

THE WILSON ADVANCE.

JOSEPH and C. DANIELS, Editors and Proprietors.

The Advance is published every week... It is a small and cheap paper...

Entered for the Post Office at Wilson, N. C. as second class mail matter.

WILSON, N. C., Sept. 26, 1889.

The Oxford Orphan's Friend has a new editor... The "Day" is the name of a new daily paper in Oxford.

MAHONEY proposes starting several newspapers soon... COMMON sense will, at no distant day, compel the spinning of raw material where it can be done the cheapest.

The Democrats of Iowa have adopted platforms in which they declare themselves as squarely in favor of a generous reduction of the tariff.

The statement is made that the town of Findlay, Ohio, has increased its population within three years from 5,000 to 25,000.

The letter of Bill Arp in this week's ADVANCE is one that will touch the heart of every true Southerner.

The Asheville Journal speaks what most folks every true man as a wise remark, when it says: "The duty of the Southern press is to abandon still further the sensational."

We love to see enterprise exhibited by the Southern newspapers but we hope the day will never come when the demands for sensational fifth will induce the newspapers of the South to make their papers vehicles of slander and nastiness.

We see it stated that the Texas penitentiary made $65,000 last year for the State. It may do for a poor little State like Texas to make their criminals self-sustaining and even more, but the aristocratic State of North Carolina stoops to no such depths.

Atlanta has been built by "close communion," by standing shoulder to shoulder, and patronizing home people in spite of the world, the flesh and the devil—American Press.

It is the money that has been sent away from Wilson during the past ten years for meat, corn, flour, cotton futures, furniture and buggies had been kept at home and invested in manufacturing our town would be one of the largest cities in the State.

KEEP YOUR MONEY AT HOME. Atlanta has been built by "close communion," by standing shoulder to shoulder, and patronizing home people in spite of the world, the flesh and the devil—American Press.

It is the money that has been sent away from Wilson during the past ten years for meat, corn, flour, cotton futures, furniture and buggies had been kept at home and invested in manufacturing our town would be one of the largest cities in the State.

A SPECIAL APPEAL. The Ladies' Memorial Association of Fredericksburg, Va., respectfully call your attention to the fact that there lie buried in our Confederate Cemetery 1,800 Southern soldiers from the following States: Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Tennessee.

The wooden posts with their names on them are rapidly decaying, and it is necessary to replace them as soon as possible. Having no means at our disposal for this purpose, we are compelled to ask for aid from the people of this State.

Many of these graves were lovingly cared for during so many years, contain the dear ones of Southern homes, where their memories are still cherished, and a throb of sympathy will go out to us in our efforts to rescue their names from oblivion.

When it was announced some time ago that the Fourth District Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association would be held in our town, our people were delighted.

Some time past the question of organizing an Association for Wilson had been mooted, and it was hoped that the Convention would develop such a spirit of enthusiasm as would result in an organization.

It has been an enjoyable occasion. The delegates were as clever, consecrated, intelligent and gentlemanly a set as ever visited Wilson.

They have caught some of the divine fire and burning zeal with which they were filled, and we are glad they came among us.

A Delightful Magazine. The first number of the New England Magazine, the Illustrated Monthly published in Boston and edited by Edward Everett Hale and Edwin D. Mead, has several articles relating to Plymouth and the Pilgrims.

Dr. Hale writes upon "The Pilgrims' Life in Common," telling of a S. C. in which the individual is thoroughly respected. In connection with this sketch by Sylvester Baxter, of Edward Bellamy, the author of "Looking Backward," will be read with interest, especially by the many who are attracted by the present Nationalist movement.

Mr. Mead has an article attempting to answer the question: "Can we live there?" The old question "Did John Hampden come to New England?" There are two papers inspired by the French Centennial, one a political essay by William Clarke, M. A., of London, the other, "The News of the French Revolution in America," a curious study of the newspaper of a hundred years ago, by Professor David R. Dewey of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

James K. Hosmer begins a historical romance, "The Haunted Bell," the scene of which is laid in ancient Montreal. A short story of better life, poems, and editorial notes on fresh and important points finish the number.

NASHVILLE NOTES. After a long vacation "Ben" resumes his Weekly Letters to The "Advance."

Though the pen of your correspondent has been silent during several months, Nashville has still been steadily improving. The attractive, ornamental residence of W. C. Bass has been completed, and is a tantalizing illustration of "so near and yet so far."

Brooks is building one equally as fine adjoining Mr. Bass'—this putting the Bass on the banks of the Brook, where he can see his shining waters rippling by without the power to live therean.

The Rev. Mr. Powell, aided by Rev. Geo. M. Duke, has been carrying on a protracted meeting at the Missionary Baptist church in this place. Great interest has been manifested, and six persons have been added to the membership of the church.

Nash county tobacco is commanding the highest prices at the tobacco sales this year. We learn of the fact that at Durham last week, 52c a pound at Durham last week, besides the large sales at Henderson and elsewhere.

We think this will be the next season there will be two large tobacco warehouses in Nashville, as the farmers have proposed to build one, if the business men will build the other. We think this will be done.

Every dwelling and store house in Nashville is occupied and there is still a demand for more.

Miss Mary Melbane, the music teacher of Carolina Male and Female Institute, arrived last Saturday. The Institute now has seven teachers and is in attendance with more expected and arriving daily.

We have no doubt of the great success of the school. The school is situated in a beautiful grove just on the outskirts of the town, in a healthy location, and with its corps of able instructors, of whom Prof. D. L. Ellis is Principal, will, we think, exert an influence for good and give an impetus to the cause of education that will be felt all over Eastern Carolina.

Tobacco Caus' Rejoicing. If an Edgecombe cotton farmer wants to see a happy granger let him go to Nash and hear his brother-merchant the praises of tobacco.

Tobacco will do considerable to loosen the financial affairs of Wilson county, also. We suppose tobacco will turn loose, in Wilson, this year, between seventy-five and one hundred thousand dollars. We have the finest land in the State for tobacco and the people will raise a large crop next year.

Some time since we were shown a pocket knife made by an invalid lady of Chatham county. The workmanship was good and it was a marvel of elegance, strength and beauty.

The lady was unable to leave her room, but she made the knife just as well as the most skillful mechanics.

Y. M. C. A. for Wilson.

The Young Men of Wilson and all others interested met in Mamona Hall Monday night to determine the advisability of organizing a Young Men's Christian Association for Wilson.

Mr. T. C. Diggs, of Goldsboro, was present and the proposition was generally discussed and approved. A vote was taken and it was unanimously decided to organize at once.

Owing to the entertainment at the tent the organization was postponed until Tuesday night, at which time the Chairman, Mr. J. W. Woodard, has called for a meeting to organize.

The ADVANCE is glad to chronicle this fact. It is cheering news. Such an organization is needed to keep pace with the growth and progress of Wilson, laying aside all other reasons, it will cost something in time and money.

The latter requisite is here and will be given freely. The time of those who go into it must be determined to devote to the work. Let this be plain and record. Come out to-night at eight o'clock Mamona Hall and help to organize if you purpose being a member.
