24th inst., with Judge Kerr and other listinguished speakers present. A mad dog was killed near Mur-freesboro' last Tuesday. A correspondent of the Weldon News says

Hertford county is full of them. The Raleigh Sentinel says: The strike, it is said grows in strength. It is extending into the rural districts, as we learn, and field hands are demanding $1 50 per day. Prof. R. O. Stevens, the great South American explorer, and Dr. Cheever, of Philadelphia, are soon to visit the for the purpose of exploring its mineral resources.

Among the delegates to the Southern Baptist Convention that was recently in session at Mobile, Ala., were the following from N. C.: Hon, John Kerr, J. M. Collins, M. M. Welsh, J.

B. Boone and J. H. Mills.

Judge Kerr was one of the Vice-Presidents, and Bev. Dr. Wingate, THEY ARE DEFEATED AND President of Wake Forest College, was appointed to preach the Introductory Sermon next year at Atlanta, where the Convention will meet.

The Fayetteville Eagle says: Superior Court began here yesterday for Cumberland. The docket here is the largest on this circuit, and the whole two weeks time is always consumed and the business not finished. Among the business yesterday was the admission of John S. Leary, colored, as attorney at law to practice before the courts of the State. The foreman of the grand jury is W. G. Hall. We have not heard of much business for the grand jury.

We are requested by his Excellency, Governor Caldwell, to state that the election to fill the several vacancies in the Legislature, will take place on the first Thursday in August next. We believe there are two vacancies in the Senate, caused by the resignation of Messrs. Stilley and Respass and two in the House of Representatives oc.

We were sorry to learn that there is a prospect of this strike ex-tending to farm laborers. We hope this is not so, as it will only tend towards throwing back the farmers without gaining for the strikers any cor-

ALPORDSVILLE, N. C., May 12, 1873. Mr. Editor :- On the night of the 5th inst. some devil in human shape visited the residence of Mr. Nathaniel McNair (as good and inoffensive a man as there is in the county) and demanded of him $150. He was informed by Mr. McNair that he could not furnish the money, whereupon he (Mr. Me-Nair) was informed by the villain that McNair sent him a five dollar note by a negro boy, with a message to his adersary that he had no more money, VIRGINIA CITY, NEV., May 21-Noon. The fiend would not allow the boy approach him near enough to hand him the money (for fear of being recognized, we suppose,) but made lay it on the ground and leave it for him to pick up. The dastardly villain then went into the yard and attempted to set fire to Mr. McNair's dairy, but it did not ignite so readily as he sup-posed it would, when he went and set fire to an old dwelling house near by. The flames communicated with other buildings in the yard, and consumed the smoke house, dairy and a loom-house, together with their contents. Mr. McNair's dwelling house narrowly escaped the devouring elements. . There is no clus to the perpetrator of this dastardly deed. Mr. McNair could not get the freedmen in his employ to assist him having been threatened with death ty the incondiary if they did anything to extinguish the fire. Mr. McNair did not get but one glimpse of this dastard-A planter named Butler was killed, ly wretch. He came on the porch before he commenced the burning and demanded of Mr. McNair to be admitted into the house. When Mr. McNair went to get his gun he walked out and got in the dark, and he was only seen by Mr. McNair through the side lights of the door, not sufficient to recognize him. Mr. McNair thinks he was a very bright negro or a mulatto, and thinks he wore a soldier's jacket with straps on the shoulder. Mr. McNair deserves the sympathies of all honest and law-abiding citizens. This calamity falls doubly heavy on him, as he has very recently suffered the loss of his dear wife, and he is alone, without any one to cheer him and help him in his misfortunes. ALFORDSVILLE REPORTER. A Rev. Temperance Lecturer Horsewhipped by a Woman. It is stated that the Rev. Mr. Frazell, of Elmwodd, Ill., a leading temper ance man, in a recent sermon alluded in uncomplimentary terms to Mr. Leslie, a deceased citizen, who had been connected with the liquor business, remarking that the expensive coffin used to inclose the remains of Linville Mountain, in Burke county, the late Leslie "was purchased with the tears and groans of the drunkards families," The widow of the deceased heard these remarks, and, arming herthis section of country are remarkably self with a cowhide, she started out to backward.
