

THE WILSON ADVANCE
A WEEKLY DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPER
DEVOTED TO THE MATERIAL, EDUCATIONAL, POLITICAL AND AGRI-CULTURAL INTERESTS OF EASTERN
NORTH CAROLINA.
Published Every Friday Morning.
Joseph Daniels, Editor and Proprietor.
H. B. HARDY, General Agent
Friday morning, July 11, 1884.

The Nominations.
For Governor:
ALFRED MOORE SCALES,
of Guilford.
For Lieutenant Governor:
CHARLES MANLY STEPHENSON,
of New Hanover.
For Secretary of State:
WILLIAM SAUNDERS, of Orange.
For Treasurer:
DONALD H. BAIN, of Wake.
For Auditor:
WILLIAM ROBERTS,
of Gates.
For Attorney General:
THOMAS E. DAVIDSON, of Brunswick.
For Superintendent of Public Instruction:
JOHN R. FINGER, of Catawba.
For Associate Justice of Supreme Court:
AUGUSTUS S. MERRIMAN, of Johnston.
For Electors at Large:
J. H. K. JONES,
JOHN N. STAPLES.
For Congress and District:
F. A. WOODARD, of Wilson.
For Elector—2nd District: DORRILL WILLIAM,
of Beaufort.

National Convention.
The National Convention is in session, but up to the hour of going to press, no ballot has been taken. It is useless to speculate as to who will be nominated. If, as many people think, a dark horse is nominated, Thomas A. Hendricks will stand a good chance. And viewing the field of good, useful and available men, the Convention could hardly do a better thing than nominate him. There is an undoubted disposition on the part of the Convention not to hear John Kelly or accede to his demands. This is a gratifying indication, and speaks well for the Democracy. Kelly is violent in his opposition to Cleveland and says that he cannot carry New York. In 1876 he opposed Tilden and made the same prediction in regard to New York. His prediction is worth as much now as it was then. If Cleveland is nominated he can be elected, Kelly to the contrary notwithstanding. In another column we publish the full report of Convention up to the hour of going to press received by telegraph. The ADVANCE means never to be behind in furnishing as late news regarding the Convention as the dailies.

County Politics.
The township convention, to elect delegates to the Wilson county convention will be held Saturday, July 26th. We desire to impress upon all Democrats the importance of attending; these meetings and of participating in them, and of expressing their sentiments. The time for Democrats to differ is before the nominating conventions and the time to make their demands is in their township conventions. We hope that these township meetings will be largely attended and that representative men will be chosen to the convention. There is a great deal of opposition in some quarters to the instruction of delegates. On this point we have to say: The township conventions are pre-eminently the council of the people. There they have supreme power. If they desire the nomination of a certain man for a certain office, let them say so. If, on the other hand, they prefer to leave the matter to good and honest delegates to do so. Each township has the right to act for itself in this matter. If any man fears that a delegate will not carry out the wishes of the people, he can make him do it by instructions. Sometimes we think it is wise to compel delegates to act under instructions; at other times, provided the delegates are men whose highest aim is to respect the sentiments of the people who they represent, it is best to let them go uncontrolled. There is nothing undemocratic in instructions and if any township desires to instruct let it not be deterred from so doing.

Again, we repeat, it is the duty of all good Democrats to attend their township conventions and see that delegates are sent who will properly represent them, men who cannot be influenced or swayed from their purpose by any consideration. We want to talk this year of "rings" or "cliques." We desire the people in their sovereign capacity to meet in their several townships and determine their course of action and to come to the county convention and represent their people. This is what all good and true Democrats desire, and if our people will do this Wilson county will increase its majority this year and there will be no complaint or cause for complaint. All Democrats ought to desire the nomination of the strongest, best and most available men, and ought to be willing to make all personal preferences subservient to the good of the party. Work for the man of your choice now; after the convention work hard and unceasingly for the choice of your party.

The Desecration of the Sabbath.
"Congress finally adjourned Monday at 2 p. m., after a session prolonged throughout Saturday night and Sunday," says the telegrams from Washington. "After a session prolonged through Saturday night and Sunday" What a commentary on the observation of the Sabbath! The legislative department of a government in a Christian country, proclaims its disbelieve by continuing in session and passing bills and performing other routine work on the day in which God rested and said should be hallowed. What better can we expect from the masses when our rulers openly deride the command? Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy," and make the Lord's day a day for the transaction of secular business. In our Lord's day he drove men from the temple who were money changers. Are not the ordinary transactions of the Congress equally worldly? In what respect do our Congressmen differ from these money changers?

