

DAILY JOURNAL.

OLDEST DAILY IN THE STATE.

KNOWLEDGE AND PRICE, Proprietors.

ADVERTISING RATES DAILY.

Table with 4 columns: Day, Line, Per Line, Per Square. Lists advertising rates for various durations and space sizes.

WEEKLY JOURNAL.

ESTABLISHED SEPTEMBER, 1844.

One year, ten lines or less, for each and every insertion.

Special Notices will be charged 25 per square, for each and every insertion.

THE DAILY JOURNAL.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1867.

ORDER FOR THE ELECTION.

HONORS 2d MILITARY DISTRICT.

CHAMBERLAIN, S. C., Oct. 18th, 1867.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 101.

By the terms of the act of Congress entitled "An act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," passed March 2d, 1867, and the acts of March 23d and July 14th, 1867, supplementary thereto, it is made the duty of the Commanding General of this Military District to cause a registration to be made of the male inhabitants of the State of North Carolina, of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, and qualified by the terms of said acts to vote, and after such registration is complete, to order an election to be held at which the registered voters of said State shall vote for or against a Convention, for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for the said State, loyal to the Union, and for delegates to said Convention, and to give at least thirty days' notice of the time and place at which said election shall be held; and the said registration having been completed in the State of North Carolina, it is ordered:

First: That an election be held in the State of North Carolina, commencing on Tuesday, the 19th day of November, 1867, and ending on Wednesday, the 20th day of November, 1867, at which all registered voters of said State may vote "For a Convention," or "Against a Convention," and for delegates to constitute the Convention, in case a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a Convention, and in case a majority of the registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such Convention.

Second: It shall be the duty of the Boards of Registration in North Carolina, commencing fourteen days prior to the election herein ordered, and giving reasonable public notice of the time and place thereof, to revise for a period of five days the registration lists, and upon being satisfied that any person not entitled thereto has been registered, to strike the name of such person from the list; and each person shall not be entitled to vote, the Board of Registration shall also, during the same period, add to such registers the names of all persons who at that time possess the qualifications required by said acts—who have not already been registered.

Third: In deciding who are to be stricken from or added to the registration lists, the Boards will be guided by the law of March 2d, 1867, and the laws supplementary thereto, and their attention is specially directed to the Supplementary act of July 19th, 1867.

Fourth: The said election will be held in each district at such places as may hereafter be designated, under the superintendence of the Boards of Registration as provided by law, and in accordance with the instructions hereafter to be given to said Boards in conformity with the acts of Congress, and as far as may be with the laws of North Carolina.

Fifth: All judges and clerks employed in conducting said election, shall, before commencing to hold the same, be sworn to the faithful performance of their duties, and shall also take and subscribe the oath of office prescribed by law for officers of the United States.

Sixth: The polls shall be opened at such voting places at eight o'clock, in the forenoon of each day, and shall be kept open during these hours without interruption or suspension.

Seventh: No member of the Board of Registration, who is a candidate for election as a delegate to the Convention, shall serve as a judge of the election in any county or district which he seeks to represent.

Eighth: The Sheriff and other peace officers of each county are required to be present during the whole time that the polls are kept open, and until the election is completed, and will be made responsible that there shall be no interference with judges of elections or other interruption of good order. If there should be more than one polling place in any county, the Sheriff of the county is empowered and directed to make such assignments of his deputies and other peace officers to the different polling places as may be judged best to preserve the purposes of the law, and order; and he is further required to report such assignments in advance to the Commander of the Military Post in which his county is situated.

Ninth: Violence, or threats of violence, or of discharge from employment, or other oppressive means to prevent any person from registering, or exercising his right of voting, is positively prohibited, and any such attempt will be reported by the registrars or judges of elections to the Post Commander, and will cause the arrest and trial of the offenders by military authority.

Tenth: All bar-rooms, saloons and other places for the sale of liquors by retail, will be closed from 6 o'clock of the evening of the 18th of November, until 6 o'clock of the morning of the 21st of November, 1867, and during this time the sale of all intoxicating liquors at or near any polling place is prohibited. The police officers of cities and towns, and the sheriffs and other peace officers of counties, will be held responsible for the strict enforcement of this prohibition, and will promptly arrest and hold for trial all persons who may transgress it.

