MANY MINE VICTIMS.

Fearful Underground Disaster in the Indian Territory.

OVER A HUNDRED MEET DEATH.

The Calamity Caused by Firing a Shot When Gas Was in the Mine. Many Mangled Bodies Recovered. One Killed and One Injured in a Pennsylvania Mine.

McALLISTER, I. T., Jan. 9.—The report telegraphed from here of a terrible mine disaster at Cornudas, in the Indian Territory, was confirmed. It was an explosion in shaft No. 3 of the Osage Coal and Mining company, at Krebs.

Just before the day shift changed off and came out of the mine for supper, a puff of smoke was seen to escape from the mouth of the single shaft to the mine, and immediately following this there was a terrific report, followed by a rumbling as if of rolling thunder.

Six men who had already been hoisted in the cage had just stepped on to the platform at the side of the shaft. The cage was blown through the roof of the tower and fifty feet into the air. A conical flame shot up the shaft and above the ground fully 100 feet, followed by a terrible report which was heard for miles around and showed the neighboring country so violently that people in the surrounding mining towns four and five miles distant thought an earthquake was rocking the ground.

The men at the top of the shaft at once sounded the alarm, and made preparations to send down a rescuing party, but found that the month of the shaft had been completely closed up by the debris. Relief parties began to attempt to work on the debris.

At the time of the explosion 350 men were in the shaft, most of whom were waiting for the men to take them out, and the foot of the shaft is one mass of dead bodies.

Eighty-five men came out by old entry and forty-two were saved by the shaft, most of whom are more or less burned and bruised, and half will probably die.

At latest reports 40 dead bodies have been brought out. Nearly all are recognizable, the remains were so mutilated.

From the facts now at hand it is believed that the killed will number from 100 and the injured 112, about one-half of whom will probably die from the effects of their injuries.

Many of the men, some say nearly half employed in the mine, succeeded in effecting their escape by climbing up through the air shaft. One of the men who climbed to the top was badly burned, in some cases the flesh stripping from their hands and feet as they grasped the ladder. There were many sad scenes witnessed as the bodies of the dead were brought to the surface. Wives and children gathered around, weeping and moaning; strong men turned away to hide the moisture that gathered in their eyes in spite of their utmost efforts to keep it back. It will be fully a week before all the bodies of the entombed can be reached and brought to the surface.

Mine Explosion in Pennsylvania. SHAMOK, Pa., Jan. 9.—A terrific explosion of gas occurred at the Wellson shaft yesterday, resulting in the instant death of a laborer, the fatal injury of a miner and the slight burning of the inside boss and inside support.

The victims are Paul Grumski, single, laborer, killed; Phil Desert, single, miner, fatally injured; George Stoeck, inside boss, and inside support, both burned; Fred English, injured about head and body.

Billy McGlory Sentenced. NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Billy McGlory, the dive keeper who was convicted in the general sessions court last week for keeping a disorderly house at the corner of Fourth street and Irving place, was yesterday sentenced by Recorder Smith to serve in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $300—the full penalty under the law. Unless the fine is paid the dive keeper will have to stay in prison 90 days longer.

Sherman Succeeds Himself. COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 7.—As expected, Sherman succeeded himself in the gubernatorial chair last night on the question of how the ballot should be taken—secret or viva voce. The speaker made his report on the ballot, which the Shermans successfully opposed.

The first ballot resulted: Sherman, 53; Fowler, 28; McKinley, 1. Necessary to a choice, 47.

An Incendiary's Suicide. MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 9.—Three days ago K. A. Sloane, a liquor dealer, set fire to his place of business and it was entirely destroyed. He was taken to the hospital in a fit of delirium tremens. Yesterday he was taken from the hospital to the jail, a raving maniac. A few moments later he knocked his brains out by dashing his head against an iron bar.

Again the Lone Highwayman. STOCKTON, Cal., Jan. 9.—A passenger on the stage from San Andreas reports that the stage running between Mokelumne Hill and Valley Springs was stopped by a lone highwayman at a point about three miles from Mokelumne Hill. The driver reported that the robber had a shotgun and made him throw out his express boxes and empty his pockets.

Two Negroes Lynched. VICKSBURG, Miss., Jan. 9.—The jail at Vicksburg was broken open by about 100 lynchers, who took Cal Foster and Horace Disbrow, two negroes charged with the murder of a Jewish pedlar, and hanged them to a tree near the jail. The prisoners met their fate bravely and acknowledged their guilt.

Man and Money Missing. DES MOINES, Jan. 9.—R. W. Lano, for eight years treasurer of Appanoos county, has disappeared. His home in his office, as far as they have been examined, show a shortage of over $12,000. He is also reported short from $9,000 to $12,000 as administrator of the estate of George Robinson.

Lynch and Salisbury Confer. LONDON, Jan. 9.—Minister Lincoln had a rather long interview yesterday afternoon with Lord Salisbury. The subject is understood to have been the Behring sea question.

BOB SIMS' WARS.

They Are Added to the Long List of Alabama's Avengers.

Their Uncle Neal, Brother of Bob, Resisted Arrest, and He and His Four Companions Were Executed Without Judge or Jury—Two Brave Young Women.

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 8.—Dispatches from Womack Hill, Ala., the scene of the recent Sims outrages and hanging, state that while Neal Sims, the brother of Bob, two other men and Laura and Beatrice Sims, the two daughters of Bob, were on their way from Womack Hill to the district of the late Miss., the rendezvous of the rest of the gang, they were met by a posse searching for Neal Sims, who was wanted for murder. It is said that Neal resisted arrest, and was hanged and afterwards shot. The rest of the party attempted to flee, but were captured and strung up to an oak tree along the roadside, the women being among the number. Their bodies were left hanging.