The salary of our Representatives has been fixed at a sufficient price to enable them to give their entire time, if the needs of legislation demand it, to the public service, and yet we see these Congressmen, in order to get off home, to the sea coast, to political conventions, to attend to private business, profaning the Sabbath by turning it into a day of work. Is this right? Is it setting a good example? The profanation of the Sabbath is one of the greatest evils of our age and in some sections its proper observance has almost gone into disuse. To restore the ancient landmarks, and to call the people to the better performance of their duties, will require the best endeavors of our leaders in moral reform. When they are checked at the start in this great work for the betterment of mankind by the highest branch of our government what hope have they of final success? This is a pertinent inquiry and is suggested by the disgraceful desecration of the Sabbath by our Honorable (?) Representatives.

A Defect in Normal Instruction.
It has been in our mind some time to call attention to a defect in Normal Instruction, which has impaired our otherwise good system of public education. This glaring defect has been manifested this summer in the various teachers' institutes in the State, and especially, under our own observation, in the counties surrounding Wilson. The State appropriated $500 to hold a Normal School in Wilson. The county, the Peabody fund and private citizens contributed to swell the amount to $769.15. The faculty was, in all respects equal, to that of any Normal ever held in the State. Before the Normal opened the Secretary of the Board of Managers wrote to the commissioners of the adjoining counties, suggesting that instead of holding a Teachers' Institute in the county, they appropriate the $100 allowed by law, to the Wilson Normal and urge the teachers to attend. If they had adopted this suggestion the Normal would have been better, the attendance larger, and more good accomplished. They declined to do so. They have written to the commissioners of the adjoining counties, suggesting that instead of holding a Teachers' Institute in the county, they appropriate the $100 allowed by law, to the Wilson Normal and urge the teachers to attend. If they had adopted this suggestion the Normal would have been better, the attendance larger, and more good accomplished. They declined to do so. They have written to the commissioners of the adjoining counties, suggesting that instead of holding a Teachers' Institute in the county, they appropriate the $100 allowed by law, to the Wilson Normal and urge the teachers to attend. If they had adopted this suggestion the Normal would have been better, the attendance larger, and more good accomplished. They declined to do so.

When Delaware was the first to propose the name of H. G. Connor Esq., of Wilson for the Senate from the 7th, senatorial district, will strike a responsive chord in the hearts of the people of Wilson who delight to honor a man of Mr. Connor's stamp. If he can be induced to accept there is not a shadow of doubt that Mr. Connor will receive the nomination. He is the man for the place and we have no citizen who would make a better representative. The North Carolina delegation to the Chicago convention acted wisely in electing Hon. Wm. T. Dortch, Chairman of the delegation. There is no public man in North Carolina in whom the people have more confidence, or who is truer to the people whom he represents. He is one of our few public men who do not dwarf by association. Hon. Geo. G. Haynes, long known as a true and reliable platform to present the name of Bayard and was listened to with great attention, his mention of Bayard's qualities was cheered, and

THE NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.
A LARGE AND ENTHUSIASTIC BODY OF DEMOCRATS INTENT ON NOMINATING OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.
Chicago is literally full of people who are attending the National Nominating Convention. The hall, the same in which the Republic held their Convention, has been considerably enlarged and is always crowded.
FIRST DAY'S SESSION—TUESDAY.
At 12:45 P. M., Tuesday, the Convention was called to order by ex-Senator Barmon, Chairman of the National Democratic Committee. Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. D. C. Marquis, of the Northwest Theological Seminary. He prayed for "a blessing on this great assembly of representative citizens, that they should be endowed plentifully with that wisdom which is just, pure, then peaceful and gentle and easy. He entreated that nothing should be done through strife or vain jealousy, but that they should be filled with that charity which is not puffed up, and do not believe itself unseasonably. He prayed that their deliberations would be conducted in a spirit of wisdom as would best promote the glory of God and the welfare of the Nation."
Hon. Richard B. Hubbard, of Texas, was called to the chair, chairman, without a dissenting voice. On taking the chair Mr. Hubbard made a sensible and practical speech, during which he reviewed the cause of the Democratic party. He said the Democratic party would present Cleveland's qualifications in a very forcible manner, and commands the earnest attention of the Convention. He chieftly frequent applause.
Every mention of Cleveland's name, calls forth cheering, and several times about one o'clock the delegates rose to their feet and cheered.
Mayor Harrison has taken the platform to second Cleveland, and received a loud applause. His remarks were well received, and there is great cheering, with many delegates on their feet. Mr. Lockwood, of N. Y., has taken the platform to present the name of Cleveland. He presented Cleveland's qualifications in a very forcible manner, and commands the earnest attention of the Convention. He chieftly frequent applause.
Every mention of Cleveland's name, calls forth cheering, and several times about one o'clock the delegates rose to their feet and cheered.
Mayor Harrison has taken the platform to second Cleveland, and received a loud applause. His remarks were well received, and there is great cheering, with many delegates on their feet. Mr. Lockwood, of N. Y., has taken the platform to present the name of Cleveland. He presented Cleveland's qualifications in a very forcible manner, and commands the earnest attention of the Convention. He chieftly frequent applause.
Every mention of Cleveland's name, calls forth cheering, and several times about one o'clock the delegates rose to their feet and cheered.

