FRAUD TRIUMPHANT.

BRADLEY HAYES DECLARED ELECTED.

THE LAWLESS, JUSTICE-IGNORING COMMISSION DISSOLVE.

POOR AMERICA!

Noon Reports.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—House.—After the vote not to count the vote of Solace Speaker Randall announced that the Chair had allowed every legitimate motion. The duty to notify the Senate of the decision is mandatory.

Several propositions were overruled, which Ock said there is no use endeavoring to prevent the Speaker from counting in Hayes at once.

The Speaker said the gentlemen must not object; the Chair has no authority to receive any motion.

At 11 o'clock the Senate entered and Vermont was counted for Hayes and Virginia and West Virginia for Tilden, and finally after the separation and a two-hours' discussion Wisconsin was counted for Hayes.

At 4:30 Mr. Ferry said "This concludes the count of thirty-three States. The tellers will now ascertain and deliver the result."

Senator Allison, one of the tellers, declared the vote: Rutherford B. Hayes 185, Samuel J. Tilden 184. Wherefore I announce Hayes and Wheeler duly elected President and Vice President for four years commencing March 4, 1877. There was a solitary hiss. The Senate retired, the House adjourned and the flag was lowered for the first time since February the 1st.

Hayes arrived at nine o'clock and Senator John Sherman carried him to his house.

No one seems glad. There are no cheerful congratulations. Those who do look sorrowful appear ashamed.

In the Senate Mr. Morrill of Vermont submitted a resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee of three Senators to make arrangements for the inauguration of the President-elect on the 4th of March which was agreed to.

No course of action has developed itself this morning.

Fifteen Radical Senators had a meeting to-day and resolved that if Hayes' Southern policy is against the Republican party of the North they should know it.

No conference committees met this morning.

The House is indisposed to take hold of business, and is occupied with questions and privileges involving the pay of pages and doorkeepers.

In the House a resolution with an extraordinary preamble that the Louisiana returning board be discharged so as to assist members of the commission who completed the work of the returning board, in the inauguration, is pending. It will not receive a two-thirds vote. The chances are that the returning board will be certified to District Court for punishment.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

COLUMBIA, March 2.—The Supreme Court Room at 11 o'clock this morning was crowded to hear the decision in the Tilda Norris habeas corpus case, involving the invalidity of Hampton's pardon. Associate Justice Willard appeared on the bench but the colored Justice Wright was absent. The Sheriff was sent to look for Wright but returned with information that he had not been seen since yesterday morning.

Owing to a lack of a full bench Justice Willard adjourned the Court till Monday.

The absence of Wright at this juncture creates intense excitement.

WASHINGTON.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY, WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2, 1877. To Gen. U. C. Auger, Commanding the Department of State. The following dispatch has gone to Gov. Packard and is hereby sent you for your information and government. [Signed] W. T. SHERMAN, Gen. [Telegram.]

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, March 1, 1877. To J. B. Packard, of New Orleans, La.:

In answer to your dispatch of this date the President directs me to say that he feels it his duty to state frankly that he does not believe public opinion will longer support the maintenance of State government in Louisiana by the use of the military, and that he must concur in this manifest feeling. The troops will hereafter as in the past protect life and property from mob violence when the State authorities fail, but under the remaining days of his official life they will not be used to establish or to pull down either claimants for the control of the State. It is not his purpose to recognize either claimant.

G. C. SKEFFIN, Secretary.

Senator Gordon has applied to the Chief Signal Officer of the United States for the establishment of a signal station at Atlanta, Ga., and has the promise of the department to comply with his request as soon as the condition of the service will permit.

The report of the Senate Louisiana committee presented by Gen. Howe today is a voluminous document of about one hundred manuscript pages although they state that it is only a report in part.

