DIRECT SHIPMENT.

Some months ago the Cornwall Iron Company of Cedar Bluff, Alabama, undertook the experiment of shipping pig iron to England, and although to many the experiment would look very doubtful, they entered upon it with the expectation of realizing $40 per ton. Their actual return was $36 per ton net, and this was so satisfactory that they are continuing the experiment.

The first consignment was conveyed to Liverpool from the furnaces at a cost of only one dollar per ton more than it cost for transportation from the same furnaces to Cincinnati. We look forward with pleasure anticipation to the time when whole cargoes of North Carolina iron will be shipped to Europe through the seaport of Wilmington.

COURT Gossip.

A Washington letter says: The spirituelle daughter of Chief Justice Waite is reported as about to wed Surgeon Ruth, of the Navy. Miss Hayes, a stately Kentucky belle, who has been a devoted friend of the Lost Cause, has surrendered at discretion to Col. Oliver, who bravely wore "the blue." Mr. Arthur Dodge is to marry the eldest daughter of Postmaster General Jewell, and Miss Jeffers is to wed M. Mohl, who belongs to an old Flemish family. There were rumors of another match between a titled foreign gentleman and the daughter of a member of the last Congress, but the demands of the devoted lover for a "settlement," providing an income for him in case of her death, met with no favor in the parents' eyes.

MORE TESTIMONY.

And now little Rhody, the gallant little Rhody, the only one of the twenty odd States which voted last Fall that failed to roll up a Democratic majority, must add its powerful testimony in regard to the state of affairs in the South. Senator Anthony (and that's the way they spell Rhode Island up there) has tripped it through the South, pretty much on the same principle that shoddy Americans "do" Europe in the Summer, and is indignant at the condition of affairs and has no faith in the representations of Congressmen Kelley and others. He says:

We mingled with the old native people, and they assured us that everything was joyful except for the carpet-baggers. The Northern people resident there always said that except for the military they had no security of life or property. We could not reconcile such opposite statements, and went to officers of the garrisons of the regular army, who are neither carpet-baggers nor natives. Of these we inquired at Charleston, Atlanta, and other points. They told us, without passion or complaint, that their wives and families were never visited socially by the Southern ladies, nor did they receive any of the courtesies of intercourse common to civilization and always made the especial boast of Southerners. I therefore made up my mind that the feeling of the people of the South, at bottom, was resentful and their professions unusual.

The valiant Rhode Islander draws a mild picture in comparison with that held up to view by that truthful and disinterested christian statesman Senator Morton, of Indiana. Thus far Morton is ahead and it will probably prove a source of intense mortification to the Islander, the New England Islander, to know that the Western Hoosier has so signalized himself. The whole thing is too thin; nobody believes one word that Anthony says and there are many who will doubt that the man has ever been south of Washington City unless some better evidence than his own word is adduced in testimony of the fact.

MECKLENBURG MEDAL.
The Richmond Enquirer learns that the first impression of the medal struck at the Philadelphia mint to commemorate the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence has been received in Washington. In size and value it is equal to the half dollar pieces. Its design and finish are very creditable. On one side is a hornet's nest which is typical of the announcement by the king's officers that Mecklenburg was a hornet's nest of rebels. On the same side is also a liberty cap surrounded by the rays of the rising sun. Beneath are two clasped hands, which are typical of the united North and South at the close of the last war. On the reverse side within a circle, are the inscriptions: "May 20, 1775" and "May 20th, 1875—Mecklenburg D-claration of Independence." Two thousand silver medals have been ordered by the Executive Committee of the Centennial celebration and a large number of copper impressions.

REFRESHING.

Eureka! We have found it. For two weeks past we have been eagerly scanning the papers to find a suitable eulogy on the dead and buried (politically speaking,) ex-Attorney General Williams, but better known by the sobriquet of Landlubber Williams. A fallen jester or a kicked out Court favorite generally meets with but little sympathy and this is the case with Williams. Still, a Radical sheet down in New Orleans called the Louisianian (Goodness! what a libel!) has this to say of the deposed favorite:

The intelligence that this accomplished statesman and pure patriot is about to sever his official relations with the government, which he has popularized and dignified by an unswerving discharge of public duties, has caused a profound regret all over the South among the loyal masses. His recognition of the supremacy of the law and the vigorous manner in which he applied it to the turbulent and disloyal elements, have effectively suppressed organized lawlessness, and materially constrained the wicked and dissembled pretense to impede the progress of the nation.

