

A. and C. G. Daniels, Editors and Proprietors

MR. LAMAR'S CONFIRMATION.

The question of whether or not the Republican Senate will confirm the nomination by Mr. Cleveland of Mr. L. Q. C. Lamar to a seat on the Supreme Bench is attracting the attention of the people of the whole country. The committee to whom the question was submitted make two reports. The Republicans on the committee report against confirmation and they are in the majority. The Democrats, of course, make a minority report in which they affirm the confirmation. Much has been said and written on this question, both for and against the confirmation of this able lawyer to a seat on the highest tribunal in our country. The best thing we have yet seen on the subject is an open letter from Senator Stewart, of Nevada. He asks, "After the destruction of so much property and so many lives to preserve the Union, is it desirable to either side to plant the seeds of discord anew, or to re-open the wounds inflicted by the war, by cultivating hatred and distrust between the North and South?"

Senator Stewart is a Republican, and advises all his Republican friends to follow his example and vote for the confirmation of Mr. Lamar. In speaking of the refusal of the Senate to confirm the nomination he says: "The public press has so framed the issue that the rejection of Mr. Lamar will be construed both in the North and South as a declaration that his participation in the war disqualifies him and all others occupying a similar position for a place on the Supreme Bench. It is unreasonable to expect that the people of the eleven States of the Union shall during all the present generation be excluded from participation in the judicial determinations of the highest court of the United States."

Senator Stewart puts the question properly. Are the people to understand that the Republican party will confirm no Southern man for a Supreme Court Judge? That is undoubtedly what their factious opposition means. Just keep up that lick, gentlemen, and you need have not the least fear but that the South will continue solid.

SHERMAN AND VORHEES.

Our Washington correspondent gives the information, on the first page of this week's ADVANCE, that Senator Vorhees gave John Sherman the genuine "dressing down" that he deserved. The bloody-minded John took it upon himself to make a little political capital for himself by reviewing and refuting (?) the strong arguments for a reduction of the tariff presented by Mr. Cleveland in his message to Congress. The speech of Sherman on the subject was, so the papers say—a strong one, and presented the Republican side of the question forcibly. The reply of Vorhees was, the Democrats all say, convincing and overwhelming. It is one of the ablest men in the Senate on "our" side and he gave the "bloody shirt" the "best he had in his shop." The Republicans cannot defend protection on any grounds of justice, so long as the Treasury is filled to overflowing.

"THE OX GORDED."

It amuses us to see the way that everything that is done in the South is magnified and distorted out of all semblance to the truth. The difference, when the grossest of crimes and outrages are committed in other sections of our country is always apparent. The Wilmington Star gives two illustrations of this: "Up in the New Hampshire country where 'high moral ideas' prevail, it has been discovered that a perfectly sane couple have been confined for thirteen years in the insane asylum. The State voted $1,000 to investigate their condition. The California sugar corporations are said to treat their employees like slaves. The bosses in the mines also terrorize the workmen. They are all made to vote as they are ordered. Such is about the amount of the charges brought by Mr. F. J. Sullivan, who is contesting for the representation in the Federal House from the Fifth District."

OUR BALEIGH LETTER.

Substantial gossip carried the Capital-Senatorial chat and other Political Talk. Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 11th, '88. It doth not yet appear what it will be. Twenty years ago can tell all about it. I can make a prediction that I can say "cannot fail to come true" by my word for it, none of these have anything about it. I don't know what your friends are positive that he will receive the nomination for Governor, and if you will give them half a chance they will demonstrate it to an absolute certainty. Judge Clark's friends are surprised that any man should doubt his nomination, and will call over enough counties to nominate him and leave you without an excuse for disbelief that he will be the next Governor. Capt. Syd. Alexander's friends will show that there is a large sentiment in the State in favor of a progressive farmer for Governor and convince you (this is the third time you have been convinced) that no power can prevent his capturing the prize. About this time an enthusiastic Holt man will express astonishment at your faith in the strength of either of the other three candidates. I love to the excitement of a mathematical proposition in the palm of the Colono's hand waiting to get ripe. He can pull it. And then the friends of "A. C. Armfield and his Chas." Cooke will tell you that neither of them will be in the race for Governor, but that according to the man, Cooke or Armfield would make the strongest candidate who could be nominated. In the midst of your confusion and perplexity you are told that Gillman is a very strong man for the nomination. Upon the face of this rises a wise politician who says: "The campaign this year is to be no walk over. It will be hotly contested. We need a candidate whose very name will carry consternation

SEWINGS BANKS.

