

The Wilson Advance

JOSEPHUS and C. C. DANIELS Editors and Proprietors.

The Advance endeavors to be an exact, faithful and impartial chronicler of the news, devoting special attention to the section in which it is published. It is Democratic in its views and will spare neither friend nor foe who is in hostility to Democratic success. It believes the best interest of the Nation and the State Imperatively demands the retention of the Democratic party in power and it will spare no effort to accomplish that result. It will seek to promote the industrial development of the State and section and will take pleasure in doing whatever lies in its power to aid the farmers and laboring men in their efforts to better their condition. Every honest son of toil will find in the Advance a sincere friend. Every effort looking to the establishment of more and better educational institutions will receive our hearty cooperation and endorsement.

Entered in the Post Office at Wilson, N. C. as second class mail matter. WILSON, N. C. MAY 22th, 1890.

In the Baptist Convention in Fort Worth, Texas, last week, Col. L. L. Polk, of Raleigh, and Rev. T. H. Pritchard, D. D., of Wilmington, were elected Vice Presidents of the body. North Carolinians never fail to win laurels away from home. The selection of these two men was a most excellent one.

The Chair of Metaphysics at Chapel Hill has become vacant by the lamented death of that eminently good man, Dr. A. W. Mangum. Hardly has this sainted teacher been buried before numerous recommendations are made through and by the State papers for his successor. Among those mentioned not a single teacher trained in this peculiar line has been named. Preachers who have spent the best part of their lives in the pastorate and teachers who have devoted their energies to the pursuit of other specialties are held up as proper men to fill a chair decidedly the most difficult for the peculiar intellectual traits demanded than any other in the University. Now we would respectfully suggest that this matter be relegated to the corporation of the University; the members of which know better than we do what kind of man is needed.

BYNUM was called up to the bar of the House last Saturday, and censured by the Speaker under a vote of censure by the House. Bynum had upon some occasion, called man a liar and a perjurer. Campbell wrote a letter very abusive of Bynum to Bayne, of Pennsylvania, who managed to slip it through one of his speeches. Bynum tried to get the letter expunged from the record but failed. Bynum then, upon a question of personal privilege, said his opinion of Campbell was unchanged but that he had as great confidence in his character as in that of the member who made the unparliamentary attack on him. The Republicans voted that he be censured for using "unparliamentary language." Bynum went to the bar leaning on Mr. Holman's arm, and was escorted by as many Democrats as could get in the aisle. When Reed formally pronounced censure Bynum said, "Under such circumstances I wear the censure as a decoration of honor." Great confusion ensued.

KICKED OUT. The latest from Washington City of interest to North Carolinians is the so-called resignation of Col. W. P. Anadwy, who, for many years past, has been Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate. His resignation takes effect July 1st. Ever since the inauguration of Harrison, Senator Quay has been after Canada's scalp, and his resignation means that he has succeeded in having him kicked out. There are already many men named for the place, but Quay's man, Gen. Bailey, of Pennsylvania, will most probably get the position. We are very sorry Col. Canada is kicked out. We would have liked to have seen him retained simply as a matter of state pride, but it was not to be so.

HON. JOHN G. CARLISLE. Last Saturday Hon. John G. Carlisle was elected by the Kentucky State Legislature, in joint session, to succeed the lamented Senator James Beck. He received the caucus nomination on Friday night after a spirited contest. The Democrats lose by changing Carlisle from the House to the Senate Hall. He was the recognized leader of the House on the Democratic side, and justly so. He may not have been possessed of the eminent qualities of leadership of the late Samuel J. Randall, but he was well equipped, cool and aggressive at all times and under whatever fire the Republicans could bring to bear. The Senate does not afford the field for usefulness to a people that the House does, but it was fit and proper that Carlisle should be elected and the people of Kentucky did well.

Indications point to the nomination of Gen. R. B. Vance for Congress in the Ninth District.

A COUNTY FAIR.

The ADVANCE feels much gratified at the success of the Cattle Show here last Thursday. It feels no less pleasure in its success because of the fact that the proposition to hold the same was made by this paper.

We have another proposition to make now. It is to hold a county fair. The people of Wilson could hold such a fair as would astonish the public and accomplish much good. Let's proceed at once to take steps toward holding a County Fair this Fall.

E. C. BEDDINGFIELD.

The ADVANCE is very much pleased to present today to its readers a synopsis of the speech made by Mr. E. C. Beddingfield in Wilson last Thursday.