Truly refreshing! And if the man has any bowels at all just "phrasing" on reading the reports of the recent developments in Alabama!

The Philadelphia Times isn't satisfied with the weather yet, and suggests to the President that he is losing thousands of votes every day by reason of the retention of General Myer at the head of the Weather Bureau.

There have been more American than English flags displayed on the Nile boats for travellers the past winter, and a little steam yacht, owned and sailed by two New Yorkers, was the first steam vessel carrying a foreign flag that has ever had permission from the Khedive to go up the Nile.

A GENTLEMAN in Europe who reads the Journal writes: "I see in the American papers notice of bank bills altered from one denomination to another. This is impossible in this part of the world, through the very simple device of having bills of different values made of different sizes."

FOUR hundred million dollars' worth of wine, liquor, and beer goes down the throats of the American people every year. As the number of those who drink is probably not more than 5,000,000, the amount for each drinker is $80 per annum, $1.50 a week, or 25 cents a day, as the average.

THE TESTIMONY of the Alabama Radical, Perrin, that he shot a bullet hole through his own hat to exhibit as a Ku-Klux outrage, is not calculated to enhance the popular estimate of the party in whose employ he acted. Hence the Chicago Tribune regrets that he had the presence of mind to take off his hat before plugging.

CHICAGO is badly swamped financially. The delinquent tax list foots up $6,750,000, and the city is borrowing money to meet the deficits in its treasury by reason of the shortcomings of tax-payers. But worse than that, it is acknowledged that if all the delinquent taxes were collected they would not be sufficient to pay the outstanding liabilities of the city not provided for in the funded debt.

THE great weather seer of St. Louis, Prof. Tice, has given his opinion about the recent cold snap. He affirms that "the frigid wind" of a week ago was not a polar wave, but a "discharge from an immense atmospheric cylinder, with a barrel 500 or 600 miles in diameter, down which flows an aerial maelstrom from the surface of the atmosphere." This he is willing to swear to.

Texas they have a Judge named White, who has removed the sheriff of Guadalupe county several times, notwithstanding the people re-elected him each time. Of course the Judge is a Democrat and the sheriff a Republican.—Washington Republican

Of course they are. We accept the testimony of the Republican with pleasure, although it was not necessary to state it. The first paragraph was sufficient to locate both the Judge and the sheriff. Whoever heard of a defaulting Democratic sheriff, or of an upright Radical Judge? It was a simple rule of three—the Judge, the sheriff and the facts. The product of the means is equal to the product of the extremes.

The recently discovered silver mine at Newport, Massachusetts, has been opened forty-five feet below ground, and a rich vein of ore penetrated.

MACBETH'S REMINISCENCES, and S. LECTURES FROM HIS DIARIES, and LETTERS. Edited by Sir Frederick Pollock, Bart., one of his Executors. New York: Harper & Brothers, through E. J. Hale & Son, Wilmington: P. Heinssen.

A chattering book and one that the reading world will gladly welcome. It is brimful of interest from beginning to end, and is a complete record of the life of the great tragedian from his earliest years and into the end of all. There is not a chapter in it but will be read eagerly by all who have ever admired, this side of the Atlantic, the wonderful powers of this prince of the drama. And notably is Macbeth's life and career faithfully portrayed, but there are many interesting references to the great English stars who ruled the stage during the first quarter of the present century, a period which was unusually prolific in the development of dramatic talent.

ALICE LOUISE. A TALE OF THE SOUTH DOWNS. By R. D. Blackmore, author of "Udolpho Novel," "Maid of Sker," "Lorna Doone," &c. New York: Harper & Brothers, through E. J. Hale & Son, Wilmington: P. Heinssen.