The Goldsboro Argus says there is considerable talk of establishing a Savings Bank at that place. The Argus is edited by three lawyers and that paper says the law authorizing the establishment of these banks: We have examined the law of our State which provides for the establishment of such institutions and find it apparently complete in its provisions for the protection of depositors. There can be no danger in making deposits in such a bank, except in case of rascality on the part of its officers, and so far as we know there is no protection against rascality. All the papers in the State where such institutions have been established under the new law speak in high praise of their workings. The ADVANCE would be pleased to know that a Savings Bank had been organized in Goldsboro. We hope to see one in Wilson in the not far distant future.

The opposition of the Republicans to the confirmation of Mr. Lamar to the Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, is one of the clearest evidences of the absence of all principle they have yet given. They all recognize him as an able lawyer and an upright man, but they hope to make a little political thunder by opposing his confirmation. The appointment of Mr. Vilas as Secretary of the Interior, and Mr. Dickinson as Postmaster General, will hardly be acted upon until Mr. Lamar is confirmed, or rejected it is said.

THE Goldsboro Methodist Advance has been sold by the former owners, Drs. Bobbitt and Robey, to Mr. L. A. Potter, of Beaufort, who has had some experience as a quill driver. The Methodist Advance has been, since its establishment, one of the strongest and best newspapers in North Carolina, and we wish it that success that its former strength of intellect entitled it to. We welcome Mr. Potter back to the newspaper fold.

It is remarkable how high the newspapers can puff a town up when they go at it. The little town of Anniston, Ala., was boomed until people thought it was a town of some considerable size. They held an election there several days ago and only 401 votes were polled. This shows that with all the protective tariff blowing in the newspapers the place is nothing more than a village. The Michigan University has 1,406 students, of whom 15 per cent. are the sons of parents who do manual labor for a livelihood, says the resident. There are hundreds of men whose children are growing up in ignorance who are perfectly able to give everyone of them the benefits of a good education if they would. The greatest need in North Carolina is not in North Carolina, but in the minds of those who appreciate the benefits of an education.

SPEAKER CARLISLE has received considerable favorable commendation upon the committees that he appointed. His wisdom exhibited in the selection of men for the various committees, is said by knowing ones to be great. Mr. Carlisle is a wise and patriotic leader. If the Democracy will only follow his lead in most things, they need not fear but that the best interest of the people will be subserved.

The Wayneville News is now published by a stock company. It retains its former politics, it announces. One of the most amusing things we have yet seen is the "off hand" manner in which it refers to the sectionalism and strife producing tendency of the Democratic party. That paper is undoubtedly for peace, even if it has to endorse the pacific John Sherman or the sweet talking James G. Blaine to secure it.

The sentiment against public executions grows with the people. The demoralizing and degrading tendency of public executions is recognized by every thoughtful man, and we hope the day is not far distant when these barbarous exhibitions will be witnessed by none save the wretched and a few others. The next legislature should pass a law requiring all executions to be strictly private.

The Farmers Convention of North Carolina met at Greensboro on the 10th. The Alliance in this State is becoming quite a strong organization and we doubt not that the Convention was a well attended one. The Farmers of the "old North State." The ADVANCE is pleased to see any movement that will help the farmers go forward.

The Legislature of South Carolina has passed a law against cock fighting in that State. Only a short while ago there was a big cock in at Columbia. There must be something low, vulgar and brutal in men who fight chickens. We are glad that the "Palmetto State" has put a stop to such exhibitions of brutality in her borders.

JUDGE BOND appears to be doing his best in all his decisions, to break down all semblance of States rights. He never spares an opportunity to give a decision against the States rights idea of the Constitution.

Bill Arp has a good letter in this week's ADVANCE, in which he refers to the cotton claims of the people of the South. We notice, on this line, that Senator Ransom has introduced a bill to refund to the State of North Carolina the net proceeds of the cotton sales seized by the treasury agents in various places in 1865-66. The total amount is $12,532,85. Besides one hundred bales seized at Charlotte, the amount of which is not specified. We have no idea that the bill will pass. It is a just claim and should be allowed, but justice appears but little to the average Republican Senator.