Mr. Beddingfield is Secretary of the Farmers' Alliance in North Carolina, and what he says carries weight with it. He is a man of character, good judgment and patriotism. His influence will always be exerted for the upbuilding of the order that has honored him and itself by making him its Secretary—and for the best interest of the State that he loves so well. He is of the people—having come from the lowly walks of life, and we believe, is destined to become one of the most useful men in the State.

We hope every reader of this paper will read his speech. It will do you good. He preaches the best of doctrine, and we say to him, God speed you in your work. The cause of public education is one that appeals to the best and noblest feelings of every man, and we hope before many years shall roll over our heads there will be a first-class public school running eight or nine months in the year in every school district in the State. The Alliance can do a great deal to help forward a "consumption" devotedly to be wished for. Let the organization follow the path blazed by their Secretary and public education will receive an impetus never before felt in this State.

PITT COUNTY NEWS.

While in Greenville Saturday we chatted with several of the good, influential men of the "State of Pitt," and it seems that the question of who shall be nominated for Solicitor is receiving much attention. The people of Pitt seem to think they have the right man for the place in the person of A. L. Blow, Esq., a prominent and able member of the Greenville bar. From what was told us it seems that he will receive the solid vote of that county. Every man we spoke to seemed to be heartily in favor of Mr. Blow. Our townsman, John E. Woodard, Esq., in we were told, the second choice of the Pitt county Democrats. The contest is progressing in good spirit and no bad feeling will be engendered.

We saw our friend, Ex-Sheriff Allen Warren, Proprietor of Riverside Nursery, for a few moments. He told us the peach crop would be a total failure and not half an average crop of apples would be grown. They were killed by the cold weather. He says that the grape crop will be something enormous this year. Mrs. Susan Congleton, a respected and highly esteemed lady, died Saturday morning. She was the mother of Mrs. Balfour, of this place, and was about seventy years old.

County politics are not being discussed to any alarming extent. It seems to be generally determined that the present efficient officials cannot be improved upon and there is a strong disposition to re-nominate all of them. We were glad to learn this. With such officers the future of the county is safe.

Sunday was set apart by the Methodists as "Children's Day" and was appropriately observed by the Methodist Sunday School in Greenville. Rev. R. B. John made a happy, admirably conceived and well delivered talk to the children. He is rapidly expanding and growing in power and influence for good. Hon. F. J. Jarvis, the Superintendent, presided and the exercises were smoothly conducted. It was a sight we can never forget, and one the people of Greenville witness every Sunday. It is that of a man who has held the office of Governor of North Carolina for six years, and served as minister to Brazil for four years, going quietly up the aisle with gentle dignity and majestic tread, and after calling a Sunday School to order, presiding over its sessions. It is a glowing compliment to the United States and her free institutions—an object lesson that will teach the youth of Greenville what true manhood is.

The Judicial Convention of the 6th District has been called to meet Wednesday, July 6th, and Kingston was chosen as the place of meeting. There will be probably 200 delegates present and the Free Press extends them a hearty welcome.

THE CATTLE SHOW

A DECIDED SUCCESS IN EVERY RESPECT.

WILSON'S RED-LETTER DAY.

A Fine Exhibition of Blooded Stock and a Big Crowd Made it All That Could be Desired.

Last Thursday was a gala day in Wilson and marked the dawn of a new era in the lives of our people. It was the day selected by the Wilson County Cattle Club to hold the first of what they desire to make annual, Cattle Shows. The day dawned threateningly and seemed in sympathy with the fears of our people. It was the day selected by the Wilson County Cattle Club to hold the first of what they desire to make annual, Cattle Shows.

The Wilson County Cattle Show will from henceforth be an annual event of more than local interest. Many distinguished people from outside the county were present. We saw Dr. W. H. Whitehead and T. P. Braswell, of Battleboro; Hon. John Robinson, of Raleigh; Sheriff W. M. King, of Greenville; Mr. J. M. Baines, and Mr. G. M. Baines, of Stanhope.

The best farmers of the county were present and the interest they manifested in fine stock was surprising. The officers of the club deserve credit for the admirable manner in which they managed everything, and the ADVANCE is glad to compliment them upon their successful exhibition. Of course another show will be held next May, so go ahead and make your preparations accordingly.

The Cattle Club meets the first Monday in June for the election of officers. A full attendance is desired. The presence of the ladies and the interest they showed, added no little to the exhibition.

TWO BISHOPS CHOSEN.

