HIGH POINT, N. C., June 4th .-We see by the census reports in your last issue that North Carolina is credited with 480 pounds of tobacco per acre during the last decade, which sold at an average of 91/2 cents per pound, or $51.25 per acre. Now, Mr. Editor, if these figures are correct, they are discouraging, to say the least. The Guano and labor bills and freights and commissions on sales have not been paid by any such amount per acre as 480 pounds, at 916 cents per pound. If these figures tell the truth, it is as plain as day that North Carolina farmers will be compelled ere long to quit growing tobacco or change their method of culture. The farmer is wearing out his farm, destroying his timber lands and is not getting a new dollar for an old

It seems that as these men were crossing the road, they saw two strange looking animals down the Speight's Bridge road, and one of the animals seemed to beckon to these Twin stars that twinkle through al men. Upon seeing them one of the negroes broke and ran to Mr. Edmunds house for dear life, but the other one, being somewhat braver, advanced toward the strange looking animals. When within a short distance of them he was terror stricken likewise and fled. All efforts to get good description of them are futile. He says they had somewhat the appearance of men, but their hands and feet (or what should have been hands and feet) were webbed like a duck's. One of them had marks on it, and from what the negro says about these marks. On one side in large letters were WIL-SOWN and on Bank. the other were what he made out to be AD and at some distance VAN in large letters. The other animal had no special marks noticeable but had a general Green-ish appearance. The negro says that they didn't talk but made signs, pointing toward Mr. Haywood Edmundson's dwelling and then toward, Mr. Robert Bryan's, and made such curions gestures that he beat a hasty retreat.

No one else saw the annimals and it has been a nine day's wonder what they were. As the negro is an honest, truth-telling darkey, some people be-
