HOW TO FILL THE VACANCY IN THE ORANGE DELEGATION.

The death of Governor Graham having occasioned a vacancy in the Orange delegation, many inquiries have been made as to the mode of filling it. An examination of the law shows very plainly we think that it is the duty of Governor Brogden to issue a writ of of election as soon as may be. There is ample time to hold another election before the meeting of the Convention of which the Governor intends to take immediate advantage, as we learn from a telegram from Raleigh received last night.

The Act calling the Convention provides in section 4 that If a vacancy shall occur, they shall be filled in the same manner as the like vacancies are filled by law in the case of vacancies in the General Assembly.

The law applicable to "vacancies in the General Assembly" is to be found in section 33 and 34, chapter 52 of Battles Revisal, and reads as follows:

33. When a vacancy occurs in the General Assembly by death, resignation or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the sheriff of the county in which the late member resided, provided the General Assembly shall not be in session, to notify the Governor of such vacancy, and in the case the General Assembly shall be in session when such vacancy occurs, it shall be the duty of the presiding officer of the House in which the vacancy occurs, to notify the Governor of the same, who shall thereupon issue a writ of election to the sheriff or sheriffs of the district or county represented by the late member, said election to be held at such time as the Governor may designate, and in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

34. Every election, held in pursuance of a writ from the Governor, shall be conducted in like manner as the the regular biennial elections, so far as the particular case can be governed by the general rules, and shall, to all intents and purposes, be as legal and valid, and subject the officers and persons elected to the same penalties and liabilities, as if the same had been held at the time, and according to the rules and regulations prescribed for the regular biennial elections.

WHO ATE ROGER WILLIAMS?

It seems that in searching for the remains of one of the fathers of religious liberty in America, says Mr. Rodney Welch in the Teachers' Monthly, almost nothing was found. The pick and spade removed the hard earth till a dark line was reached having the shape of a coffin. Below there were a few locks of silvery hair and some teeth, the things Byron tells us that decay soonest in life and remains longest after death. The dead form had disappeared and a living form had taken its place. The body of the old hero had become, not food for worms, but sustenance for an apple tree. A root had forced its way through the hard earth till it reached the coffin, whose lid it lifted, and whose contents it devoured. It had stretched itself over the skeleton and thrown out divisions over the extremities. These in turn had divided and showed the form and position of the fingers. A living form showed where a decaying one had rested. An apple tree had eaten up a man. From the food it had devoured it had produced blossoms the children of the grave-digger had plucked, and fruit that he himself had eaten.

Guano was first brought to this country by Commodore Stewart in in 1845, and at that time attracted but little attention. In 1840 it was again introduced, and its use spread rapidly both here and in Europe, and ever since, the demand for it has gone on increasing, until whole islands have disappeared under the pick and shovel, and numerous fleets laden with the precious material are navigating the seas in every direction, to distribute it to all parts of the civilized world.

During the past three years about thirty English and Irish gentlemen have settled in Amelia county, Virginia, on estates which in the aggregate amount to nearly 10,000 acres. These colonists have, it is estimated, invested invested in real and personal property and otherwise, between $400,000 and $500,000.

DEATH OF GOVERNOR GRAHAM.

Full of years and full of honors North Carolina's most distinguished son has gone to his rest.

On yesterday morning at Saratoga Springs in the state of New York WILLIAM ALEXANDER GRAHAM breathed his last, and to-day wherever the melancholy tidings have gone, the hearts of true Carolinians are sorrowing that they shall see his face no more, that no more shall they have the advantage of his wise counsel. Born and bred upon her soil, educated at her University and through life devoted to her interests Governor Graham commanded the confidence and respect of the people of North Carolina in greater degree than was ever before bestowed on any man. All of honor that she had, all of trust that she had, all of confidence that she had, North Carolina lavished upon this her favorite son.

