Washington, D. C., June 10.-Night. The Postoffice Department has been notified of the ratification by Sweden and Norway of the Postal Convention recently concluded between the United States and those kingdoms.

Two of the former officers of Mosby's battalion have been appointed postal clerks.

Judge Thacker, formerly Commissioner of Patents, has been appointed to represent this Government at the Convention to be called by the Emperor of Austria for discussing the feasibility of an International Patent Law. The massacre of the Modoc captives is severely denounced here by the military and civil authorities. They will both use every means to punish the culprits,

"Lorrimer Littlegood," has been doclared to be one of the most humorous books of the day, and we beleived it; for there is a quiet vein of humor running through every page of it, well calculated to bring the horrors out of any poor fellow troubled with melanone too, for no one would fail partaking of the rich treat in store, in this, his last production. The ladies will find delineated in its pages, some very pleasing incidents and female characthe satisfaction of New York, and the public, that there has been a misarprehension of the case from the day of the tragedy, and we will be able to establish the fact, of his innocence, by evidence of an overwhelming character. The Raleigh Sentinel says: W. C. Troy, Esq., a gentleman of high character and intelligence, and one of the Berry, a U. S. detective, visited Mr. Troy's store and made an examination. No seizures were made, and the pre-sumption was that all was right. Not so, however, according to this superserviceable detective. He has Mr. charged with having one empty tobac-co box, the stamp upon which was not properly erased or defaced. Mr. Troy and the clerks all know that it was de faced. On Monday the Solicitor submitted to a verdiet of not guilty. Now this is a good specimen of the petty annovances and persecutions to which gentlemen are subjected by United States officials. It is a shame for a ent term of the court, has been seen by dozens riding through our public the side of a courtesan, was made to compromise with him, how utterly groundless was the charge against him.

The Ralcigh News says: The trial of S. T. Carrow and R. T. Bosher, before the Circuit Court, on yesterday, was a perfect mockery. The counsel for the prosecutors, who, we understand, desired to move that the case should be remanded to the State Courts, were not present. The District Attorney read the indictment. Mr. Phillips for the defendants read a warrant, under which it was claimed that the Marshal acted and, by consent, a verdict of "not guilty" was at once entered. The very point of the case, whether or not the Marshal had the warrant at the time of making the arrest, was not alluded to. Certain it is that no warrant was shown at the time of the arrest of Maddox and Underwood, and the one produced on trial was never seen until after complaint was made to certain persons, of the alleged unguthorized arrest. The strong lance of justice hurtless breaks! The city of Greenville, S. C., is excited over the sudden disappearance of a man by the name of Berry, from Haywood county, N. C. It seems that Mr. Berry came into the city, on Friday or Saturday last, driving a wagon loaded with flour. He did not readily dispose of his entire load, and was de tained in consequence, until Monday last, when he had closed out his load add received the money therefor. He encamped on Monday night, on his way home, in the fork of Buncombe and Rutherford streets, expecting the next morning to go on his journey home. On Monday morning a gentleman in whose store the missing man had been that night, went to his place of encampment and found the mules tied up, but there was no trace of the owner. His vest was found with a cut on the breast of the garment, but no other sign or trace could be seen.
