

THE WILSON ADVANCE
 JOSEPHUS and C. C. DANIELS
 Editors and Proprietors.

The Advance endeavors to be a non-partisan and impartial chronicler of the news, devoting special attention to the section in which it is published. It is Democratic in its sympathies, but will spare neither friend nor foe who is hostile to Democratic success. It believes in the right of every citizen to free speech and the right of every party to power and it will spare no effort to accomplish that result. It will seek to promote the industrial development of the State and section and will take pleasure in doing whatever lies in its power to aid the farmers and laboring men in their efforts to better their conditions and to the establishment of more and better educational institutions will receive our hearty cooperation and endorsement.

The Advance circulates largely in every county East of Raleigh, and is therefore a splendid advertising medium. Rates liberal. A first-class job office is run in connection with the paper and we will be pleased to receive orders. Our office is one of the best equipped in this section of the State for commercial work and will do all good work as fast as it comes.

We are happy to say that we believe the Democratic Knight of Labor throughout North Carolina will, like true men and Democrats, stand as a solid phalanx for Democracy and white supremacy.—Fayetteville Journal.

The Wilmington Star is evidently feeling first-rate: "What a jolly campaign this is. One day it is the Grand Old Man's big speech—a Tariff flatness at Fort Huron—and the next day it is a Cleveland Columbus that knocked the Radical Senators into the middle of November."

One of the best informed and most observant gentlemen in the State, and one whose business carries him to all parts of it says in a private letter of last week from one of our western towns to the editor of this paper, that from present indications he judges that Cleveland and Fowle will have from 30,000 to 40,000 majority in North Carolina this fall.—Landmark.

Taking The Cake.

Among the candidates in North Carolina is a Fowle for Governor, a Holt for Lieutenant-Governor, a Finger for Superintendent of Education and a Bain for Congress. If Fowle gets Holt with a Finger he will take the Binn.—New Orleans Picayune.

CLEVELAND ACCEPTS.

Mr. Cleveland has accepted the nomination of Democratic party made at the St. Louis Convention. His letter of acceptance appeared Monday morning. Like all his public documents it is calm, dignified and statesmanlike. It is the breathings of a statesman and not of a partisan. It is manly, patriotic and straightforward. His analysis of the Nation's needs is that of an expert. His review of all National questions is lucid and comprehensive. He desires that American labor should be protected from foreign pauper competition. Of the Presidency he says: "The world does not afford a spectacle more sublime than is furnished when millions of free and intelligent American citizens select their Chief Magistrate and bid one of their number to find the highest earthly honor and the fullest measure of public duty in ready submission to their will."

President Cleveland comes out squarely in favor of protection for American citizen at home and abroad; fully endorses the Democratic National platform; says expenses of the government should be limited to the public need, is in favor of a still further reduction of the tariff, and admitting raw materials free of duty; of trusts he says:

"Such combinations have always been condemned by the Democratic party. The declaration of its National Convention is sincerely made, and no member of our party will be found excusing the existence or belittling the pernicious results of these devices to wrong the people. Under various names they have been punished by the common law for hundreds of years; and they have lost none of their hateful features because they have assumed the name of trusts instead of conspiracies."

"We believe that these trusts are the natural offspring of a market artificially restricted; that an inordinately high tariff, besides furnishing the temptation for their existence, enlarges the limit within which they may spring against the people and thus increases the extent of their power for wrong doing. "With an unutterable hatred of all such schemes we count the checking of their baleful operations among the good results promised by revenue reform." This is a bold and manly stand and worthy of the President of the United States. It is the position of all good and true Democrats—Down with Trusts. The Democracy means, says the President by intimation, death to all Trusts.

The New York Star in summing up the letter of acceptance says: "In brief, this most cogent letter surveys the entire field of Federal affairs, touching every subject with a master hand omitting nothing that is essential and introducing nothing that is trivial. It will be the great campaign document of the year, not merely because of its own intrinsic merits, but by reason of the fact that the promises Cleveland makes are based upon his official performances. He offers to the people every pledge both as a body and as individuals. But there is no more of all the promises he makes the keeping of which is not guaranteed by the intelligent, manly, courageous and dutiful manner with which he has discharged the duties of his mighty office, in return for which his party and the people ask him the verdict of 'Well done, good and faithful servant.'"

WOLVES IN SHEEPS CLOTHING.

The Democratic party has nothing to fear from the men who announce themselves as Republicans. These men place themselves where they belong, among the outspoken enemies of the Democratic party. We respect the candor of these men, if they do not possess any other trait that appeals to our respect. They may be enemies but they are possessed of sufficient boldness and manliness to announce their true colors. The men from whom we expect most trouble—the men who are capable of doing the necessary and of themselves the Democratic party are the men who profess to be better Democrats than Cleveland. These fellows who strut about in the most self-conceited way possible and prate about the Democratic party's leaving them are the sly old foxes that we have to watch. Usually men of this character are disappointed office-seekers who are mad because their wonderful talents are not recognized by the Democratic party and they immediately conceive the idea that "the Democratic party has left them." Well they are left, no mistake about that. The Democratic party endeavors to see to it that these men who are so easily left by the party are not honored with positions of influence or trust.

