LIETTER FROM REV. DR. YOUNG:

"May 19, 1873.

My Dran Siz.—About ten days since, I received a letter from Miss Bradley, Principal of T. N. School in your city, inquiring into the character of the "Bav." C. W. Warren.—I then gave my belief that he was believe him to be an impossion and accomplished longth—every wave base and rotten—and wish to undeceive Miss Bradley. A mysterious telegram, which came to me Safurday last, signed C. W. Warren, makes me tear that he has bee confidence still, and that a letter from Fall River to her, sent in the usual way, may fall to reach her. I therefore send this enciesed to you, with the request that, as a friend of purity and virtue, you will take the trouble to see that it is, without any chances of mistake, put into Miss Bradley's hand, that she may not be caught in any of the villain's anares. FALL RIVER, MASS.

R. S. Meran, D. D.

Duan Buo.:—Your letter has been received.
I am greatly obliged to you for your long and circumstantial account. It served to clear up several points in regard to which I have been in the dark. I saw Miss Tripps' annt last night. She called upon me to inquire in regard to Warren. She stated that she was present when Mr. Warren asked the girl's father for his daughter as early as hast June; and that Miss Tripp expects to marry him now (see Nota A) has her itomseau all ready. She has received letters from Warren constantly, and he has feeled entitlement in him. He has within two or three weeks written her—so Miss Denne says—that his benfor in New York had falled, and therefore the marriage must be postponed. force the marriage miss be postponed.
War, en has told me repeatedly that he was under to obligations to alise T., and that he had no intention of ever marrying her, yet she

Now, sir, I have this to say: I have stood by Warren in this city when it has cost his some-thing to do so, because I have been both to be-lieve him guilty, and I could find no definite proof for the charges against alm. The seemed to stand alone, and his case excited my sympathy. I know that, as his "best friend," my name has helped to prop his failing fortunes. But that must end. I told him that I should stand by him until I was convinced of his guitt. Information has come in from so many quarters of late—evidence so full and trustworthy—that I am forced to the conclusion that he is as unsafigated a counder of one found. You are at liberty to use this statement as you may see fit. In regard to his trip to Europe, his falsehoods have been of the most outrageous character. (See note B). I have now no reasen to disbelieve other charges for unmoral conduct grouf for the charges against him. He seem character. (See note B). I have now no reason to disbelieve other charges brought signifies him while here—charges of immoral conduct—charges of falsehood.
