FRIDAY, March 19, 1869. Mr. Barnett from the Committee on Cor. porations, reported favorably upon the bill to incorporate the Fayetteville Co opera-tion Land and Building Association.— Placed upon the Calendar. UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Mr. Vestal moved to postpone until the School bill was passed.

Mr. Durham said he hoped the motion to stpone would prevail. He was opposed to giving a single cent until the Common School bill was passed. He did not think it was just to the people of the State to vote money to support in idleness a half dozen Professors. There were, probably, about a half dozen pupils entered at that Institution up to the present, and there was no reason why this large sum should be appropriated. The Constitution made the University a part and parcel of the Common Schools. Yet this bill proposes to give money to the University as a sep-arate establishment, when there is no necessity for it under the sun, &c.

Mr. Ellington opposed the motion. He thought the gentlemen of the opposite side were trying to make this a party question, &c. They (the Republicans) should unite upon this measure, and if there was ever a time when the party lash should be cracked, it was now, &c.
Mr. Vestal said he made the motion to postpone, for he thought the poor people of the State should be protected. He concurred with the gentleman from Cleveland (Mr. Durham), in thinking that the Common School bill should pass before this appropriation was made, &c. No party appropriation was made, ac. holash should be cracked over his head. wished it to be distinctly understood that he was no Radical Republican, but a moderate one, and when a measure was presented he thought right and proper he hould support it whether it emanated from a Democratic or Republican source,

J. S. Leary, colored, also favored the motion to postpone.

Mr. Shoffner offered the same amendment to this bill that he did to the Wilmington and Plymouth Road.

Mr. Shoffner said he expected the amendment would be voted down-he desired to make a record of this matter as a Representative of the people—he was op-posed to taxing the people without their consent. He referred to the Convention that passed the ordinance of secession, and the action of that Convention withholding from the the people the privilege of voting on said ordinance. He characterized the ordinance and the action of the Convention as diabolical, &c.

Mr. Martindale reminded Mr. S. that the Resolution directing the Treasurer to pay R. S. Tucker and others certain claims held by them against the State was taken up, res.l, and debated at length.

Mr. Lindsay advocating the justness of the claims—Mr. Brogdan, in a lengthy speech, opposing them, and charging Senators with having been button holed by Mr. Tucker, invited to his store, and thus influenced to believe the claims just, Mr. Welker replied sharply to Mr. Broglen—he, Mr. W., denied that he had been button-holed "—he referred to Mr. Broglen's position as a State officer during the rebellion-now Mr. Brogden had turned State's evidence, and such evidence he wa disposed to doubt.

He characterized Mr. Brogdon's attack upon Mr. Tucker-by calling him, Tucker, Shylock and Sharper-as indecent and unkind.

Mr. Davis defended his position as a friend of the claims—the evidence that the claims were just satisfied him, &c. He Wayne upon Mr. Tucker and others, in calling them Sbylocks and Sharpers, as rather unmanly.