At the session of the M. E. General Conference in St. Louis, on Monday, Rev. Dr. Atteus G. Haygood, of Sheffield, Ala., was elected bishop on the first, and Rev. Dr. Oscar P. Fitzgerald, of Nashville, Tenn., was elected bishop on the third ballot.

Rev. Dr. Haygood was born at Wadesboro, Ga., November 19, 1839. He graduated at Emory College, Oxford, Ga., in 1856. In 1876 he was elected president of Emory College. In 1882 he was made agent for Slater fund. Doctor Haygood is eminent as an author. His latest work was "The Man of Galilee," and it is having an unprecedented run.

Dr. Oscar P. Fitzgerald was born in Caswell county, North Carolina, August 24, 1829. He graduated at Oak Grove Academy, in Buckingham Co., North Carolina. He, for a long time, lived in California, where he was editor of several religious papers. In 1878 he was elected editor of the Nashville (Tenn.) Christian Advocate, the official organ of the M. E. Church, South, which he now fills.

North Carolinians rejoice with Dr. Fitzgerald in his promotion and are pleased that he should be honored. He is a man of high character, broad, conservative views, and commanding intellect. He will honor the position to which he has been called.

WASHINGTON CITY NEWS. The sensation of the week in Congress was the tariff speech of Hon. Benjamin Butterworth, Republican member from Cincinnati, Ohio. He said a great deal and evidently meant more than he said. He has kicked out of the Republican lines on the tariff issue and will not be whipped back. He exhibits courage for a man to step outside of the party lines for the purpose of stating wholesome truths, but Mr. Butterworth was equal to the occasion, and while he has no doubt invited the displeasure of the blind party press, the people who have become tired of the swish of the party lash will applaud his utterances.

Mr. Butterworth said that the price of an article was not reduced on account of competition alone. It was reduced on the improved methods of manufacture.

The committee had tried to do the best it could in framing the bill, but it was not always safe to rely altogether upon the testimony of the beneficiaries under a law. (Applause on Democratic side.) He had indicated his belief respecting the proper function of a tariff act, and would sooner resign his seat than depart one hair's breadth from that belief. Of course he respected the wisdom of the committee, but why was Paul favored and Peter turned down? Why increase the profits of certain classes? He could name capitalists whose profits had exceeded those of all the agriculturists in any State of the Union. (Applause on Democratic side.)

If, when we had protected equally and lifted up all our industries, and the time should then come when we could not hold our own—being the most intelligent, and freest, and

Jersey cow; Mr. M. T. Langly, grade Jersey heifer; Mr. C. Barnes, grade Yorkshire; Mr. G. H. Wainwright, grade Jersey cow; Mr. G. T. Daniel, Jersey and grade Jersey cows; Mr. T. B. Jugg, grade Jersey, and Mr. R. S. Wells, Jersey heifer.

This initial show was an experiment, and we are glad to know it proved a success. We believe and were assured that it did good, and that the interest awakened along this line was a good thing for the county. Many farmers in the county own good stock that they did not exhibit this year. They have promised themselves to bring them in next May, and it stands to reason that they will do their best to improve their stock.

He has kicked out of the Republican lines on the tariff issue and will not be whipped back. He exhibits courage for a man to step outside of the party lines for the purpose of stating wholesome truths, but Mr. Butterworth was equal to the occasion, and while he has no doubt invited the displeasure of the blind party press, the people who have become tired of the swish of the party lash will applaud his utterances.

Mr. Butterworth said that the price of an article was not reduced on account of competition alone. It was reduced on the improved methods of manufacture.

The committee had tried to do the best it could in framing the bill, but it was not always safe to rely altogether upon the testimony of the beneficiaries under a law. (Applause on Democratic side.) He had indicated his belief respecting the proper function of a tariff act, and would sooner resign his seat than depart one hair's breadth from that belief. Of course he respected the wisdom of the committee, but why was Paul favored and Peter turned down? Why increase the profits of certain classes? He could name capitalists whose profits had exceeded those of all the agriculturists in any State of the Union. (Applause on Democratic side.)

If, when we had protected equally and lifted up all our industries, and the time should then come when we could not hold our own—being the most intelligent, and freest, and ablest people on earth—then we had better retire from the field. (Democratic applause.) Mr. Butterworth then proceeded to expound his views touching reciprocity with Canada. He said we were endeavoring to cultivate relations with 50,000,000 people to the southward, and yet were afraid of Canada. Abraham Lincoln and Ulysses S. Grant were not suspected of lack of patriotism, yet they favored reciprocity.