Eleventh: Military interference with elections, "unless it shall be necessary to repel the armed enemies of the United States, or to keep the peace at the polls," is prohibited by the act of Congress approved February 25th, 1865, and no soldiers will be allowed to appear at any polling place unless as citizens of the State they are qualified and are registered as voters, and then only for the purpose of voting; but the Commanders of Posts will keep their troops well in hand on the days of election, and will be prepared to act promptly if the civil authorities are unable to preserve the peace.

Twelfth: The returns required by law to be made to the Commander of the District of the results of this election, will be rendered by the Boards of Registration of the several registration precincts through the Commanders of the Military Posts in which their precincts are situated, and in accordance with the detailed instructions hereto after to be given.

Thirteenth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Fourteenth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Fifteenth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Sixteenth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Seventeenth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Eighteenth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Nineteenth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Twentieth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Twenty-first: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Twenty-second: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Twenty-third: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Twenty-fourth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Twenty-fifth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Twenty-sixth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Twenty-seventh: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Twenty-eighth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Twenty-ninth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Thirtieth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Thirty-first: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Thirty-second: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Thirty-third: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Thirty-fourth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Thirty-fifth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Thirty-sixth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Thirty-seventh: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Thirty-eighth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Thirty-ninth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Fortieth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Forty-first: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Forty-second: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Forty-third: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Forty-fourth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Forty-fifth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Forty-sixth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Forty-seventh: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Forty-eighth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Forty-ninth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Fiftieth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Fifty-first: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Fifty-second: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Fifty-third: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Fifty-fourth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Fifty-fifth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Fifty-sixth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Fifty-seventh: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Fifty-eighth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Fifty-ninth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Sixtieth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Sixty-first: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Sixty-second: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Sixty-third: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Sixty-fourth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Sixty-fifth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Sixty-sixth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Sixty-seventh: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Sixty-eighth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Sixty-ninth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Seventieth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Seventy-first: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Seventy-second: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Seventy-third: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Seventy-fourth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Seventy-fifth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Seventy-sixth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Seventy-seventh: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Seventy-eighth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Seventy-ninth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Eightieth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Eighty-first: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Eighty-second: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Eighty-third: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Eighty-fourth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Eighty-fifth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Eighty-sixth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Eighty-seventh: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Eighty-eighth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Eighty-ninth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Ninetieth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Ninety-first: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Ninety-second: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Ninety-third: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Ninety-fourth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Ninety-fifth: The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law, and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for this year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters.

Mercantile.

A. DAVID & CO.,

27 Market St.,

WILMINGTON, N. C.

THE OLDEST AND LARGEST HOUSE

IN THE CITY, which manufactures its OWN

CLOTHING, has just received a large stock of

MEN AND BOYS' CLOTHING,

such as

BEAVER BUSINESS SUITS,

CASSIMERE BUSINESS SUITS,

BEAVER OVERCOATS,

BLACK FROCK COATS,

BLACK SACK COATS,

BLACK DOESKIN COATS,

BLACK DOESKIN PANTS,

FANCY CASSIMERE PANTS,

GRENADINE, VELVET,

SILK AND SATIN VESTS,

BLACK CLOTH PANTS AND VESTS,

BLACK DOESKIN VESTS,

YOUTHS' AND BOYS' CLOTHING.

OUR DEPARTMENT FOR

MERCHANT TAILORING

stands unrivaled, as we have made it our study to secure the latest and choicest patterns of PLAIN

AND FANCY CASSIMERE and VESTINGS expressly for CUSTOM WORK.

GENTS FURNISHING GOODS

of all descriptions,

SHIRTS, COLLARS,

UNDERSHIRTS, DRAWERS,

GLOVES, HOSIERY, &c., &c.

HATS! HATS!

Gentlemen are invited to call and examine our fine assortment of HATS of various qualities and styles.

CITY AND COUNTRY BUYERS