports all the precincts in Brunswick heard from but one -Waccamaw. So far as heard from Mr. Meares was 56 ahead. The vote of Waccamaw will not affect the resuit. Mr. Meares is certainly elected.

The election and its excitements are over for the present, as we have already remarked, but they are not closed. If we are to have a Convention, it will be difficult to tell exactly its composition, there are so many " contingent secessionists" or contingent Union men. and there are so many circumstances upon which their action may be contingent, that even after the Convention has assembled, there will be no precise criterion by which to judge of its distinctive character or decide upon its position with reference to Union or secession, and even after the Convention has acted, which it will not probably go before the middle of April, its action or the ordinances it may pass will have to be advertised for something like a month-then a popular vote taken on them and the result of that vote announced by the Governor of the State. It will be hard to tell where we quently ordered the hall to be closed. stand before the first of June, even if it can be done then, and in the mean time the public mind will be kept in a state of suspense and irritation, which we would gladly see dispensed with. We were pleased that the election took place yesterday rather than a week hence, because we saw that some embittered feelings were being engendered, which might have got full swing had the canvass been protracted for another week. As it is and was, there was a decided absence of rancour or party animosity-certainly there was no display of any.

THE CONGRESS at Montgomery has passed a Bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to borrow fifteen millions of dollars, by the issue of bonds and stocks payable in ten years, and bearing an interest of eight per cent. per annum. For the payment of the principal and interest of this sum, there is to be levied, from and after the first of August pext, an export tax of one-eighth of a cent per pound on all raw cotton exported from the Confederacy. The average of bales in the Gulf States is nearer five hundred pounds than anything else; but taking 450 pounds as safe figures, and assuming that as and Texas will join the Confederacy, of which there is now little doubt, and that before the first of great, it is fair to place the exports at three millions and a half of bales, the States not already seceded making bably five to six hundred thousand bales, which is calculation for them. Taking, then, three millions and a half of bales at 55 cents a bale, we would have one million nine hundred and twenty-five thousand lars, probably we might say two million

This is a very trifling tax, but we look upon any export tax as had policy. The whole European world is ery naturally looking for some new cotton region, and and gladly come forward to assist any parties who es with any fair hopes of success. This does not imply hostility to us. We all know that no suits likes to be dependent on one et alone, and yet, virtually, Europe and especially endent upon one market for cotton. In a certainly no discrimination ought to be hade against ourselves, and yet an export duty is, so far as it goes, a discrimination, since it adds just so much to the cost of the article and places it at just so much illudvantage when competing in foreign markets.

werer, until the South becomes an importing as an exporting community, she can only raise revby direct taxation or by export duties.

A bill has also been passed by the Congress for the rganization of forces for the Confederated States, authorizing the President to assume control over all military operations in every State-to accept the serplanteers now in the service of the different States, requiring them to serve for twelve months, and to receive from the several States the arms and ammu nition acquired from the United States, and which are now in any of the forts, argenals or navy yards of said

Corros.-We have got in our office a little the great est Cotton stalk we have yet seen. We don't know bow much Cotton there is on it, but there is a great deal .-It is really a sight.

The plant was laid on our table by Mr. MALCON Mc INNIS, of this place, who is agent for the sale of the seed. It was grown in Georgia, and is called " Dixon's Select Cotton," Mr. Dixon, of Oxford, Ga , states that be has selected and improved this cotton until he has succeeded in raising a stalk only 4 feet high, with 523 bolls, and another only 26 inches high, with 211 bolls. We can be lieve it after looking at the specimen before us. If Cotton is King, it is certainly one of the royal family, the Prince of Wales, perhaps.

TELEGRAPH.

FOR THE DAILY JOURNAL.

FROM WASHINGTON. WASHINGTON CITY, March 1st, 1861.

The proposition of the Peace Congress passed th House yesterday by more than a two-thirds vote. The House reconsidered the vote of Wednesday of Corwin's proposition for joint resolutions of Congress recommending the State Legislatures to smend the Constitution, to the effect that Congress shall have no power to interfere with slavery in the States.

Mr. Stanton's force bill was then moved for reconsideration. Mr. S. would recognize the independence of the Confederate States sooner than go to war with them. His object was to keep the border States in the Union; the republican party ought to make secrifices for them.

Mr. Corwin's resolution was then voted on, and carried by over two-thirds, amid prolonged and rapturous applause on the floor and in the galleries.

SENATE .- Mr. Crittenden, from the Select Commit tee, reported back the Peace Congress propositions, with recommendation that they be submitted to the State Legislatures.

THE CABINET OF PRESIDENT DAVIS .- The selection of Cabinet officers, thus far made, are eminently judicious. It would be superfluous were we to speak of Mr. Toombe as a man of first class ability as a statesman, and a mus of extensive attainments. In the legal profession, and in the halls of legislation, he has long towered among the leading intellects of the country, and the impress of his genius and learning has been seen and felt not alon in this State, where his earliest triumphs have been schieved, but throughout the Republics of America. A man of boldness and energy, of laborious habits of study, apted to counsel the Chief Executive, and ald him upon all questions, domestic and foreign. In the latter departments of service be is especially valuable, from his intimate knowledge of questions which will be involved in our future relations with foreign' countries.

Mr. Memminger is but little known to the country a large, though his labors in public service, as his energies and his intellect, have been mainly devoted to his native State. But then he has for a quarter of a century held a leading position in the legal profession, and as the trusted legislator for a considerable portion of that time in the legislative halls of South Carolina. The repre sentative of her great commercial interests, he has thorough training for the responsible position assigned him. The fiscal interests of the Confederate States will be in able and safe hands while superintended by a man of the high mental and moral qualifications of Mr. Mem-
