The Republican Congressional Convention will meet in Wilson next Wednesday.
We were pleased to receive a call from Jas. E. Sheppard, Esq., of Washington this week.
Col. H. G. Williams, who was formerly editor of the ADVANCE, glad to see our situation with a call this week.
We were pleased to meet Prof. Brewer, President of Chowan Baptist Female Institute, in town this week.
A negro paroled a coal from Mr. O. Littman last Saturday night but was caught in the act and was arrested and bound over.
The new side track at the depot (a great convenience by the way) is now in use. We are anxious to record that work on the new depot has commenced.
Madison Sykes, Esq., an old well known and highly esteemed citizen of the Peach Tree section of Nash county, died of typhoid fever on Sunday night the 9th inst.
Rebecca Bachas, a former resident of Battleground, who was sent to the Poor House last February was found dead in the woods last Friday near Gen. Lewis' farm.
Dr. Eugene Grissom, of Raleigh, delivered his lecture on "The Science of Men," David the son of Jesse, last Sunday afternoon for a very large audience in the Methodist church. It gave evidence of much research into biblical lore.
A little son of Jesse Grice, colored, came very near drowning in E. G. Barnes' mill pond in this county last Sunday while swimming. He sunk three times and was taken out for dead, but after a short while he showed signs of life, and will live. The moral of this is that boys should not go in swimming on the Sabbath day.
Prof. Houston during the past week has produced several fine renditions of different pieces. His rendition of the "Eve" has been pronounced unsurpassed having been rendered with a wonderful effect upon the audience. It is doubtful whether his "Beautiful Snow," "Anthony," "Eugene Aram," and a number of humorous pieces can be surpassed upon the American platform.
Rev. Thos. R. Owen, a former pastor of the Missionary Baptist church in this place and who has many friends here who mourn for the loss of a friend, counselor and pastor, died of paralysis in Tipton county, Texas, the 7th inst. He was 63 years of age. He was a scholarly man, a polished gentleman whose conversational charms made him a welcome visitor and his religion was of that kind that made him a worthy example. His exceeding sincerity and amiability made him a favorite with those whose privilege it was to know him well.
Nash Republican Meeting.
The Republican Convention of Nash county was held in Nashville July 4th. After the meeting was called to order, with a negro chairman and a negro secretary, the white men present were driven from the convention, and the negroes took charge, proclaiming that the negroes must rule. They have drawn the color line and declared that there was no room in the amendment except for black fifteenth amendments. A negro named Bryant announced himself as candidate for Register of Deeds, making a long speech in which he denominated in most bitter terms the white men of the State, and urged the negroes to stick together and to elect a full bodged negro ticket according to the (negroes) had a majority. Wiley Robbins, who was present, nominated a white man for Secretary, but was hoisted down. Notice was given in unmistakable terms, our prominent tells us, that no white men were not wanted and that the negro intended to rule henceforth.
A Bloody Day in Statesville.
Statesville is alive with political excitement and political fights. On Thursday, of last week according to the Landmark while Hon. W. M. Robbins was lighting a cigar at the counter in the store of Messrs. Hoffmann Bros., M. L. Mott, a son of Dr. J. J. Mott, approached him and before Maj. Robbins was aware of his presence, struck him upon the side of the head, addressing a remark to him as he delivered the blow. He struck two other blows in rapid succession with some instrument in his hand, cutting a considerable gash on his head with each, when Maj. Robbins turned and kicked him over a lot of watermelon lying on the floor. Directly after supper a discussion between Collector J. S. Adams and Deputy Collector W. H. Stockton, with regard to the occurrence mentioned above, resulted in an affray in Mr. W. E. Anderson's store, in which Mr. Adams was a good deal beaten. About midnight a difficulty, growing out of the other two, occurred between Messrs. John E. Osborne and S. C. Cooper, the latter a brother of the collector, the course of which Cooper knocked at Osborne down and Osborne fired twice on him with a pistol, one shot taking off the index finger of the left hand and inflicting a scalp wound (Cooper having hold of a revolver at the time), the other passing through one of his shoulders, making a painful but not dangerous wound.
According to the Charlotte Observer (Mott Organ) "the whole difficulty grew out of a speech made by Maj. Robbins in the court house in Statesville, last Saturday, in which he talked quite roughly of Dr. J. J. Mott. An account of the speech appeared in the Statesville American this week, in which it was stated that "Maj. Robbins, in the line of his speech, alluded in the coarsest and most bitter abuse and denunciation of the revenue officials of this district, and especially of Dr. Mott, saying among other things, in speaking of this gentleman, that Dr. Mott was running for the Senate, or Albany penitentiary, he (Robbins) did not know whether it was ship and tuck between him and Dr. Mott, but he was a man who was liberal with other people's money, adding such more of a similar character."

