PROSPECTS FOR THE STATE FAIR.

Macon, Ga., Oct. 15-Night,-The Georgia State Fair commences on the 27th inst, and continues for six days. The grounds are the finest on the continent and are in perfect order. Fifty head of fine stock are already on the ground; many entries have already been made and others are being made daily. The prospects are that it will be the largest attendance ever had in the South. The railroads from New York to New Orleans will carry passengers and goods at half rate. The city is making ample preparations to accommodate visitors. Many distinguished men from all parts of the country will be here.