The proposition of the ADVANCE to pass such a law as would put a stop to gambling at fairs, we would be pleased to hear from the brethren on. It strikes us that this is a matter of considerable importance. The protection of the people from the sharpers and rascals at these fairs should receive some little attention at the hands of our legislators.

The newspapers are saying that the cause of Mr. Manning's death was over work. There are more people who kill themselves at work than people think for. We hope no lazy loafer will refer to a walk from one bar to another, however, for fear of destroying his health by over work.

The Raleigh News Observer says a letter has been received by the Agricultural Department from a gentleman in Dakota, who desires to seek a more pleasant climate. He has written to the right State to learn of a pleasant climate. North Carolina's climate is unsurpassed by that of any other State in the Union.

The New Corner.

My friend in Egypt, he has gone there probably to find up all the information possible about that famous corner in grain and land that was so neatly engineered several thousand years ago by Joseph Ben Imel—the first speculative corner in existence, if we except the little deal in apples that took place somewhat earlier in Eden.—Washington (D. C.) Gazette.

Which Shall It Be.

An Iowa editor thus summarizes the lesson of Cleveland and protection for the people. Blaine and extension for a few monopolists. Correct; and the contest next year will be between the interests of the masses, as represented by the Democratic party, and the interests of the classes, as represented by the Republican party. No intelligent citizen who is not utterly blinded by prejudice, can fail to recognize these obvious truths.—Ex.

The March of Education.

A young graduate of Harvard, living in Syracuse, recently whipped a man twice his size. The cause of education is advancing with much rapidity.—Albany Journal.

A Doomed Candidate.

The rabbit plague in Australia is about to be supplanted by something far worse. The roller skating mania has just reached that unhappy country.—Chattanooga Commercial.

OUR BALEIGH LETTER.

Substantial gossip carried the Capital-Senatorial chat and other Political Talk.

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 11th, '88. It doth not yet appear what it will be. Twenty years ago can tell all about it. I can make a prediction that I can say "cannot fail to come true" by my word for it, none of these have anything about it. I don't know what your friends are positive that he will receive the nomination for Governor, and if you will give them half a chance they will demonstrate it to an absolute certainty. Judge Clark's friends are surprised that any man should doubt his nomination, and will call over enough counties to nominate him and leave you without an excuse for disbelief that he will be the next Governor. Capt. Syd. Alexander's friends will show that there is a large sentiment in the State in favor of a progressive farmer for Governor and convince you (this is the third time you have been convinced) that no power can prevent his capturing the prize. About this time an enthusiastic Holt man will express astonishment at your faith in the strength of either of the other three candidates. I love to the excitement of a mathematical proposition in the palm of the Colono's hand waiting to get ripe. He can pull it. And then the friends of "A. C. Armfield and his Chas." Cooke will tell you that neither of them will be in the race for Governor, but that according to the man, Cooke or Armfield would make the strongest candidate who could be nominated. In the midst of your confusion and perplexity you are told that Gillman is a very strong man for the nomination. Upon the face of this rises a wise politician who says: "The campaign this year is to be no walk over. It will be hotly contested. We need a candidate whose very name will carry consternation into the Republican ranks. Jarvis is that man, and if he is nominated success is assured from the start." And thus it goes. Believe me—none of these political prophets know anything about what they predict. Nobody does. The people are at sea. There is no crystallization of public opinion around any man to such an extent as to warrant a prediction as to who will be the nominee of the convention. The people are waiting—waiting to hear records of all the candidates named, discussed, and then they will nominate the best man and what is better, elect him.

Yesterday, I heard of a new move on the political checker board. A friend from the Eastern part of the State, a wise and far-seeing politician, told me that the plan proposed by some was to nominate Ex-Gov. Jarvis for Governor and Col. Thomas M. Holt for Lieutenant Governor. Jarvis was then to be elected to the Senate and Holt to succeed as Governor. That is one of the plans, I do not speak authoritatively, but I think I speak knowingly, when I say that Senator Jarvis has not been considered about this arrangement. He would have little objection to secure Jarvis or any other good Democrat in the Governor's chair, but it will be only after a hard and desperate struggle when he releases his hold upon his seat in the United States Senate.