Speight's Bridge.

DEAR ADVANCE:

Last Friday week proved indeed a grand gala day to the people of this section and vicinity. Early in the morning on Friday the 30th ult. citizens from Wayne, Pitt, Wilson and Lenoir counties came pouring in at Col. Beaman's grove, to witness and enjoy the first grand picnic of the season, to take place in this neighborhood, at an early hour, bugles and horns commenced to roll in and about ten o'clock the crowd was estimated at about five hundred. Dancing was in order at the usual time and continued until two o'clock, when Capt. Edwards made a few remarks invited the large crowd to the well filled tables, and as a matter of course every body, young and old, was eagerly "swaiting and watching for thee," (dinner I mean). The long and elegantly arranged tables were over laden with delicacies of all kinds. Not for many years has it been my good fortune to witness such a magnificent display of good things on a picnic table, and I trust here that too much credit cannot be given to Messrs. Charlie P. Farmer, E. A. Darden, Willie M. Darden, the affable managers of the picnic for the numerous kindness and pleasures shown to all during the very enjoyable occasion. The ladies too who participated in the management of the table are well worthy of praise. Immediately after dinner dancing was resumed and continued until late in the afternoon when the large crowd dispersed and returned to their respective homes well pleased with the delightful festivities of the day. I have neglected to mention the fact that excellent music was furnished during the day by Messrs. Matt Cox, of Stantonburg. There were very few newspaper men on hand. The picnic can truly say was a grand success in every respect. I trust that the editor of the ADVANCE was not on hand to represent both himself and paper. I will not say more about the picnic, will refer to other topics. The political fever will soon begin to rage with great fury in this county. Several prominent names have already been mentioned for the various county offices. Luby Harper, Esq., and a jolly old soul is he will continue to preside over our county as Sheriff. He is the right man in the right place. The many friends of Capt. Wm. A. Darden will urge his name for the Legislature before the next nominating Convention of this county. Capt. Darden is a man of rare intellect and a capital speaker. He has done more for the Democratic party than any other man in the county, and not withstanding his true Democratic principles, he is popular with all classes of people. We would be proud to see his name thrown to the breeze under the star of some paper for Legislator of Green county. The name of L. W. Hooker, Esq., of Henderson Township, of this county, a wealthy and highly esteemed citizen has been very prominently mentioned for Clerk of Superior Court for Green county. Mr. Hooker is popular with most of all classes of people, and will fill the position nominated, he will add strength to our party. A certain very interesting young man of this place has recently been the recipient of a fine horse and buggy from Wilson. If all reports are true and "our crowd knows best, and I think she do" his prospects for a new life are decidedly flattering. Success to you old boy. The crops in this neighborhood are looking much better than they are in Wilson and Statesville, and sections. Notwithstanding the cold spring spell cotton is looking very well in some places and growing rapidly. The corn crop down here is looking exceedingly fine, and the wheat crop is the largest that has been harvested in this section for many years. The oat crop has also turned out very well. There will be quite a large yield raised by the chata farmers. The fruit crop will be larger down here this season than it has before in several years. Mr. S. P. Cox, one of our wealthiest and most prominent farmers has returned home from the Seven Springs, Wayne county, where he has been spending some time in the interest of his health. Mr. Bert Darden, one of Green county's favorite boys is attending the Goldsboro Normal School at that place. Success to you Bert. I am glad to say that the ADVANCE is getting to be quite popular down here among our reading public. There is no reason why it should not be so, as it is the largest and one of the best weeklies in the State. Allow me to congratulate the young editor, and may he continue to advance and push forward the good cause of Democracy. I have just learned with great pleasure that Mr. Eddie Farmer of your city was the choice of the good people of Wilson before the last Nominating Convention of Wilson county for Sheriff on Saturday last. Eddie Farmer is a young man of superior judgment. He is kind, honest, and has a good deal of God's devotion. He has made a most excellent officer. I feel sure that he will again be elected by a large some majority. We all wanted your patriotic townsman Hugh Murray for Judge, however, Judge McKoy will give entire satisfaction to the voters of this county. The railroad fever has about subsided after a lingering illness of several weeks. James Faircloth, an old colored man, died very suddenly near here last Saturday. He was a good, true and faithful old servant. The matrimonial market is quite dull here owing to the heat of the term. There was quite a heavy lightning and thunder storm in this neighborhood a few days ago. Lightning struck in Mr. Tom Beaman's field during the storm and did considerable damage to the cotton. I will write again, "SAXKY."