The death of such a man would at any time be a calamity to the State and to the nation; but especially does it weigh heavily upon our hearts to-day to know that the portals of the grave have opened to the man whose death we mourn. From one end of the State to the other the eyes of good men everywhere were turned to him in the great crisis that is now upon us. In the east and in the west, as well as in the centre, men looked to him to take the lead in the approaching Convention, perhaps a more important body than has ever assembled in North Carolina. But man proposes and God disposes. Nor was it only in the matter of the Convention that he was looked to for special guidance and direction. As is well known the restoration of the University to its former glory and usefulness is an object dear to the hearts of North Carolinians, and to none was it dearer than to Governor Graham. Nor was there any one upon whose single life it depended in such great degree.

But why enumerate? In what great work in which the honor and the welfare of North Carolina has deep concern, will the absence of WILLIAM A. GRAHAM be unfelt?

The people of North Carolina are indeed a sorely stricken people to-day.

WILLIAM ALEXANDER GRAHAM, for whose death, to us so untimely, we this day mourn, was a man of no mean lineage. His father was General Joseph Graham, of distinguished Revolutionary fame. His mother was Isabella, second daughter of Major John Davidson.

He was born on the 5th of September, 1804, in Lincoln county, North Carolina; ; graduated at Chapel Hill in 1824; studied law in Newbern, and after obtaining license to practice, settled in Hillsboro and began the practice. In 1833 he entered public life as a member from the old Borough of Hillsboro. He was afterwards re-elected in 1834 and again in 1835. He was afterwards elected from the county, Borough representation being then abolished, in 1836, 1838 and again in 1840. He was several times elected Speaker of the House. In 1841 he was elected to the United States Senate, where he served until 1843. In 1844 he was elected Governor of North Carolina and again in 1846. In 1849 he was tendered, by President Taylor, the mission to Spain, which he declined. In 1850 he was appointed by President Fillmore, Secretary of the Navy, which high position he filled until June 1852 when having received from the Whig National Convention the nomination for Vice President upon the ticket with General Scott, he resigned the Secretaryship. In 1854 he was elected a member of the State Senate. In 1861 he was a member of the Convention of that year and voted for the ordinance of secession and the ordinance making the State a member of the Southern Confederacy. In 1862 he was again elected a member of the State Senate. In 1863 he was elected a member of the Confederate Senate, of which body he was a most distinguised member until the fall of the Confederacy in 1865. In 1866 he was elected to the United States Senate, but was not permitted to take his seat. Since then though taking at all times a deep interest in public affairs, he has held no public office. For a long number of years before the war, and since the election of the new Board, since the war, he was a member of the Board of Trustees of the University, and took an active part in the conduct of its affairs. He was also one of the Trustees of the Peabody Fund, left by that eminent public benefactor for the promotion of education in the South.

In 1874 he was chosen by the State of Virginia as commissioner to meet Hon. Jere Black, of Pennsylvania, on the part of the State of Maryland to settle the long disputed boundary line between her and the last named State. And it was to serve upon this Commissioner that he went to Saratoga, where he died on yesterday morning.

The remains of Governor Graham, we learn, by special dispatch from Raleigh, will reach that place to-morrow at 2 o'clock by special train. A meeting of the citizens will be held in Raleigh to-day and also a meeting of the members of the bar to appoint guards of honor to meet the remains at Weldon and escort them to that city where they will lie in state in the Capitol for several hours. From thence the remains will be taken to Hillsboro for interment. The flag on the Capitol is at half mast in honor to the memory of the distinguished dead.

The United States District Court in Oregon has given $2,000 damage to a young German girl of nineteen whose beauty was permanently spoiled by an accident on board of the steamship Oriflamme, of the Oregon Company, last March. The Judge gave it as his opinion that "personal comeliness is a consideration of importance in the case of every daughter of Eve," since it may affect her power of obtaining "a secure and independent position in the community by marriage." The opinion must be admitted to be sound, and not the less sound that it simply translates into law the famous old verse:

"My face is my fortune, sir, she said."

