Indeed, in whatever direction we turn, we find North Carolinlans occupying the ground with credit to themselves and to their State. And still they come. We have now to welcome another aspirant for literary honors, and one, if our judgment be not saily at fault, well worthy.

THE HEBNIT OF PETREA is a tale written by Mrs. JAMES P. IRWIN, of Charlotte, N. C., as she says "with the hope of throwing a charm around the out-of-door life so necessary to invalids." With this object in view the plot and incidents of the story are all, of course, out-of-door life; and yet, in spite of this, the author has interwoven therewith so much theoretical speculation, sustained by such logical deduction, such and so many good authori-ties, that we are surgrised, not only at the ingenuity of the author, but at the extent Secretary.

The pretensions of the writer are not based upon the merits of her book simply as a work of fiction. There is nothing thrilling in it, and yet it is very interesting and very instructive. The impression made upon us in its perusal is that the story is used aimply as a vehicle for bringing before the world the rich fruit of years devoted to thought and study, and to show how the Bifa of an invalid, even, may be made happy to ones self and useful to others.

Horace Greeley's Programme in the Coming Campaign.

NEW YORK, April 9. Mr. Horace Greeley prints the following in the Tribune to-morrow, as to his course in the forthcoming presidential campaign " First. If there shall be Democratic can didates for President and Vice President in the field, we purpose to support the Repub-lican ticket which seems most likely to succeed.

"Second. If the main issue in the can vass shall be Protection against Free Trade, we shall (no matter as to the candidates) be found on the side of protection.

" Third. But if (as we hope and expect) there shall be two Republican tickets, and none other presented with any hope of success, we shall favor that one whose election will be, in our judgment, most likely to promote economy n public expenditure, purity in legislation and administration, substantial unanimity in upholding for all citizens a complete equality of rights under the laws, and hasten the return of fraternal concord and mutual good will between those who were arrayed against each other in sanguinary strife throughout our great civil war. Such is our position, and it will not be affected by the nomination of A or B, C or D at Cincinnati, Philadelphia or elshewhere.' Mr. Greeley further says that the Tribune will not be an organ, and will print no campaign editions whoever may be the candidate.