The State Normal School.

The Normal School closed yesterday morning at half past 10 o'clock. On Wednesday night the musical entertainment under the special direction of Prof. Chas. Wilson was given, and proved to be a most enjoyable occasion, as is always the case with Prof. Wilson's entertainments and this one is said to have been one of his best. Every part of the programme was attractive, but the quartet with four guitars by two gentlemen and two ladies was a treat under the leadership of the instruction was particularly enjoyable.

Prof. Robt. Houston was down for two readings, once in each of the two parts of the programme. After his reading of "How they brought the good news from Ghent," He repeated at the special request of Gov. Jarvis, "Anthony's march" over the dead body of Caesar." Although this piece had been given by Prof. Houston twice before during the Normal session, yet in his masterly rendition of it, it seemed better the last time than ever. On Thursday morning the closing exercises took place. The exercises were opened with prayer by Elder P. D. Gold, Editor Zion's Landmark, after which Spgt. Tomlinson, Professor Bruton and Phillips, H. C. Connor, Esq., of the Normal School Board, each made a few appropriate remarks. Gov. Jarvis was then introduced and certainly to the audience for about an hour. He spoke in the highest terms of the Normal School, which he had been attending for two days, and of the wide and justifiable reputation of the Normal School. In this connection he lauded the great and successful efforts of the people of Wilson, in establishing their Graded School which had already done an untold amount of good throughout the State. The people of Wilson, both town and county, have both reason and right to be very proud of the unparalleled success of both the Graded School and the State Normal School at this place, the latter of which Prof. DeGraff, who has spent more than a score of years in just such work, several times pronounced to be the best managed, most successful and beneficial he had ever been engaged in. In fact he pronounced it to be an ideal Normal School. This only goes to justify the opinion of everybody who has been in attendance at the Wilson Normal, that it was a true Normal School both in theory and practice.

Prof. DeGraff's Lecture.

On Friday night last Prof. DeGraff delivered his popular lecture "Elements of Success, or Bound to Win." The Opera House was crowded and expectations founded on DeGraff's great popularity as a Normal instructor and his fascinating manner as a speaker were running high when the lecturer appeared upon the stage and was introduced by Superintendent Tomlinson. The speaker at once took and had bound the attention of the large audience which he held uninterrupted to the very close, for an hour and fifteen minutes. It has not been our pleasure for a long time to listen to such an instructive, entertaining discourse. The nature of his theme was so suggestive of the characteristics of the man, and as in all things else he certainly succeeded on this occasion in captivating his audience. The discourse was full of the best of good hard sense and practicality and at times eloquence, wit and humor seemed to vie for the upland, the audience now being in almost breathless silence and now and again convulsed with rounds of laughter which in one or two instances continued irremissible for such a length of time as to compel the speaker to await its subsidence. This lecture may well be accounted the event of the evening entertainments during the Normal School. Besides ripe scholarship, large experience, ready affluence of delivery, he possesses a personal magnetism that is bound to win the attention and earnest sympathy of his audience.
