The remarks of Representative Ran-dall in caucus, and his motion to make the pomination unanimous, are everydation. Surprise is expressed that son rendered the decision denying the the West and South carried all the application; holding that the law was offices. For the two or three hundred subordinate places there are at least that while the post-office laws are where spoken of in terms of commen subordinate places there are at least one thousand applicants, not a few of the respective positions, including clerks, assistant doorkeepers, messengers, document folders, pages and bath room attendants. The first business of to-morrow will consist of calling the roll of members by Mr. McPherson, the present clerk, and the administration of the oath of office; next the election of the several officers will take place. Questions af-fecting the seats of some of the members may arise, which may protract the organization. In view of such an event the President will not transmit his message until Tuesday noon. The contents of the message have been studiously concealed. The most interest is expressed concerning that por-tion which relates to our relations with Spain, Cubs included.

There is much speculation in regard to the appointment of the Standing Committees of the House, and already Mr. Randall has been accorded by outside parties the Chairmanship of the Committee on Appropriations, Fernando Wood, the Ways and Means, and Cox, that of Foreign Affars, but this is without the least authority, and several weeks ruy clapse before the to-morrow.

It is generally believed that Warden Durhan and keeper Hogan were privy to the escape, and that Tweed embarked on some private craft on the East river, and is now sailing for some foreign port. Tweed's cases, which were up to day, ave been postponed. An afternoon paper has the following regarding Tweed's escape: The most probable theory is that Tweed escaped in the bark Lord Clarendon, which cleared November 14th for which cleared November 14th for Inspector Dilkes believes that Tweed is on the Ocean.
