EDITORIAL NOTES.

Wilmington, N. C.

Millionaires are called " rich men in New York, and none others may expect this felicitous title. A half milliquaire is said to be " well off and incomfortable." Place the figures at $100,000 and the owner is a "small berry." man," under $50,000 he is "poor," while a $25,000 man is such a poor devil as to be unworthy of mention.

Senator Morton urges as a reason why his amendment regulating the counting of the electoral votes should be adopted, that if only one House can object to the counting of the vote of a State it might afford opportunity Bumble, "I never heard the name to throw the election of the President | before." into the House of Representatives. this subject until the Democrats had secured a majority in the House,

Says the St. Louis Republican: "I' Butler could only secure an assault upon his person at the hands of some Southern Democrat, he would consider his political fortunes made. He could then go home and institute his annual campaign against the decency of Massachusetts in the role of a martyr, and he thinks he might in this sign conquer where all other signs humiliation."

Dr. J. C. Camden publishes in the Medical Times and Gazette, information very important to surgeons who are not cognizant of the fact, that the application of a white-hot iron to the body is absolutely painless, while when only red-hot it is an extremely painful operation. When operating with a red-hot iron on men the screeching was fearful, while when the iron was white-hot not a murmur was heard; and when he operated so upon a horse the animal seemed scarcely to be aware of what was being done. He proposes to use for actul cautery a large spirit blow-pipe.

General Sheridan charged that 3,500 murders for political causes had been committed in Louisiana. The New Orleans Picayune says that the investigation made to verify this stat ment has so far disclosed only eight political murders, leaving 3,492 yet to be found. If the sixty said to have been killed at Colfax are addded, the count will be 4 432 short. But it is said that the Congressional Committee have stopped the investigation, and will devote their attention to Colfax and Coushatta, It was found that three-fourths of the murders reported" were committed by negroes, and very few of them had any connection with politics.

The drouth in the Eastern States i BUY becoming a question of very serious consideration. In some quarters "melted snow is the only drink that can be furnished the cattie, and in others their owners are shipping them off to prevent their dying of thirst. There were no rains previous to the beginning of cold weather, and, unless there are heavy Spring rains, the dry ground may prove as detrimental to the crop of the East as the grasshoppers have to those of the West. By way of contrast, California has been deluged by the excessive rainfall.

The New York Herald makes this rude reference to the leaders or the dominant party in Congress : "Ostensibly a Republican caucus considers plans for protecting the negro in the South; in reality it considers how it can carry the elections in the Southern States; and in these two points are all the policy of the dominant party-how to carry the elections; how to get offiges and distribute plunder, and how to make the manonyres contrived for this end seem like movements taken to secure the rights of an oppressed

GRAYF AS MR. BURBLE. The New York World has a good hing under this heading, in answer to a New York journal which has had the effrontery to my ? "Is quite corrander downward, the personal course of General Grant, in relation to the Southern people, has been of friendship and magnatumity, not of windle. 75 HHIB. New Grop Cube Molecule. tiveness or opposition."

The World declares that those vicious and nuregenerate Southern people cannot be induced to love and bonor their "great and good friend!" Such black ingratitude is really heartrending. After that little scene in the White House when President Grant insulted the tay-payers of South Care . lina because Patterson had slipped in and told him that somebody had spoken direspectfully of him in their convention isix months before. After that nest little message from the President to the most respectable cit zens of Louisiana advising them to stay at home and not trouble themselves to come to Washington, since nothing they could say would change His Excellency's views. After that gush ng and genial telegram to inform Sheridan that " the President and all of us" approved his friendly and magnanimous proposition to put . ew Or leans and her people out of the law as a nest of "banditi." It is truly mel ancholy. It is more. In the pathetic words of Mr. Bumbler, "It is sickening ; it is antimobia! !" The only parallel we can think of for such insensibility, indeed, is supplied by the ex perieuce of the eminent beadle to whom we have just alluded, who took almost as much pains to make himself be-I wed by Oliver Twist as Graut has taken to win the affections of the 'Southern people," and with as unsatisfactory result."

"Mr. Bumble entered the shop of Mr. Sowerberry, the undertaker," says the verscious chronicler of that good man's career, "and, supporting his cape against the counter, drew forth his arge leathern pocket-book, from dependent," A $250,000 man is "very which he selected a small scrap of paper which he handed over to Sowe-

> "Aha!" said the undertaker, glancing over it with a lively countenance, "an order for a coffin, eh? "

"For a cofflu first, and a perochia funeral afterwards," replied Mr. Bumole.

"Bayton,?" said the undertaker, coking from the scrap of paper to Mr.

Mr. Bumble shook his head as he He never manifested any solicitude on replied, "Obstinate people, Mr. Sowerberry; very obstinate. Proud, too, I'm afraid, sir,"

"Proud, ch?" exclaimed Mr. Sowerberry, with a speer, "come, that's too

"Oh, it's sickening," replied the beadle; "it's antimonial, Mr. Sowerberry! * * * A woman who lodged in the same house made an application to the perochial committee to send the perochial surgeon to the woman as was very bad indeed. He had gone have brought him only defeat and out to dioner, but his 'prentice (which is a very clever lad) sent 'em some medicine in a blacking-bottle-off hand."

"Ah ! there's promptness," said the

"Promptness indeed!" replied the beadle. "But what's the consequence? What's the behavior of these ungrateful rebels, sir? Why the husband sends back word that the medicine won't suit his wife's complaint, and so she shan't take it-says she shan't take it, sir. Good strong wholesome medioine as was given with great success to two laborers and a coal-heaver only the week before-sent 'em for nothin', with the blacking bottle thrown inand he sends back word that she shan't take it, sir!"

Here is Louisians taken sick, and Grant sends her free gratis for nothing and with "promptuess ' Sheridan, good strong wholesome medicine as was taken with great success by a lot of Piegans" only a short time before, with gunboats and drumbead "thrown iu"-and the ungrateful rebel actually says the medicine won't suit her complaint, and that she won't take it !