THE Boston Globe tells the following as a "true story:" A minister, newly settled in one of the "waste places," was walking in the village cemetery one day, when he saw one of his parishioners standing by the "family lot." "Are these the graves of your children?" he asked. "Yes," said the man, looking about. "Here is Tom; there is Bill; this is Mary; that's the baby;" and then, pointing contentedly to a corner gay with flowers, "There lays the old woman, all blowed out."

THE London gossips are telling this story, apropos of Queen Victoria's continued seclusion: At the Princess of Wales' garden party, at which she was present, the other day, the Queen accosted a distinguished officer, and conversed affably with him for some minutes. At last the gallant General remarked, "I am really very sorry madam, for being so stupid. I am sure I have seen your face, and remember it perfectly well, but I cannot remember your name."

GOLDSBORO HIGH SCHOOL

GOLDSBORO, N. C.

M. FETTER, A. M., Prof. Ancient and Modern Languages.
E. W. ADAMS, A.M., Prof. Mathematics.

The Third Term of this Institution will begin on Monday, Aug. 2, and end on Monday, Dec; 20, 1875.

THIS school is situated in the town of Goldsboro (the centre of four Railroads), and from its accessibility offers superior advantages to parents and guardians living in the surrounding countries or in the Eastern portion of the state. The location is healthy, and no fears of sickness need be entertained by parents sending their sons to this place, as not a single case of serious illness occurred in the school during the past scholastic year. No parent, therefore, can reasonably be deterred from patronizing this School on the score of the unhealthiness of the location.

Professor E. W. Adams who has charge of the Mathematical Department, is an alumnus of Randolph Macon College, and has been a successful teacher of youth for many years.

The course of instruction is sound, thorough and extensive and seeks to develop and improve the mental powers of the pupils by training them to THINK, and by teaching them the right use of the faculties with which God has endowed them.

The discipline of the School, while it is mild and parental, enforces the duty of obedience to every rule and regulation. As insubordination and disorderly conduct are wholly incompatible with scholastic training and mental progress, no boy who is indisposed to improve his time or is an injury to his fellows, will be retained in the school.

Moral and religious instruction receives a due share of attention and consideration; for unless the heart and conscience be instructed and enlightend, mere secular learning will avail but little in the formation of a correct and upright character.

The four religious bodies being well represented in this place, every boarder is allowed to attend that Church on Sunday which his parent may designate. This wish and preference of the parent will be strictly observed, as nothing of a sectarian character is countenanced in the School.

Boys are prepared for advanced classes in College or for the active business of life.

The building, hitherto known as the "Female College," has been secured by the Principal, and will hereafter be used as a school for boys.

Deadly weapons, intoxicating drinks, profanity and every species of gambling are strictly prohibited.

Terms, per Session of 20 Weeks

The Carolina Household Magazine,

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY of choice Literature, will be issued from the GOLDSBORO MESSENGER OFFICE commencing with January, 1875. The first number will be ready for mailing by December 15th, and the periodical will be published each succeeding month thereafter without interruption. No advantage will be neglected which either talent or capital can command to render each issue an agreeable and instructive compendium of choice reading, by popular writers, both home and abroad.

The Carolina Household Magazine

will be a large 28-page, eighty-four column monthly, handsomely printed on tinted book paper and beautifully illustrated. It is a thoroughly southern enterprise and its success is already fully assured. The publisher means to make it a first-class monthly, that, once introduced in the family circle, is sure to be eagerly watched for and carefully preserved. Its "PORTRAIT GALLERY" will prove an attractive feature. The January number will contain a life-like picture of and biographical sketch, to be followed in each succeeding number with photographs of other prominent statesmen, divines, &c.

ONLY TWO DOLLARS A YEAR and each subscriber can make a choice of THREE MOST BEAUTIFUL, LARGE ENGRAVINGS, size of each 24 x 30 inches, viz: "The Finding of the Saviour in the Temple," "The Madonna," or "King Lear Defying the Storm," forwarded on receipt of the subscription price. Either of the Engravings is worth double the price asked for the Magazine.
