BY TELEGRAPH.
FROM RALEIGH.
DECISION RENDERED IN THE SPECIAL TAX SUIT.
The Bonds Declared to be Constitutional.
The Injunction not Granted.

[SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL.]
RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 2, 1873.—The United States Circuit Court decides, without giving their reasons at present, that the Special Tax Bonds are constitutional, and that the act directing the diversion of the fund collected for payment of interest is unconstitutional. The injunction restraining the Treasurer from paying out any funds until the interest fund is repaid is not granted, inasmuch as there is nothing done on the part of the defendant which induces the Court to believe that the plaintiff will suffer damage before the final hearing.

THE VILLE DU HAYRE.
SOME PARTICULARS OF THE DISASTER.
THE LOCH EARN NOT BLAMED FOR THE COLLISION.
THE DELAY OF THE SPANISH FLEET AT CARTAGENA.

LONDON, December 2.—Capt. Urquhart, of the Lamantun, reports that when he left the Loch Earn her bowsprit was gone and there was a large hole in her bow above the water line. The boat continued searching around the place where the steamer went down for six hours. The rescued persons do not blame the Loch Earn for the collision. Her officers and crew did their utmost to save life, and only two of the survivors remained on the Loch Earn, one of whom was wounded and could not be removed. The first boat from the Ville Du Havre was sent to ascertain if the Loch Earn could render any assistance.
The Ville Du Havre is insured in London for £30,000.
A special to the Times says that the delay of the Spanish fleet at Cartagena is owing to the doubts of the fidelity of the crew of the iron-clad Scaramoza. The story of the duel between Generals Manteffel and von Jaeben is now said to be without foundation.
WASHINGTON, December 2.—No Southern names appear among the Ville Du Havre's lost. Among the rescued were ten men.
New York, Dec. 2.—Special dispatches give the following in regard to the loss of the Ville Du Havre: Most of the passengers were too terrified to try to save themselves. Many prayed and many laid down with the calmness of utter despair. Some, hearing the water pouring into the ship, never quitted their state-rooms. Whole families thus went down together. The four boats lowered by the Loch Earn found the passengers and crew floating on the waves, holding on to planks, buoys, spars and whatever could be seized as the wreck went down. Many had thus prepared themselves from the first. Many of the women saved were floating in the water. The Captain of the Ville Du Havre is reported to have been quite exhausted by his three days and nights of uninterrupted duty. The officer who was in command when the collision took place, was lost. The sufferings of those who were saved was intense, the cold being very severe. Many persons were nearly insensible, and would have utterly perished in a few minutes more. The rescued were nearly all a matter of haphazard, as time permitted no organized effort or attempt at choice. The purser of the steamer says: "In a few moments the ship began to sink amidst great disorder and frantic terror. The scene was awful beyond all description. The air was rent with shrieks, but some were heard to say, calmly: 'As we must die, let us die nobly.' The water rushed into the hold with incredible velocity. I undressed myself and, with a companion, jumped overboard and swam toward the Loch Earn, then half a mile distant. As I left I heard the ship cracking and, looking back, I saw her go down, with one plunge forward. For a moment the shrieks were terrible; then all was silent—alas! it was the silence of death."

New York, December 2.—Noon.—A letter from Maniatis states that Cespedes has ceased to be President of the Cuban Republic, on account of bad health, and his successor is Salvador Simenas.
The rumor that W. M. Tweed died suddenly is untrue. He has been appointed one of the Hospital orderlies and assumed his duties to-day.

SUSPENSION OF J. H. HERRICK & CO. ANNOUNCED.
New York, Dec. 2.—Noon.—An officer in the County Jail was killed with a brick. The murderer escaped.
The suspension of J. H. Herrick & Co., produce merchants, was announced late yesterday afternoon at the Commercial Exchange. Mr. Herrick declined to make a statement for publication.

ELECTRICISMS.
The Supreme Court of the State of Missouri decides that the municipal regulations of the social evil in St. Louis are constitutional.
PROBABILITIES.
WAR DEPARTMENT, OFFICE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, WASHINGTON, D. C., December 2.—For the Northwest, variable to fresh and brisk northwesterly winds will prevail with partly cloudy and cold weather and probably light snow. For the Lake region, easterly to southerly winds with cloudy weather and rain. For the Ohio Valley and thence southerly to the Gulf, light to fresh southerly to southwesterly winds, cloudy weather and light rain, followed by less cloudiness on Wednesday. For the South-Atlantic States, less pressure, rising temperature with increasing cloudiness and possibly light rain in South Carolina and Georgia. For New England and the Middle States, continued cloudy and threatening weather with light rain and snow in the former and rain in the latter. The pressure will diminish with slightly rising temperature, the winds gradually veering to easterly and southerly on the East and Middle Atlantic coasts.
After the 10th inst., the display of cautionary signals will be suspended at the Lake ports for the winter.

STATE NEWS.
The Monroe Enquirer says: Mr. Jno. T. Ross, of this county, who has only one arm, picked 115 pounds of cotton one day recently—the third day he picked since the war. This can't be beat. Peter Ross, a boy of eleven years, picked 129 pounds, which is also hard to beat.
The Newbern Times says: We regret to chronicle the burning of a barn on the Myrtle Grove plantation, Craven county, thirty miles from this city, the property of Dr. James W. Gray, of this city. The fire was the work of an incendiary, and occurred on Friday night last, at 8 o'clock, while Dr. Gray was at supper in the house near by. The loss sustained by him will exceed $1,000. No insurance.
The Reidsville Record says: We learn that a horrid case of infanticide came to light a few days ago near Chalk Level, in Stokes county. A negro girl gave birth to a child and her parents, in order to destroy all trace of it, threw it into a burning brush-heap, and then buried the charred remains. By some accident the remains were discovered and the crime traced back to the guilty parties.
A special to the Petersburg Index and Appeal, dated at High Point, on the 1st inst., says: A sad accident occurred at Salem, N. C., on Friday, the 28th inst. A young lady, Miss Tilley, of Augusta, Ga., a pupil in the Female Institute, whilst in the act of putting a stick of wood in a stove, set fire to her dress. Before the fire could be extinguished she was burned so terribly that she died the following day.
The Monroe Enquirer says: Wesley Medlin, a boy about twelve years of age, son of Mr. William Medlin, living ten miles east of this place, was burned very severely in the face and eyes a few days ago. He was burning out a barrel to make a powder flask, and had put some powder in the barrel and then put fire on it, when it flashed up in his face, and he was severely injured in the eyes. It is thought he will lose the sight of them entirely.
The Charlotte Democrat says: Early on Friday morning last fire was discovered in one of the rooms of the Springs building, second floor, adjoining the printing room of the Daily Observer and the Editorial office of the Southern Home. A large hole was burnt in the floor, but the fire was extinguished before spreading much. The printing material of the Southern Home had been removed to another building several days previously, but the books and papers in the Editor's office were considerably damaged by water. About a week previous an attempt was made to fire the Observer Job Office in the Bryce building by placing a coil of fire in a table drawer. Both attempts are rather strange and unaccountable. If either the Bryce or Springs building had burnt the conflagration would have spread and destroyed a large amount of valuable property.

MOTORISTS GATHERING SUCKERS
The motorists gathering suckers for local liquor, are to be commended. It is a fact that thousands of a districo medicine, P. P. Drops, Gray's Kidney Complaint, and all diseases of the urinary organs, either in male or female, there is no remedy so efficacious as Reibel's Sucker. Its infallible action transmits the sugar to the kidneys and standard remedy.
Beautiful Lips