Speaking of the United States Senator puts me in mind to say this: The fight in the State this year will be a hotly contested one. Divisions in the Democratic ranks will defeat the party. From some talk of rather, gossip, that I have recently heard, I gather that it is feared in some quarters that the friends of both Ransom and Jarvis will attempt to control the county convention and secure the nominations of a pledged man to the legislature. Do not think that there is any truth in the rumor, but I do know this: That if those distinguished gentlemen allow their friends to jeopardize the success of the party by any such dish schemes, they will both deserve to be defeated, and another man substituted. I do not believe that either of them would let himself to such unworthy tricks and maneuvers, but it is well to sound the note of warning in time. There ought not to be any party on the part of members of the legislature and men who ought to be nominated who would let the success of the party paramount to the elevation of a personal favorite. Dissensions, log-rolling, and feuds would follow a campaign in every county in which an attempt would be made to elect for Ransom, or Jarvis, or any other man. Let legislators be elected unpledged or untrammeled. Let the people elect good and true men who will do what is best for the party. If this is done, success will be ours; if not, the Republicans will carry the legislature. And from such a calamity I say—and I say it reverently—"Good Lord deliver us."

There is little news in Raleigh. There have been two or three failures, but none of them were for large amounts. There have been some business changes but not many. Business is a way quiet after Christmas, and it is so here now. People are busy either collecting or trying to collect, and in paying or trying to pay debts, and settling their affairs in good shape. I believe there is a spirit of hopefulness in the faith in the New Year. If we can elect Cleveland and Mr. Ransom, the Democratic candidate for Governor) elect a Democratic legislature and make "big crops," I will be happy in 1888 regarding the how the wind blows. J. D.

CLEVELAND'S APPRECIATIVE LETTER TO MR. LAMAR.

Resignation of the Secretary of the Interior Offered and Accepted. The Correspondence. The President's Manly and Handsome Response.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Secretary Lamar on Saturday tendered to the President his resignation as Secretary of the Interior, and it was accepted by the President. The formal resignation, it is understood, will not go into effect until noon of Tuesday next, in order to enable the Secretary to close up some routine business. The following is a copy of the Secretary's letter of resignation, and of the President's letter of acceptance of the same: DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, JAN. 7, 1888. TO THE PRESIDENT: When some months ago you invited me to accept the vacant judgeship in the Supreme Court of the United States, you expressed a wish that as the court was not in session I should postpone the resignation of my present office until the meeting of Congress, allowed you to send my resignation to the Senate, as there were certain matters before the department inaugurated by me, which it was therefore desirable that I should close before leaving, and as I would have been very reluctant to take the place upon the bench until your nomination had been confirmed by the Senate, I cheerfully consented to your request. My nomination has now been committed to the Senate, and recognizing both their right and gold, and has on the lands about a hundred hands employed, and will as early as practical put in full operation the most extensive gold refining establishment ever put to work in any portion of this State. Mr. W. T. Taylor accompanied by his daughter, Miss Mattie, are visiting relatives in your city. Miss Bettie Boone, is also on a visit to Wilson. One of our young men has been to Goldsboro, and it is thought woman was his cause. PLAIN TOM. Jan. 2nd, 1888.

Becoming Unruly.

Grand Master Powerly with correct ideas and conservative principles, is experiencing the same things that other men of like character and principles have, when heading a revolutionary movement. He is being left behind by the radicals and unprincipled demagogues, who are and it seems always will be the bane of all reform movements. The Bible in morals and the constitution in politics, are the only sure and inflexible guides, and the men or set of men who will in their zeal for reforms cut loose from the conservative teaching of these, will be sure to drift upon rocks and are apt to be stranded, and to shipwreck their friends or followers.—Goldsboro Argus.

The Lucky Red Man.

One of the most profitable kinds of business that we know of these days is to be a Cherokee Indian. Every child of a Cherokee is born to a fortune of $7,000 and many very valuable governmental perquisites.

WILSON MARKET.

Corrected every Wednesday by Hadley & Briggs.

Table with market prices for various goods like Bacon, Butter, Coffee, etc.