When Bob Sims first began to preach his so-called religion, in which he told his hearers that he had a right to do as he pleased, without regard to the laws of the state, he attracted attention by going with him to all his meetings and conducting the singing, and sometimes the prayers.

When Bob Sims first began to preach his so-called religion, in which he told his hearers that he had a right to do as he pleased, without regard to the laws of the state, he attracted attention by going with him to all his meetings and conducting the singing, and sometimes the prayers.

When the Sims religion assumed the form of a sect, his followers numbered a hundred or more, the two girls began the publication of a paper called "The True Way." They purchased a small printing outfit, which was put up in one of the rooms of the log house where the family lived, and there the paper was issued, the girls doing all the mechanical work, as well as writing most of the matter that appeared in the sheet.

The paper was a very small affair and was issued weekly, the girls being confined to the followers of Sims.

Last summer, when Bob Sims was driven out of Choctaw county by the citizens, the two girls were driven to the place where they were very denunciated the men who were concerned in what they termed a shameful and cowardly conspiracy. They at once went to the place where they were the conspirators and to arrange for the return of their father to his home.

Falling to secure any redress or encouragement from the law, the two girls went to Montgomery and called on Governor Jones.

They were neatly dressed and modest looking, and the evidence sincerely which they told the story of their alleged wrongs made a favorable impression on Governor Jones, and he promised to investigate the matter, and to see that Bob Sims received justice.

The action of the girls in boldly going to the governor and asking protection for their father surprised the citizens of Choctaw county, and for awhile they ceased to interfere with the Simstites in their persecutions of the citizens.

When the attack was made on the house of John McMillan during Christmas week, the two girls were ordered by the Simstites the daughters of the outlaw leader were in the party dressed in men's clothing, and each one carrying a heavy rifle.

They were placed under arrest at the time of the surrender, charged with the murder of the late Mr. McMillan, and taken to the jail at Montgomery.

NEWS OF A WEEK.

WHAT IS HAPPENING IN THE WORLD AROUND US.

A Condensed Report of the News From Our Contemporaries.

Chas. A. McNeil, a young lawyer of Carthage died January 3rd.

It is reported that Dr. Eugene Grissom is insane, and confined in an asylum in Denver, Colorado.

The Davis School closed made up a purse of $45 and forwarded it as a Christmas present to the Oxford Orphanage.

Dr. Sion H. Rogers, of Raleigh, who was in the Insane Asylum with Dr. Grissom, died in Abilene, Texas, last week.

The County Commissioners of Mecklenburg, Vance and Bladen counties refuse to issue license to sell liquor. The town commissioners of Clinton and Oxford do likewise.

The Atlantic Seaside says that Mrs. J. L. Gibbs, of Beaufort, has an orange tree in her flower yard that bore fourteen oranges the present season. One of the fully developed ones was presented to the editor of the Seaside last week, and he pronounced it delicious.

We are glad to learn that Mr. J. L. Horn, of Whitakers, will soon move to Rocky Mount and locate permanently here. Mr. Horn is a gentleman of the highest character, and when we say he is a son of J. L. Horn, of Edgecombe, it is not necessary to add that he comes from as good stock as there is in North Carolina.—Argonaut.

Dr. Geo. W. Lewis, of Springhope, Nash county, has moved to Reidsville, where he will practice his profession. He is a son of our old friend Sheriff Lewis, and a graduate of medicine from the University of Maryland.

There is a sensation in Davidson county. A young man and woman were being married. The ceremony proceeded without interruption until the justice reached the point where man and woman are asked to join hands. Then the countenance of the bride suddenly became stern, and she immediately ran away and concealed herself and refused to give any explanation of her conduct.

The county board of education of Rowan has raised the appropriation of the school, fixing it at $1.50 per capita. This makes Rowan the banner county in North Carolina, as no other county has ever appropriated over $1.53 per capita. This increase in the school fund, as the Salisbury Herald says, is in accord with Prof. Merrill's idea so pointedly expressed during the institute last summer—that is, longer school terms and better pay for the teachers of our public schools.

In December, Henrietta Melver, a negro woman of Duplin county, was convicted of the murder of her young child and sentenced to be hanged on the 27th of this month. It was discovered that the poor creature was temporarily it not permanently unsound in mind. The judge, jury and solicitor urged the Governor to commute the sentence and laid these facts before him. The judge recommended that the term of imprisonment be seven years in the case was such as to clearly show the necessity for executive clemency. The Governor therefore commuted the death yesterday to imprisonment for the term named.—State Chronicle.

At Weldon Wednesday night, Dr. Thomas H. Clark, a well-known gentleman of Pamlico Springs, near Littleton, was killed. He had gone there from Littleton and registered at the Atlantic Coast-Line Hotel. He had his baggage sent up to his room and walked out, it is supposed, to see some of his relatives and attempted to cross the railroad by going between the cars of a freight train. He was caught beneath the wheels and instantly killed. Dr. Clark was a son of the late Colonel D. C. Clark, of Halifax county, and a near relative Judge Walter Clark. He was about thirty-five years of age and had been married a year. He leaves a devoted young wife, who was Miss Nannie Allston, of Littleton. His remains were sent to Enfield for interment in the family burying-ground, near that place.

PHILADELPHIA MARKETS. Closing Quotations of the Stock and Produce Exchange.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—The stock market was moderately active and steady. There was considerable trading in Pennsylvania and the stock market was strong and active, and the preference bonds were firm.