The committee enter into an explanation of what they were required to do under the resolution: They say that there are two ways in which the right of suffrage may be abridged: One is to deny the legal voter the privilege of depositing his ballot, and the other to refuse to count the ballot after it has been deposited. By different parties it is claimed that both of these methods have been pursued within the State of Louisiana. The allegation as to the last cannot be controverted; the laws of Louisiana authorize its tribunals under certain conditions to reject from the count not only the entire vote of a precinct, but the entire vote of a parish. In conclusion the committee says that the testimony taken is not sufficiently complete to enable them to say positively what would have been the result of the election in the State if intimidation had not been employed at all; but organized intimidation is charged against seventeen parishes of the State. Against forty no such charges are made. In these forty parishes the colored registration numbered 87,999; the white registration numbered 72,037; leaving a majority of colored voters registered of 15,965. Those forty parishes returned 65,747 Republican votes, and 39,392 Democratic votes; so that in that part of the State where intimidation is not charged there was a Republican majority of 6,353 votes. It is not pretended that the same arguments were employed in the forty parishes that were employed in the other seventeen, but the results are very different. In the seventeen parishes said to have been terrorized the colored registration was 27,269, and the white registration 20,320, giving a majority of colored votes of 6,949—nearly as large as the colored majority in the rest of the State. But the vote in the seventeen parishes as returned showed but $10,970 Republicans and 21,123 Democrats. In the seventeen parishes where there was a majority of nearly 7,000 colored voters registered there was a majority of 10,153 Democratic votes returned.

The vote is signed by all the Republican members on the committee.

SENATE.—Morrill, Howe and McDonald were appointed a committee to make arrangements for the inauguration.

Postoffice conference committee could not agree and a new one was ordered.

The disabilities of Gen. Quattlebaum were removed.

Mr. Ransom presented the credentials of M. S. Butler as U. S. Senator from South Carolina for six years from the 4th of March 1877. They were signed by Wade Hampton, as Governor and had the seal of the State attached. Read and placed on file.

HOUSE.—The resolution to release the Louisiana returning board was defeated, many Democrats voting nay as the preamble was insulting to Hayes. Only 18 affirmative votes were cast.

The army appropriation bill was agreed to and now goes to the Senate. Provides that no part of the appropriation shall be used to support any State government by the army. A special clause provides that neither of the governments of South Carolina or Louisiana shall be supported until reorganized by Congress.

This action is regarded as equivalent to the success of Hampton and Nicholls. River and harbor bill failed and takes regular course.

Hurl, of Ohio, reported a resolution reciting that it has been declared that the President of the United States may be inaugurated on the fraudulent action of the Louisiana returning board and its members should be discharged from custody—yeas 89, nays 97.

A bill for the payment of claims passed upon by the Southern claims commission passed. It appropriates $474,000.

NIGHT SESSION.

The President has issued a proclamation convening the Senate in extra session March 5th.

Wheeler has arrived.

Lou Wier is to be Marshal of the District.

R. P. Buckland, of Ohio, is to be Private Secretary to Hayes.

The electoral commission paid its employees and dissolved.

An extra session of Congress is improvable.

The President's dispatch to Packard and the adoption by the House by a two thirds vote of the hampering clauses of the army bill have produced a very cheerful feeling in Southern Conservative circles. "Let them have Hayes and Wheeler but give us South Carolina and Louisiana" seems to have been the successful war cry.

Private advices from New Orleans up to four o'clock represent everything quiet there.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

The Louisville Courier Journal states that a number of suits were brought in that city on the 14th instant against the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad for recovery of money amounting to over $100,000, for which the owners of the claims hold bonds of the company as collateral security.

A bill is pending in the Pennsylvania Legislature which makes a penal offense punishable by a fine of not less than $10,000 and not less than three months' imprisonment, of any wilful or negligent misstatement of the business affairs of corporations on the part of their directors or managers.

Italy has declared its seventeen universities open to Sweden, and Switzerland, Norway, Sweden and Denmark have taken similar action, while France has opened the Sorbonne to women and Russia its highest science of medicine and surgery.

The Silk Association has just published its annual summary, showing the consumption of raw silk in the United States for the year 1876, from which it appears that there were used 11,293 packages, valued at $3,626,299.

Fall River is overflowing with orders from South America. An agent recently sent down there to open a market for American cottons has had admirable success. He reports the way so clear for a lively trade.

Slate to the value of $450,000 from the quarries in Maine, Vermont, Virginia and Pennsylvania has been sent to Great Britain during 1876. This export is quite new.

A new act of the Mississippi Legislature exempts from taxation of all kinds the capital stock of any factory company, their machinery, buildings, etc.

Three million barrels of beer were made in and around New York last year, and the demand is increasing.
