THE DAILY JOURNAL

WILMINGTON, N. C. TUESDAY, MARCH 1, 1870.

For the Journal,

Messrs. Editors :- In the Weekly Journal of February 18th, appears a very interesting letter from my fellow-countyman, Louis Freelich, Eeq., giving a glowing description of the "fruit and grape growing in opposition to this amendment, and business of Eastern North Carolina," and urged the adoption of the resolution imif I did not know my friend Froelich to be a gentleman of sober and exemplary christian habits, I should suppose from his excommittees any how, and could not see article immediately after coming out of the But aside from all pleasantry, do the savo. Guilford had anything to communicate he cates of extensive grape growing and wine could go before that committee. making ever stop to consider the misery the land? When I read Mr. Froelich's letter I could not help asking myself, whose sons and daughters of our already afflicted country are to become the victims of drunkenness and crime by the use of this vast voting in the affirmative are quantity of wine which is soon to be thrown upon the market ?

Will not an increase of wine cause an increase of intemperance ? I think it will, chair designated Messrs. Welker, Love and The exploded argument "that men will drink something, and therefore it is better Governor for information concerning the to drink wine than whiskey," is in my opinion a poor excuse for flooding the land with a beverage more pleasant to the taste. and therefore more likely to make drunkards than whiskey. If a man is to be poisoned, it matters but little whether you give him arsenie or stricknine, the object will be accomplished in either case. So with the poor drunkard. It makes no difference whether his first glass was wine or corn whiskey. Go on with your wine bus-iness. Enter the house of God upon the Sabbath day, look solemn and read pray-ers, then through the week make your-selves busy in the work of manufacturing vine with which to make drunkards, but know that for all this God will bring you into judgment." Hell enlarges its borders, a vast harvest of poor drankards is to be made from the millions of gallons of wine soon to be sent from the wine presses of Eastern North Carolina.

To say that a general use of wine will promote temperature is about as sensible.

promote temperance, is about as sensible as to say that a general practice of idleness will bring prosperity and happiness.
