REMARKS

MR. RICHARDSON, OF BLADEN, On the 31st, on the motion to refer Mr. Latham's bill for the relief of the People to an appropriate Committee.

Mr. Richardson said—That he had so frequently heretofore had the indulgence of the House, that he felt almost ashamed again to venture to address it, but he felt it due to himself, as a sincere advocate of relief, and to his constituents and the people of the State at large who required it, particularly inasmuch as upon a question of privilege he deemed it necessary), that he should again speak. He was an advo-cate of relief,—had advocated it at home in the canvass, had promised his constituents to give them, as far as lay in his power, all the constitutional protection which might be afforded them. He had not been recreant to the trust; he had invariably, un-Marriage, Death and Obitnary Notices are waveringly, constantly sought so to do, and he intended not to relax, in one jot or tittle, from the full, faithful and final discharge of what he considered to be his duty to the entire people of the State. They had, previously to the convening of the Legislature, demanded some stay, of a substantial character, of the debts which the misfortrnes of war had rendered them unable to pay at once, and since we had assembled this demand had come up, and was daily com- Zachariah Chandler r ing up, from every portion of the State.— He had heeded it, he intended to heed it, and if it became necessary, in order to re-lieve the people of North Carolina from the ruinous consequences incident to the speedy collection of their old debts, to abolish the civil jurisdiction of the Courts, he, for one, was prepared to do so. Yea, even though, as a member of the legal profession whereby he made his living, he deprived his children of their daily bread, and thereby, for the future, brought upon 10 Wm H Robertson, r himself the curse of the fall, "In the sweat 11 Chas H Van Wyck, r of thy face shall thou eat bread all the days of 13 thy life."

But he was not, at this stage of the bill, prepared to vote upon it. He asked time to consider it, and for this purpose—that 18 James M Marvin, r we might vote understandingly,—he should 19 Wm C Fields, r vote to refer the bill to the Judiciary Com- 20 A H Laffin, r mittee. He wished to be understood in so 21 Roscoe Conkling, voting. He had read, in the Standard, of 23 Dennis McCarthy, r yesterday, an anonymous article intended, 24 T M Pomeroy, r it occurred to him, to lay at the door of the 25 Wm H Kelsey, r Judiciary Committee, and to the lawyers of 26 Wm 8 Lincoln, this body who composed the same, the en- 28 Lewis Selye, r tire blame or fault in not having prepared 29 Burt Van Horn, r or completed some measure for the relief 30 J.M. Such was not the ase. Gentlemen are not charitable. Let those who are not lawyers, remember that if they, in ignorance of the Constitution, chance to violate it by their votes, public charity will excuse them, and it may be 10 A G Burr, c said, "Excuse them, for they know not 11 Sam'l Marshall, c what they do." Not so with us. We are 12 John Baker, r presumed to know the law, and should we At large, J A Logan, r vote in violation of the sacred oath which, as members we took " to support the Constitution of the State of North Carolina, not inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States," we will be tried and convicted, upon this presumption, by the great moral sentiment of society. The friends of the bill need not fear this reference. He was satisfied that there was not a member of the committee who would 11 Jno P C Shanks, r not quickly yield every consideration of insuspended and a resolution in favor of the Sheriff of North Carolina, if, in so doing, they violated no duty nor compromised no feeling of honor and morality. Why should gentlemen fear this test.— They wish to give relief,—he wished to give relief, but he desired to give them more than an unsubstantial pageant, which might dissolve before the Constitution and leave not a wreck behind. He loved the people of his State. When they cried out to him for something to give them hope and encouragement, he wished to give them something, but when he should give a fish, he would not trifle with their situation by offering a stone. He was not declaiming for the ear of "Buncombe." He needed no such aids. He never expected to come before his people again for legislative honors. but he intended to discharge his duty towards them, nevertheless, and when they greet him upon his return, as he believed they would, with the plaudit of "well done good and faithful servant," whether he should ask them to extend to him the promise extended in the remaining portion Bill to encourage emigration came up on its second reading, and on motion of Mr. Love, it of the parable or not, he will have the second reading, and on motion of Mr. Love, it proud satisfaction to know that he has at least attempted to discharge his duties towards them.