Mr. Grady, of New York, offered an amendment, the following: "And when the vote of a State, as announced by the chairman of the delegation, is challenged by any member of the delegation, then the secretary shall call the names of the individual delegates of such State, and their individual preference as expressed shall be recorded as the vote of such State." [Laughter and applause.]
John J. Bellows, of New York, said that the Convention in his State had directed that, in compliance with immemorial usage in that State, the sentiment of its majority should be first ascertained, and that in so doing the Convention of the New York delegation should thereafter be cast as a unit. The Convention of New York having placed upon its delegates that trust in the right of this Convention to try the case, thereby conferred. Such action would not pass. Mr. Bellows then read the instructions of the New York State Convention, showing that the delegates were bound to vote as a unit, and accordingly cast the votes of the majority. The speech was cheered and lasted.
An amendment to the amendment was offered, that no State shall change its vote after the total vote has been announced. Mr. Grady (Tammany) said that there was great danger through political machinery the honest vote of New York would be deflected. [Sensational cheering and applause.]
Mr. Bellows said he had great hopes when he found such a denunciation by Messrs. Kelly, Grady and Cockran of machine methods. [Laughter and cheers.]
On Grady's amendment that delegates be allowed to vote as they prefer, disregarding the unit rule, a vote by States has been ordered. Amendment last, Ayes, 350, noes, 446.
The resolution that in the voting for candidates no State shall be allowed to change its vote during roll call was carried.
Benj. E. Butler did not appear in the convention hall to day.
Convention adjourned till 11 a. m., to-morrow.

SECOND DAY.—WEDNESDAY.
The Convention was opened with prayer by the Right Rev. Bishop Melancon. Mr. Taylor, of Ark., chairman of the committee on credentials, reported a list of delegates, with an amendment giving the Territorial delegates a right to vote in the Convention.
After debate the report was adopted.
The report of the committee on Permanent Organization was then made, the name of W. H. Vilas, of Wisconsin, being presented as President, with a list of vice-presidents (one from each State) and several Secretaries and clerks of the temporary organization be continued under the permanent organization.
Mr. Vilas was escorted to the chair by Mr. Hendricks and five others. He thanked the convention for the honor and made a fine speech. In conclusion, he counseled the convention in their action, and bespoke a generous forbearance for himself in the discharge of his duties.
At 1:50 the roll of States for the presentation of candidates began. He is one of our few public men who do not dwarf by association. Hon. Geo. G. Haynes, long known as a true and reliable platform to present the name of Bayard and was listened to with great attention, his mention of Bayard's qualities was cheered, and

THIRD DAY.—THURSDAY.
The Convention called to order at 10:30. The first action was the completion of the roll of the States for the presentation of candidates. At 11:09 Hendricks entered the hall and took the chair. He made a fine speech, and was cheered and lasted.
An amendment to the amendment was offered, that no State shall change its vote after the total vote has been announced. Mr. Grady (Tammany) said that there was great danger through political machinery the honest vote of New York would be deflected. [Sensational cheering and applause.]
Mr. Bellows said he had great hopes when he found such a denunciation by Messrs. Kelly, Grady and Cockran of machine methods. [Laughter and cheers.]
On Grady's amendment that delegates be allowed to vote as they prefer, disregarding the unit rule, a vote by States has been ordered. Amendment last, Ayes, 350, noes, 446.
The resolution that in the voting for candidates no State shall be allowed to change its vote during roll call was carried.
Benj. E. Butler did not appear in the convention hall to day.
Convention adjourned till 11 a. m., to-morrow.

9:19 p. m.—Point of order made that this Convention cannot make rules for next Convention.
9:20 p. m.—Amendment to postpone resolution indefinitely made. Roll of States ordered on amendment.
9:21 p. m.—Amendment to lay resolution on table carried.
9:22 p. m.—Morrison, of Illinois, takes platform to present report of the Committee on resolutions. Great cheering.
The platform pledges the democratic party to revise the tariff in spirit of fairness to all interests in making reduction in taxes. It is proposed to amend the platform to read: "The government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would be heard to the end of the world. He said that the government should improve the Mississippi river and Morrison said that discussion on resolutions should be confined to an hour, when he would take the question. Butler then took the chair and made a worthy report. He was allowed 30 minutes. He said he came here representing 1,500,000 men and he would