An Arctic Adventure... Encounter with an Iceberg.

Dr. Hays, in his new work, "The Open Polar Sea," thus relates a dangerous encounter with an iceberg :

Giving too little heed to the currents, we were eagerly watching the indications of wind which appeared at the south and James Guthrie, c hoping for a breeze, when it was discovered that the tide had changed and was stealthily setting us upon a nest of bergs which W.P Fessenden, r. lay to leeward. One of them was of that description known among the crew by the significant title of "touch-me-not," and presented that jagged, honeycomb appear- Reverdy Johnson, c ance, indicative of great age. In such a trap it seemed, however, that we stood a fair chance of being ensnared. The current was carrying us a ong at an uncomfortably rapid rate. A boat was lowered as quickly as possible, to run out a line to a berg which ay grounded about a hundred yards from us. While this was being done we grazed the side of a berg which rose a hundred feet above our topmasts, and then slipped past another of smaller dimensions. By purfling against county, the proceedings of a them with our icepoles we changed somewhat the course of the schooner; but when protection of the debtor and to protect property we thought that we were steering clear of sold under execution. Referred to the committee the mass which we so much dreaded, an the mass which we so much dreaded, an eddy changed the direction of our drift, and carried us almost broadcast upon it.

The schooner struck on the starboard 19 Wm C Fields, r quarter, and the shock, slight though it 20 A H Laflin, r was, disengaged some fragments of ice that it was of importance, but that if private cap- that were large enough to have crushed the ital could not accomplish the purpos s contempia- vessel had they struck her, and also many 21 T M Pomeroy, r little lumps which rattled about us; but for- 25 Wm H Keisey, r finds to secure it. The berg now began to revole, and was settling slowly over us; the little lumps Courts and the rules of pleading therein, reported | fell thicker and faster upon the after deck, there was the least chance of safety. At length the berg itself saved us from destruction. An immense mass broke off from toat part which was beneath the surface of the sea, and this a dozen times larger than the schooner, came rushing up within a few yards of us, sending a vast volume of foam and water flying from its sides. 10 A G Burr, c sage of a resolution making appropriation to pay This rupture arrested the revolution, and the berg began to settle in the opposite direction. And now came another danger .-A long tongue was protruding immediately underneath the schooner, already the keel was slipping and grinding upon it, and it seemed probable that we should be knocked up into the air like a foot ball, or at least bill to authorize the issue of new bonds in place of capsized. the dignity of the quarter deck. After we had fatigued ourselves at this hard labor without any useful result, the berg came again to our relief. A loud report at first startled us ; another and anoth mitting a communication from the Governor, en-closing a correspondence from the board of Edu cation and Literary fund, with a proposition to seemed a reservoir of frightful sound. The opposite side of the berg had split off piece mitting a message from the Governor covering a lafter piece, tumbling a vast volume of ice report from the Attorney General relating to the into the sea, and sending the berg revolving Cape Fear Navigation Company, proposing to re- back upon us. This time the movement was quicker; fragments began again to fall, and Hall, Williams and Lloyd as the senate branch of already sufficiently startled by the alarming dissolution which had taken place, we were in momentary expectation of seeing the Bill to change the jurisdiction of the Courts and whole side nearest to us break loose and crash bodily on the schooner, in which event she would inevitably be carried down beneath it, as hopelessly doomed as a shepherd's hut beneath an Alpine avalanche. By this time Dodge, who had charge of the boat had succeeded in planting an ice dici-l system. Mr McLean thought the idea a mehor and attaching his rope, and greetgood one, but feared action on this subject would ed us with the welcome signal, " Haul in. Slowly mining the committee, at farthest, to report by and steadily the berg sank behind us, carrying away the main boom and grazing hard against the quarter. But we were safe. Twenty yards away, and the disruption occurring, the aves and nays were called, and the curred which we had all so much dreaded. The side nearest to us now split off, and came plunging wildly down into the sea, sending over us a shower of spray, raising

At last we succeeded in extricating ourselves, and were far enough away to look back calmly upon the object of our terror. It was still rocking and rolling like a thing of life. At each revolution fresh masses were disengaged, and, as its sides came up in long sweeps, great cascades tumbled and leaped from them hissing into the foaming sea. After several hours it settled down icy of legislation to authorize Executors, &c., into quietude, a mere fragment of its formin certain cases, to sell notes of hand, bonds, etc., er greatness, while the pieces that were broken from it floated quietly away with

ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE CO.

OF HARTFORD, CONN., HAIR NETS AND COILS And others are Daily Applying. THE principle of LIFE INSURANCE has become so well demonstrated, that it is hardly necessary at this day to go into an argument in its support. Every individual who has a family or dear ones dependent upon his existence, is in fact, overlooking, if not violating, one of the most im-portant duties of life, in not guarding them against want, and protecting them from poverty, should death deprive them of his support and assistance. On an INSURANCE POLICY, procured at a small premium, a requisite sum is secured in case of leath, to provide them with subsistence through death, to provide them with subsistence through life. Securing such a policy not only makes life pass more pleasantly, but will bring to the death-bed the happy consolation that your wife and children will not be left destitute, or to THE COLD, CHEERLESS SYMPATHY OF AN UNCHARITABLE WORLD. To those whose good impulses are moved to this accomplishment for their family's future protestion.

bereaved loved ones. After the 2nd year 50 per cent, Dividends is paid to Policy holders every year during Life, and at death the Policy is paid to survivors.

Risks on ages from 14 to 65 years are taken for a term of years or the WHOLE TERM OF LIFE on amounts from $1,000 to $10,000, and the rates are regulated according to age. THIS PROVI-SION CANNOT BE TAKEN FOR DEET, BUT GOES TO THE FAMILY OR OTHER DEPEND-ENTS FOR THEIR SPECIAL USE AND SUP-PORT. Nothing can possibly be gained by delay in this duty and much may be lost. Of two courses, one of which may leave your family or dependent friends destitute, and the other ASSURES them a comfortable support at your decease; can there be a doubt which is to be chosen? Every one knows that if the pressure of the times bears hard upon a man in the fulness of his strength, it will be far more severe upon a woman and children left at s ch a conjuncture as this without resources or protector, and it is easier for a man to pay his premium than for his family to live without his aid and without means.
