Read the advertisement of Young & Gorham which appears in this issue. They are energetic, enterprising, deserving young men and we feel sure will do a thriving business.

We heard a prominent gentleman, from a neighboring town, whose wife's teeth had just been filled by Dr. Joyner, say that he was the most skillful dentist he had ever seen. And so say they all!

Dr. Warner's Health Corset, is acknowledged by every lady to be the best and most perfect fitting corset made. It has been awarded the highest Medal over all competitors. For sale by L. H. Fulcher.

Scientific American says: "Owing apparently to its feed motion the 'Davis' machine possesses an astonishing power of passing over seams and other irregularities and accomplishes with the greatest ease a remarkable wide range of work."

We call attention to the advertisement of Branch & Co., commission merchants, Norfolk, Va., which appears in this issue of the ADVANCE and we take pleasure in recommending them to advise shipping cotton to Norfolk.

We advise everybody when they want nice Lemon and Vanilla Wafers, Butter-Cup, Honey Jumbles, Lemons and soda crackers, Ginger snaps to go Joe McCraws for he has just had a sample of the above kind. They are the best in town, just arrived yesterday, and they are nice and fresh. He has also just received a large lot of confectionaries.

Crops in P. It.

A representative of the ADVANCE made a short tour through a portion of Pitt county last week and was glad to find the crops in such good condition. Mr. R. R. Cotton has, we learned, the finest crop in the county. It is gratifying to know that somewhere in this section there is a good outlook for the crop, for surely in some sections of Wilson and Nash the outlook is anything but encouraging or hopeful.

The Inferior Court.

At a meeting of the Board of Magistrates held Monday September 5th, J. W. Lammeter, Esq., was chosen President, Justice, and R. J. Claytor and H. M. Moore were chosen assessors. Mr. H. C. Moss, was elected Clerk of the Court. Notice was given that a motion would be made at the next meeting to abolish the court.

The Wilson Academy.

The colored people held a meeting in the Court House Sat. Sep. 3rd for the purpose of collecting funds to secure grounds and buildings for the Wilson Academy. A small number only were present but subscription to the amount of $140.00 were received. Another meeting for the same object will be held Saturday September 17th, when it is hoped more interest will be manifested and a larger number will be in attendance.

Meeting of the Commissioners.

The county Commissioners, when in session Monday Sept. 5th, Mr. J. H. Barnes, B. A. Howard, and Wiley Deans were present. Mr. John H. Deans was made Chairman pro tem. Mr. T. H. Bridgers was appointed as a member of the school committee in place of Thel. Pender. District No. 11, license was granted to H. G. Ellis to retail liquor in the town of Wilson for twelve months. The usual accounts and allowances were allowed and the board adjourned to meet the first Monday in October.

Prof. H. H. Hargrove.

We regret to state that Prof. Hargrove was one of the teachers in the district of this place last year but on account of ill health and accepted a situation at the Carolina Military Institute at Charlotte. No gentleman in Wilson more highly respected than Prof. Hargrove, and his departure is a loss to our midst. He was a noble and honorable, educated, and a gentleman, and he has made many friends in Wilson who regret his departure.

Advertised Letters.

A list of letters and postal cards which were remaining in the Post Office Sept. 14th, 1881.
B. Bryan, Miss Lucie V. Barnes, Miss Addie Barnes, James Christie, Gray Deans, Miss Annie Exum (2), Miss George Farmer, Miss Serinia Flowers, D. T. Farmer, Miss Eller Hunt, Miss Maria Pickett, Miss Mollie Wall, Miss Janie Ward.
If the above letters are not called for in four weeks they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.
M. C. DANIELS P. M.

The Circus.

Old John Robinson's circus will exhibit here next Thursday. The papers all along the line where it has exhibited speak very highly of the performance and well of the men who acted with the circus. Old John Robinson's is the oldest circus now traveling in the south and it claims to be the best. Thousands of dollars have been expended for rare animals from all countries and the exhibit in this line is said to be very good. The day fixed is next Thursday. Our advertising columns tell of the many wonderful exhibits that can be seen on that day, and to all circus-going people we would say, don't miss seeing Old John Robinson when he comes to Wilson.

The Wilson Collegiate Institute.

The new school year of this excellent institution of learning opened Monday September 5th. The patronage of the school has been somewhat decreased by the graded school but we believe that in the long run the establishment of the graded school will be beneficial to the Institute. We think the faculty of this school to be equal to that of any school in the State and we know that it is deserving of a very large patronage. Knowing this we recommend it most cordially to parents who have children to educate. A distinguished educator has said that it was the best equipped school in the State and this ought to commend it to parents. New scholars are coming in almost every day, and we trust that the school will have quite as large a number of pupils this year as attended last session.

Personals.

Mr. R. T. Stephens is absent at Seven Springs for his health.
Mrs. E. T. Bynum, of Tarboro, is on a visit to relatives in this place.
Miss Mamie Adams of Goldsboro is on a visit to relatives in this place.

