The Graded School Bill,

We print to-day the Graded submitted to the vote of the people of this School District on the first Monday in May .-The proposition to establish a by the bill, upon a tax basis is ple of the district. In voting ing the school. upon it every person should consider and weigh carefully the objections urged against it. by no means the panacea for all of the moral, social and political evils of the day, as claimed by many, it cannot be denied that The Power of Corporations. it is the settled policy of the American States and of the ention, wealth and commercial has entered so largely into its progress as the generous liberal settlers in regard to its schools. To those who remember a few years back nothing stood out so prominent in the history of the town as the excellent schools. which brought so much intelligence and prosperity to it. Just here we deem it not out of the way to say that sufficient appreciation is not shown by the present inhabitants of the generosity and wisdom of those who gave to the town the valuable school property which has been the basis of its educational interests. Much of the high value of the real estate in the town is due to the schools. Parents have been induced to come here to educate their children and thereby become, with their sons and daughters, permanent residents of the town.

We will pursue this subject rather than of actual history."

Failing Creek, N. C., May 31, 1882. This is to certify that I have used several ofter Cotto Planters, and that the Cox Planter, now owned by Messrs. Stanly & Kennedy, is the less I have ever used. It is light, simple, strong and durable, and the only Planter I have ever sen the will effectually cover the seed in soft or clodely land.

Kinston, N. C., September 13, 1882.—I take pleasure in saying that I think the C. 2. Elanter the best in use. I have used several other P anters, and unbesttatingly say the Cox is the best to sow regularly, and has the best coverer I ever saw—can sow close apto stumps and put it sows regularly, and has the best coverer I ever saw—can sow close apto stumps and put it he ends of the row.