The Advance desires to warn its readers against these "wolves in sheep's clothing." They are nothing else except Radicals who have not courage enough to place themselves where they belong. They have however taken the first step towards the camp of Republicanism. Watch these hypocrites.

Some people go away from home in the summer for health and some for pleasure of telling their friends next winter how miserable the grub was.

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

The Advance has shown itself a more earnest and practical friend to declared objects of the Knights of Labor than any of the candidates of the so-called Knights of Labor ticket in this county. Never for one instant have we hesitated to exert our influence to the utmost to secure permanent educational institutions that would do credit to this community and be the means of doing great good among the children whose parents are unable to pay tuition at any of the regular par schools. We expected when this organization was formed in Wilson that we would have strong allies in our efforts to secure better public schools. It is in their power to exert a very salutary effect upon the community in this particular. They cannot accomplish anything for the education of the rising generation, however, by allying themselves with the Republican party—or by allowing a few office hungry disreputable political tricksters to say to the public that they are the representatives of the Knights of Labor and that every member of the organization is expected to vote for them.

If the members of the order in Wilson county are sincere when they declare themselves in favor of better educational advantages they will never cast their ballots for Two-for-a-cent Benajah Peele—whose past life has been cast with the party that has never done anything for the education of the people except to steal the money that had been saved by men of more honesty and foresight and collected for the education of the people. The Advance hopes the honest members of the organization will rebuke the attempt of these political tricksters by voting against the last one of them. If they are sincere in endorsing the objects of the order they will.

We shall have more to say on this subject next week. We shall show from the utterance of the head of the order that the men who attempt to use the order for political purposes are violating the principles and are out of harmony with the order.

THE ORPHANS.

Grand Master Gordon Discusses the Plan of the Odd Fellows. At the late session of the Grand Lodge of the Independent Odd Fellows, held in the city of Greensboro in May last very decisive measures were taken looking to the establishment of an Orphan Asylum in North Carolina, under the auspices of the said Grand Lodge. I am happy in the belief that order is fully alive to this great interest and that it is only a question of time as to its institution. As your readers know the status of Odd-fellowship financially considered not great wealth. Were such its condition there would be no delay in the premises, for as a member of said grand body I never saw greater enthusiasm or intense interest, than was manifested on the mere mention of the matter prospectively. We are ready to do all in our power, both as a body and as individuals to help the unfortunate children of our State. Help the needy and rescue the perishing is a fundamental stone in our structure. The great question with us is, What is the best means to be employed for the accomplishment of the end in view. I was no little interested in the recent article of Col. Besley, which appeared in the Chronicle a few weeks ago. He is proverbially known in our section of the State as the orphan's friend. I do most heartily concur with him in the plan suggested; but as I read the said article several inquiries suggested themselves to my mind; viz:

Are the Odd Fellows of North Carolina capable themselves to execute the plan? If not from what source can they reasonably hope for needed aid? The Oxford Orphan Asylum now under the auspices of the Masons is a fixed fact, and backed by an annual appropriation of $10,000. Will the Legislature of North Carolina give us the necessary aid? Will other words will it allow a sum sufficient to place us in an attitude to educate the male orphans of North Carolina. Will the people rally to our support? Last but not least will the Press lend us its aid? The wisdom of a separation of the boys and girls in their training seems to me apparent, especially does it so appear since conversing with Col. Besley on the subject. Let me say this. Mr. Editor in conclusion: The Order of Odd Fellows in North Carolina stands ready at all times to do her part in this good work.

J. H. COBURN.

HON. LOUIS C. LATHAM. Norfolk Virginians says: Hon. L. C. Latham M. C. from the First North Carolina district passed through this city yesterday on his way to Washington. We learn from Cash that Mr. Latham was invited by the Executive Committee and Young Men's Democratic Association of that county to address the people and that he did so in a masterly speech. He not only sustained and justified the Cleveland administration and the demand of the party for revenue reform, but advocated the election of Col. Tom Skinner as his successor in Congress. The effort of Mr. Latham was magical, it thoroughly aroused the gallant Democrats of Camden and the result of the election will show that they are a unit for Cleveland, Thurman and Skinner. Maj. Latham was a gallant soldier of the late war. He is a man of commanding presence, ready debater and is thoroughly wedded to the principles of Democracy. Splendidly equipped in his profession, he has made for himself an enviable reputation. He will do much good in the campaign for Col. Skinner, for he has much influence in the First District.