Excutive Mansion.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7th, 1887. MY DEAR MR. LAMAR—When I determined to nominate you to the position upon the bench of the Supreme Court, the personal gratification afforded by the tender to you of so honorable and suitable a place, and the satisfactory conviction that an important executive duty would thus be well performed, led me almost to forget that my action involved the loss of your conscientious and valuable aid and advice in cabinet counsel, which for nearly three years I have so much enjoyed and appreciated. Your note of to-day forces me to contemplate this contingency with the most profound and sincere regret. But since I know that the separation you now insist upon arises from that conception of public duty which has always so entirely guided your conduct in our official relations, and in our private life, I am constrained to accept the resignation you tender, hoping that it only anticipates your entrance upon the discharge of higher and more congenial functions than those now relinquished. What I have thus far written seems very formal indeed. I am sure that close confidence and relations of positive affection which have grown up between us need no expression or interpretation. And yet I find it utterly impossible for me to finish this note, without assuring you that things which have characterized your conduct and bearing in the position from which you now retire; all your devotion to our country and your chief; all your self-sacrificing care and solicitude for the public interests; all the benefit which your official service have conferred upon your fellow-countrymen, and all the affection and kindness so often exhibited toward me personally, I shall constantly remember, with tenderness and gratitude. YOUR VERY SINCERELY, GROVER CLEVELAND. Hon. L. Q. C. LAMAR, Secretary of the Interior.

PLAIN TOM.

Another Batch of News From Our Favorite Correspondent.

DEAR ADVANCE—Mr. W. J. O. has been with us for four years, as teacher and principal of the Central Academy will reach for the good and clever people of Cedar Rock, and is fully discharging his duties. He has won an enviable reputation and stands high as an educator. He will be greatly missed by the locality which leaves a wide field for some lady or gentleman who desires such a position. The hop here on Friday night was well attended, and as the inspiring tones of emanating music from the violin of Sney Harrison, amidst his melodies eager lovers of terpsichorean pleasures tripped the light fantastic. Mr. G. H. Harper and Miss Frazier were united in holy wedlock. T. J. Rowse, J. P. officiating. On the same day by Rev. G. W. Newell, Mr. Thad Dean and Miss Mary, daughter of A. W. Jackson, of Henderson, were happily joined together in marriage. The newly wedded couples have my best wishes for a long life of uninterrupted conjugal felicity. Mr. W. L. Thorpe, has personal effect. He has been with his interesting family, and with his thriving and growing town of Nashville his future home. Mr. Thorpe returns the legal profession of his early days; he will occupy one of those handsome residences lately erected on Railroad Street. Mr. V. B. Baehrel, a wealthy and enterprising gentleman, will in a short while begin the erection of a splendid and commodious brick store on a large site and beautifully located. The merchants feel proud of their great volume of trade that has found its way to Nashville the former season, and the sturdy farmers satisfied with the general tone of the cotton market. The bridges which was washed away by the October floods in this county have nearly all been replaced, and when footed up will be a fine thing, and will make the four thousand dollars, by no means a small sum, and will be a great benefit to the county, mills and other property. The Mann Mining Company near here are still enlarging their machinery and fixtures for working gold, and has on the lands about a hundred hands employed, and will as early as practical put in full operation the most extensive gold refining establishment ever put to work in any portion of this State. Mr. W. T. Taylor accompanied by his daughter, Miss Mattie, are visiting relatives in your city. Miss Bettie Boone, is also on a visit to Wilson. One of our young men has been to Goldsboro, and it is thought woman was his cause. PLAIN TOM. Jan. 2nd, 1888.

Becoming Unruly.

Grand Master Powerly with correct ideas and conservative principles, is experiencing the same things that other men of like character and principles have, when heading a revolutionary movement. He is being left behind by the radicals and unprincipled demagogues, who are and it seems always will be the bane of all reform movements. The Bible in morals and the constitution in politics, are the only sure and inflexible guides, and the men or set of men who will in their zeal for reforms cut loose from the conservative teaching of these, will be sure to drift upon rocks and are apt to be stranded, and to shipwreck their friends or followers.—Goldsboro Argus.

The Lucky Red Man.

One of the most profitable kinds of business that we know of these days is to be a Cherokee Indian. Every child of a Cherokee is born to a fortune of $7,000 and many very valuable governmental perquisites.

WILSON MARKET.

Corrected every Wednesday by Hadley & Briggs.

Table with market prices for various goods like Bacon, Butter, Coffee, etc.

