THE TERRIBLE DISASTER AT NEW ORLEANS.

FIFTY LIVES LOST.

NEW ORLEANS, April 24-Noon-The NEW ORLEANS, April 24—Noon—The huils of the Exporter and the Bodman were towed across the river. That of the Kyle floated a couple of miles and sunk Capt. Reeves, of the Exporter, had a party aboard, but most of the ladies were sahore. The Captain's daughter was lost. The latest estimates rate the loss at about fifty. The Captain and watchman of the Bodman report about twenty-five women and children lost from that boat, and the same number is estimatboat, and the same number is estimated by the spectators. Among the frants crowd upon the Exporter's forecastle about twenty-five were resforecastle about twenty-five were rescued, among whom were several ladies.

Some were rescued badly wounded, among whom were persons who were about the burning boats assisting at saving life; in some instances extraordinary beroism and endurance were display. All three boats were tied at the same ring-bolt, and in the hurry of cutting the Kyle's moorings; the three boats were set adrift. There was a lamentable want of order among the skiffs and tugs that lendeavored to the same ring-bolt and in the hurry of cutting the Kyle's moorings; the three boats were set adrift. CROP REPORTS IN MISSOURI AND ILLINOIS.

Sr. Louis, April 24—Noon—Reports from the State show that three-fourths of the fall wheat crop has been lost. There will be a half average of the oat crop. Corn will be planted. The peach crop of Missouri and Arkansas is nearly destroyed. Apples and pears are unujured. The wheat in Indiana is badly injured. The rye and barley crops are also short. The crops in Kansas are uncertain. The wheat in Michigan is badly injured. In Nebrasks the prospects are flattering.
In Wisconsin oats and barley are badly injured. The prospect for winter wheat in Illinois is very discouraging and many wheat fields are being plowed for corn.