The New York Tribune, in a brief article on the subject of paper, as affected by the tariff, makes the remark that if "there had been a duty of forty or fifty per cent. upon that article, with no fear of its reduction, the price of paper would have long since been cheapened by the erection of new mills or the enlargement of old ones." It Bill to incorporate the North Carolina Dental Association came up. On motion of Mr. Wilson, it was amended. Some discussion ensued, and on the last three or four years under a tariff the last three or four years under a tariff rate of twenty per cent. On this the Philadelphia Ledger aptly remarks: "In its first proposition the Tribune seems to take it for committee on Corporations, to incorporate the American Mining and Manufacturing Company, proposing sundry amendments and recommending its passage.

On motion of Mr. Speed, the Senate adjourned but in that it is mistaken, for the recent partition of the control report of Mr. Wells shows that there has been a large increase in the number, whilst there has been no corresponding decrease in the price of paper. This increa e in the number of mills, it must be borne in mind, A message was received from the Governor, transmitting a report from the President and Directors of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad was under the present rate of duty. And others are Daily Applying. THE principle of LIFE INSURANCE has become so well demonstrated, that it is hardly necessary at this day to go into an argument in its dear ones dependent upon his existence, is in fact, overlooking, if not violating, one of the most important duties of life, in not guarding them against want, and protecting them. support. Every individual who has a fai want, and protecting them from poverty, should death deprive them of his support and assistance. On an INSURANCE POLICY, procured at a small on an INSURANCE POLICY, procured at a small premium, a requisite sum is secured in case of death, to provide them with subsistence through life. Securing such a policy not only makes life pass more pleasantly, but will bring to the death-bed the happy consolation that your wife and children will not be left destitute, or to THE COLD. CHEERLESS SYMPATHY OF AN UNCHARITA-BLE WORLD. To those whose good impulses ar moved to this accomplishment for their family

JULES JARED'S " EMAIL DE PARIS." The New Beautifier of the Skin. TESTIMONIALS FROM CELEBRATED LADIES

TESTIMONIALS FROM CELEBRATED LADIES:

THIS secret of beautifying the skin bring known only to Mesers, Jared & Rene, they honorably state that it differs from all other preparations. It gives to the most harsh and freckled skin both the texture and color of potished iyory, removing all discolorations, whether appearing as freckles, tan, morphew, moth, or black worm specks, and is especially successful in amouthing out the marks left by the small pox.

The agents of "L'Email de Paris" most confidently submit to the public the earnest endorsements of such distinguished ladies as SIGNORA RISTORI, M'ile FELIGITA VESTVALI, Miss MAGGIE M'ITCHELL, Mrs. D. P. BOW-ERS, LUCILLE WESTERN, Mdm's PONISI, Mrs. EMMA WALLER, LUCY BUSHTON, NOEMIE DE MARGUERITTES, Miss AGNESS PERRY, and many others, whose high standing in the profession gives the stamp of truthfulness to their intelligent and genuine approval.

The Beautiful Lucille Western says:—

I find that the "Email" produces all the brilliancy of rouge and lily-white, with the great and peculiar advantage of total harmiesenses. It really adds to the softness and beauty of the skin.

The Magnificent Vestvali says:—

I have suffered so much from the various white lotions, &c., which my theatrical profession obliges me to use, that I consider it a perfect liene-faction to find a preparation which gives the necessary whiteness to the skin, and leaves the skin cool and smooth.

Miss Maggie Mitchell says:— THIS secret of beautifying the skin being and smooth.

Miss Maggie Mitchell says:

I have tried the skin beautifier, "L'Email de Paris," and found that it instantly imparts a natural bloom and freshness to the complexion. ral bloom and freshness to the complexion.

"Jared's Email de Paris" is used as a delicate beautifier of the skin for Theatre, Selcon or Ball Room, by the most refined and scrappious ladies; producing all the beautifying effects of rouge and lily white, without their vulgar glare or injury to the skin.