Excutive Mansion.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7th, 1887. MY DEAR MR. LAMAR—When I determined to nominate you to the position upon the bench of the Supreme Court, the personal gratification afforded by the tender to you of so honorable and suitable a place, and the satisfactory conviction that an important executive duty would thus be well performed, led me almost to forget that my action involved the loss of your conscientious and valuable aid and advice in cabinet counsel, which for nearly three years I have so much enjoyed and appreciated. Your note of to-day forces me to contemplate this contingency with the most profound and sincere regret. But since I know that the separation you now insist upon arises from that conception of public duty which has always so entirely guided your conduct in our official relations, and in our private life, I am constrained to accept the resignation you tender, hoping that it only anticipates your entrance upon the discharge of higher and more congenial functions than those now relinquished. What I have thus far written seems very formal indeed. I am sure that close confidence and relations of positive affection which have grown up between us need no expression or interpretation. And yet I find it utterly impossible for me to finish this note, without assuring you that things which have characterized your conduct and bearing in the position from which you now retire; all your devotion to our country and your chief; all your self-sacrificing care and solicitude for the public interests; all the benefit which your official service have conferred upon your fellow-countrymen, and all the affection and kindness so often exhibited toward me personally, I shall constantly remember, with tenderness and gratitude. YOUR VERY SINCERELY, GROVER CLEVELAND. Hon. L. Q. C. LAMAR, Secretary of the Interior.

PLAIN TOM.

Another Batch of News From Our Favorite Correspondent.

DEAR ADVANCE—Mr. W. J. O. has been with us for four years, as teacher and principal of the Central Academy will reach for the good and clever people of Cedar Rock, and is fully discharging his duties. He has won an enviable reputation and stands high as an educator. He will be greatly missed by the locality which leaves a wide field for some lady or gentleman who desires such a position. The hop here on Friday night was well attended, and as the inspiring tones of emanating music from the violin of Sney Harrison, amidst his melodies eager lovers of terpsichorean pleasures tripped the light fantastic. Mr. G. H. Harper and Miss Frazier were united in holy wedlock. T. J. Rowse, J. P. officiating. On the same day by Rev. G. W. Newell, Mr. Thad Dean and Miss Mary, daughter of A. W. Jackson, of Henderson, were happily joined together in marriage. The newly wedded couples have my best wishes for a long life of uninterrupted conjugal felicity. Mr. W. L. Thorpe, has personal effect. He has been with his interesting family, and with his thriving and growing town of Nashville his future home. Mr. Thorpe returns the legal profession of his early days; he will occupy one of those handsome residences lately erected on Railroad Street. Mr. V. B. Baehrel, a wealthy and enterprising gentleman, will in a short while begin the erection of a splendid and commodious brick store on a large site and beautifully located. The merchants feel proud of their great volume of trade that has found its way to Nashville the former season, and the sturdy farmers satisfied with the general tone of the cotton market. The bridges which was washed away by the October floods in this county have nearly all been replaced, and when footed up will be a fine thing, and will make the four thousand dollars, by no means a small sum, and will be a great benefit to the county, mills and other property. The Mann Mining Company near here are still enlarging their machinery and fixtures for working

Notice.

By virtue of a decree of the Superior Court of Wilson county, wherein Edwin Barnes Jr., Adm. of Wilson Barnes was plaintiff, and Gray Newsome and others were defendants, I will sell at the Court House door, in Wilson on Monday the 6th day of February 1888, the following described property: One fourth interest in one lot of land situated in the town of Wilson, Wilson county, adjoining the lands of A. D. Farmer, John Harrison, and others, containing two acres, more or less. TERMS.—Cash. Edwin Barnes Jr., Adm. P. A. & S. A. Woodard, Attys.

REGULATOR.

It takes the place of a doctor and costs nothing. It is the best preventive of cholera and dysentery. It is also a powerful purgative. It is the best remedy for biliousness, indigestion, flatulency, and all the ailments of the stomach and bowels. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the liver and gall bladder. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the kidneys and bladder. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the lungs and throat. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the skin and hair. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the eyes and ears. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the nose and mouth. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the feet and hands. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the head and neck. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the back and spine. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the arms and legs. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the body and soul. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the world and the hereafter. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the present and the future. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the body and the mind. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heart and the brain. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the nerves and the muscles. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the bones and the joints. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the blood and the circulation. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the earth and the sky. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the sun and the moon. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the stars and the planets. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the angels and the devils. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the saints and the sinners. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the good and the evil. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the light and the darkness. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the life and the death. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of the heaven and the hell.