Mr. J. H. Burfoot left Monday with two packages, one white and one colored, for the post office.
Mr. J. W. Adams, who has been absent on a visit to relatives in Northampton, has returned home.
Miss Estelle Davis after an absence of about two weeks on a visit to friends in New York has returned home.
Messrs. M. Rountree, T. J. Hadley, and C. A. Young are absent in northern markets purchasing their fall stocks.
Mr. D. P. Christian has been absent this week in Raleigh. Mr. Wm. Taylor supplied his place during his absence.
Mr. Lat. Williams, who has been north purchasing goods for the firm of Geo. D. Green & Co., returned home Tuesday evening.
Mr. W. N. Hadley, who has been book-keeper for Bynum, Daniel & Co., having resigned his position has returned to his home in La Grange.

Coming in.

Warren & Barnes were too busy opening their large and well-selected stock of goods to prepare an advertisement for this issue. Their announcement will appear next week.

Mr. J. T. Cobb has returned from the north after having purchased a very large stock of goods for the popular firm of Atkinson, Cobb & Co., which they are receiving daily. Look out for their new advertisement next week.

Geo. D. Green & Co.

are now busy opening their fall and winter stock of goods. This is one of our best firms and they will next week send our readers know the splendid bargains they will offer this fall. Look out for their advertisement.

At her residence in this county, three miles west of Wilson, Tuesday September 13th, of heart dropsy, Mrs. Martha Farmer, wife of Mr. J. J. Farmer, about twenty-eight years old, and leaves a husband, three young almost helpless children and many friends to mourn their loss. She was a loving wife, and a faithful friend and her death has sent a pang to many hearts who knew and loved her well.

At her mother's residence near Staunton, Greene county Monday September 12th, Miss Mattie E. Long, aged about 18 years, she was a most estimable young lady and we tender our sympathies to a large circle of sorrowing friends whose hearts are bowed down with grief at this sad dispensation of providence. One who knew her well has prepared an obituary notice which we will publish next week.

Incidents of the Court Room.

Quite a scene occurred in the court room Wednesday of court week when Judge Shipley sentenced a colored damsel to the penitentiary for two years, for the alleged larceny of a bonnet. Her violent demonstrations of grief and her vehement protestations of innocence caused the purpose of the Judge to relent, and with the exclamation that he couldn't stand such a scene, he remitted the sentence to six months in the county jail with the suggestion to her attorney, her own father, to cry brought an excited and noisy crowd to ascertain the result of this unusual dispensation. He again asked the Judge for his indulgence in thus disposing of the case.

James Atkinson, col. n. having the fear of God in his heart and a reverence for the laws of his country, and appreciating the blessings of the Republic, endeavored to do his duty as a citizen. His wife, a Mrs. M. J. Atkinson, a young girl thirteen years old to assume the duties of a married woman without as yet attained to the useful-formation of the marital requirements. But the mischievousness of her eyes upon him, and his distrust of her fidelity, was broken up, and he had to face the angry countenance of those whom he had outraged. While he was in the court room ready to swear like a Trojan, that he was an innocent man, his wife appeared upon the scene, asserting that she was his lawful wife. He again asked the Judge for his indulgence in thus disposing of the case, but the Judge, after a long overhauling, he called her to go through the scathing ordeal of a cross-examination and he began to give way to the whips of conscience and was one of the worst looking men on the stand we have ever seen. In addition to the charges for which he was arraigned the case of perjury was added to the list. He was placed in jail 12 months for the first charge of enticing the young girl to live with him, and the charges of bigamy and perjury were placed on the calendar of the court, for which he will hereafter have to answer.

A colored man by the name of Stett took two pounds of meat from Mr. Bizzett without his consent, and upon being indicted he concluded to play blind, thinking perhaps that would soften the rigors of punishment. Mr. Connor was assigned to his defense, and when the jury saw that it was not meet to convict him, the darkness fell from the scales of his eyes, the light returned to a accustomed place, and Mr. Connor who conducted the case, was pronounced by the Judge to be a first-class orator, inasmuch as he had accomplished such a wonderful cure.

James E. Brown, who gained notoriety by retailing liquor at the big August at Upper Town Creek on Sunday, was indicted in a number of cases and had a hearing last week. He pleaded guilty and judgment was suspended in all cases except one, in which he was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs in the other cases which amounted to $175.00. The Judge reprimanded Mr. Brown, and said that but for his wife and little children he would send him to jail, and cautioned him to be exceedingly careful in the future lest the next judge should send him to jail as these judgments still hung over his head.

Ned Meyer, col. for selling cider at the same place, was fined $25 and the costs, as was also Tom Pitt colored. Joseph Gay for an assault upon his step-father, an account of which appeared in the ADVANCE, was fined $10 and costs.

Hartless Dawson, whose name seems to be appropriate, was fined $10 and costs for cruelty to animals, he having shot his own ox.

Wm. Morris took snuff from Rountree, Barnes & Co., for his sweet-heart and the Judge thought that a stay of five years in the penitentiary was enough for him.

Moses Farmer, col. being of a very combed head, took 200 pounds of candy for the Judge gave him 2 years in the penitentiary for the year for $5 pound. We opine that Moses will and his curly rather expensive.

Ruggles and Smith, charged with keeping a gambling saloon, were discharged upon payment of costs.

Several other minor offences were tried and dismissed from the docket on payment of costs. The Judge has a fund of humor, notwithstanding his dignity, which often breaks out in delightful ripples upon the sombre bosom of judicial streams, like sunlight in a shady place.
