Republicanism a Rope of Sand_Democra cy a Compact, Well-Organized Body. WASHINGTON, June 5, 1870.

The war at an end, the ques tions of administration revive, and the one problem above all others that the Republicans are called upon to solve is The facts concerning the assault upor whether there remains, after the war is closed and the issues growing out of it are settled, a platform broad enough for the elements the war brought together to stand upon harmoniously. If such exists, of liquor. Porter accosted Woods with the party continues alive. If not, it is "How are you, Pat?" and Woods respon-

Porter puts his dead, that there can be but sorrow over linger in his mouth and hurries to Washthe desolation. The brave acts and bright ington to take measures for soothing his passed into history are now the most pre-cious of its brightest pages.

Turning my back upon what I could wish for, and looking with calm, philosophical impartiality upon what is, I am forced to say that there is no more cohesion, beyond mere office holding and public plunder, in the Republican party, than of Congress. It is another of the House. The resolution in itself is an outrage, and without precedent. There is no warrant for the step. The personal attack was no invasion of representative rights, no in fringement of the privileges of a member of Congress. It is another of the little been in Washington, and no such cancus can be held. The fact is significant that no measure of public tinterest passes Conresult may be the triumph of the Democ- ant for Woods to be subjected to Co reserving to the Republican party in Congress is composed of factions in such deadly antagonism to each other that the impudent Radical Congress will persist in hate among themselves is more intense sowing dragon's teeth, it must not be surthan that given the Democracy.

man, and our party, at least, a shrewd being kicked out of the House, there was business, manager, we have a man whose a charitable festival of some sort, and tickignorance of and indifference to public affects of admission were sent to each member of Congress. Whittemore evidently thought fairs excites only contempt. For the first time in the history of our Government, we have seen our President standing hat in hand at the doors of the Senate, begging the passage of a job—and begging in vain. In this San Domingo fraud I have not heard a single prominent man offer a defense of President Grant, that was not based on his ignorance. "Gen. Grant," addressed had a ticket in his pocket, but they say "is a well meaning man, but he fense of President Grant, the based on his ignorance, "Gen. Grant," addressed had a ticket in his pocket, but they say, "is a well meaning man, but he is ignorant as a politician, and therefore liable to be imposed upon by designing member, with no better result. How many more he may have approached is not known.

I wish to say is to be found in the agitation lately experienced over the tariff.—
Had Gen. Grant and his friends possessed a particle 1 of common sense, or any honest desire to continue the Republican party in power, they would have said that there was a question upon which Republicans can honestly differ and yet be Republicans. Therefore let us strive to compromise upon an adjustment that will make some approach to general satisfaction.—
But no, the Administration begins by throwing itself into the arms of the prohibitionists, and ends by persecuting the advocates of free trade. This tall end of the Republican party, this little knot of prohibitionists, is the meanest and most corrupt faction with which we are cursed. White stand in their places, and without blushing, vote money directly into their own pockets, at its tail, we are told that their vile dogms of protection is the platform of the party, and on our bedief in a depends our recognition as Republicans.

It is understood within the last two days that the bonds of Union between this faction and the administration lave been arrangulated. The elict has gone out that the hones which be any in the constituents. They have re-elected him. The linterence is that in his district the thieves are in a majority. The late Republican party is the deadest dead thing above ground. And if the surviving friends wish to retain for it any feelings of respect they to retain for it any feelings of respect they will hasten its funeral. Upon its melancholy tomb let us inscribe this epitaph;

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN.

All women know that it is beauty, rather than genius, which all generations of men have wor-shipped in the sex. Can it be wondered at, then, that so much of woman's time and the state of the kidneys. that so much of woman's time and attention should be directed to the means of developing and preserving that beauty? Women know, too, that when men speak of the intellect of women, they speak critically, tamely, coolly; but when they come to speak of the charms of a beautiful woman, their language and their eyes kindle with an enthusiasm which shows them to be profoundly, if not, indeed, ridiculously in earnest. It is part of the natural sagacity of women to perceive all this, and therefore employ every allowable art to become the goddess of that adoration. Preach to the contrary, as we may, against the arts employed by women for enhancing their beauty, there still stands the eternal fact, that the world does not prefer the society of an ugly woman of genius to that of a beauty of less intellectual acquirements. The world has yet allowed no higher mission to women than to be beautiful, and it would seem that the ladies of the present age are carrying this idea of the world to greater extremes than ever, for all women now to whom nature has denied the talismanic power of beauty, supply the deficiency by the use of a most delightful toilet article, woman, their language and their eyes kindle the present age are carrying this idea of the world to greater extremes than ever, for all women now to whom nature has denied the tallemanic power of beauty, supply the deficiency by the use of a most delightful toilet article, known as the "Bloom of Youth," which has been introduced into this country by Geoner W.