There were some things in the bill he did not like. He had known of an industry that had been able to make $60,000,000 dividends on a capital of $1,250,000. Protection! Why, the country could in such cases better afford to keep these men in the Fifth Avenue Hotel, pay their board and expenses, and set them up in the banking business. He favored proper protection, but these men held the world in their grip. When he said that he did not favor that sort of protection he was told: "You are not sound on the tariff." The time is come when some little concern should be shown to American homes and American freights. A great body of employees in this country was foreign. In some factories in the East they were known on the rosters by numbers because of unfamiliarity with their names. He did not believe it was wise or prudent to make such a sweeping reduction in sugar to be supplanted by a bounty. What he wanted to avoid were such features as he had pointed out in this bill—there was such a thing as paying too much for an industry. Such was the case with tin-plate. The duty would be a tax on every farmer's patch; on every can of goods: that tax would amount to $50,000,000 before the manufacturers of tin-plate could declare a dividend. He was anxious that his party should not take a false step.

A bill in which the country is greatly interested was introduced in the Senate yesterday by Mr. Edmunds. It is to establish here the University of the United States, and the bill provides for a corporation, to be governed by a board of regents, the President, Secretary of State, Secretary of the Treasury, Secretary of War, Secretary of the Navy, the Attorney General, Postmaster General, Secretary of Agriculture, Chief Justice of the United States, and twelve citizens of the United States. All branches of education are to be taught.

The Political Pot Abilin' Various Candidates and The Talk Concerning Them. There will be a lively fight for the Judicial nomination in the districts of Judges Phillips, McRae, Womack, Whitaker and Shipp. Willing parties are very numerous in all three of these districts. W. R. Allen, of Wayne county, is a gentleman well qualified in every particular to fill the office of Judge. He is a young man in the very prime and vigor of manhood both mentally and physically, is a fine legal scholar, a man of even temper, of good moral and social habits, is a sober man and an honorable gentleman in every respect; so we say Allen is the man for Judge.—Dunn Courier.

The Nashville Argonaut is out in favor of Jacob Battle, Esq., for the Solicitorship of this district. It says: "His thorough knowledge of law, his well-known vim and energy coupled with his high moral character and unimpeachable record, eminently qualifies him for this position. No man in the State would bring to the discharge of the duties of the position more eminent qualities, both morally and intellectually, than Mr. Battle, and if nominated we are sure he will be triumphantly elected. We have nothing but praise for the other gentlemen who are standing for the nomination, and we are satisfied that which ever is elected, the affairs of the district will be well attended to. Whoever may be the nominee of the Democratic Convention, can depend upon the hearty support of the Argonaut, but at the same time our preference, is first, last and all the time for Jacob Battle, of Rocky Mount."

The Tarboro Southerner thinks Judge Phillips should be his own successor, as he has made a careful, conscientious, pains taking officer. It says further: "Judge Phillips is just in his prime in the enjoyment of good health, is a hard student and has made more improvement, grown more in expounding and interpreting the law than any of his colleagues. We state this without intending to be at all uncomplimentary to a single one of the others.

"In 1882, when the Southerner urged his nomination, one of the reasons stated was his oft-rendered services to his party. Those services should still be remembered. And with that remembrance, the further fact that while his office has placed him where he can take no part in partisan politics, he has served his party nobly and in administering the law of his State without fear, favor or affection. Such services of the people should delight in keeping, and in their majesty, insist upon having.

Cash Catches The BARGAINS!

CASH BEFORE DELIVERY is a phrase which sounds rather harsh to a man seeking to buy goods, but when he sees a saving of twenty-five to forty per cent, his natural desire to save all the money he can, removes any sting which it may cause, and he becomes a most ardent admirer of the philosophy which knows no friend but in cold, silent letters announces that the time business is done for ever.

CASH BEFORE DELIVERY means more than at first glance those three words would seem to imply. It means good, honest sleep after the day's toil; it means no worry and vexation to raise money to meet maturing bills; it means that when a merchant who adopts and sticks to this motto does not have to dupe his customers who feel insulted if he asks them to pay an account long past due, it means he can count his profits every night and knows where he stands. Who then would not adopt this method of transacting his business, save money and be happy.

CASH IS NOW KING and will continue so as long as the world stands. We have adopted this motto and shall stick to it. We profit by it and so do our customers. You will find our NEW SPRING STOCK without time fetters. If you have any Cash, much or little, visit THE CASH RACKET STORE, WILSON, N. C.
