the Osborne Case. THE FAIR PRISONER COMMITTED.

Hargreaves' Tears Prevent the Expression of Sympathy She Feels for

LONDON, Feb. 13 .- Florence Ethel Osborne was brought from Holloway jail to Bow street police court and arraigned before Magistrate Sir John Bridge to court room was packed. In the crowd were a large number of ladies in the height of fashion. S4 eager were some of these ladies that they reached the court long before the hour for the hearing, nothing daunted by the unaccustomed character of the place. Mrs. Osborne was attended by her husband. She presented a most pitiful appearance. She was dressed entirely in black, and when she was placed in the prisoner's dock she wept bitterly, blowing her head in her hands so her face could not be seen. Captain Osborne stood beside her outside the dock, and held one of her hands. His friends insist that no disgrace should be attached to him, and though society decrees that he should suffer for a crime of which he knows nothing, they in evidence, Mrs. Osborne broke down completely. Her body shook convulsively, and from her eyes there poured a flood of bitter tears. Mrs. Hargreaves herself was more than touched by the grief of her friend. She could only control herself by the greatest effort, and she wept almost as freely as the prisoner. She leaned toward the dock and tried to whisper a few words story. The jewelry had been restored to her, and all the costs incurred by her in defending the libel suit had been paid

The witness was then asked if she had seen Mrs. Osbore since the latter had returned to England and given herself up to the police. With every evidence of deep emotion Mrs. Hargreave said that she had visited her at the jail.

Mr. Spink, the jeweler, identified Mrs.
Osborne,

After further evidence by Mr. Spink and from a witness from the Bank of England regarding the notes signed by and a large number of people were the prisoner, the magistrate asked Mrs. Osborne if she had anything to say. She, in a very faint voice, answed "No." The prisoner was then formally committed for trial.

The treasury prosecution of Mrs. Osborne is based on a charge of larceny as

To Bring Riggin's Body Home. Washington, Feb. 13.-Application has been made to the state department by the family of Sailor Riggin, who was killed in the Valparaiso row, to have his body removed from Chile. The law in most of the South American countries prohibits the disinterment of bodies once buried until the lapse of a given number of years, which differ in the length of time in the several countries. The state department is taking steps to comply with the request of Riggin's family and have his remains brought to Evicting the Lot Jumpers.

EL RENO, O. T., Feb. 13 .- The excitement over town lots has almost subsided. At the request of Governor Seay Judge Clark, of Oklahoma City, came to El Reno and ordered the lot jumpers evicted. > FATAL HOTEL FIRE. Seventeen Dead Bodies Recovered from the Ruins.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.-A disaster paralleling in horror the terrible occurrence in Park Place, the remembrance of which is fresh in the public minds, occurred here early yesterday morning. The Hotel Royal, at Fortieth street and burned to death, many suffocated by smoke and others crushed to death in Harrowing scenes were witnessed by those who were assembled in sight of the burning house. One unknown man sprang from a window on the third floor and was dashed to death on the sidewalk below before the horrified eyes of the spectators. This terrible scene was enacted on the Sixth avenue side of the house. A moment later another man leaped from a window on the Fortieth street side and was mangled to death. Shortly afterward two women jumped from windows on the Sixth avenue side. NEW YORK, Feb. 12 .- The worst in regard to the Hotel Royal fire is known. seventeen persons in all, eleven of whom were women and six men, is the total number of the dead. Of these niue have been positively identified. Last evening the contractor, Mr. Galligan, withdrew his men from the ruins. He said that every inch of the debris had been overhauled, and that there were no more bodies in the ruins. The unidentified bodies were buried by the charity commissioners today.

His Letter to Chairman Clarkson Announcing His Decision.

CULLOM WILL BE A CANDIDATE.

Leading Republicans in Illinois Say That This Means the Renomination of President Harrison, an Opinion Which Is Shared by Cabinet Officials.

Washington, Feb. 6, 1892. Hon. J. S. Clarkson, chairman of the national Republican committee:

My DEAR SIR-I am not a candidate for the presidency, and my name will not go before the Republican national convention for the nomination. I make this announcement in due season. To those who have tendered their support I owe sincere thanks and am most graceful for their confidence. They will, I am sure, make earnest efforts in the approaching contest, which is rendered especially important by reason of the industrial and financial policies of the government being at stake. The popular decision on these issues is of great moment and will be of far reach JAMES G. BLAINE. Washington, Feb. 9 .- Opinions'differ widely as to the effect upon national politics of Mr. Blaine's letter. Politicians seem to be practically unanimous in the belief that the secretary, in writing it, turns his back on the nomination for the presidency, it being generally conceded that he could be his party's candidate if he would but consent. This belief is shared by leaders of both great It is developed here, as a consequence of Mr. Blaine's letter of withdrawal, that Illinois will probably have a strong candidate for the presidential nomina-tion in the person of Senator Cullom. The senator desires a delegation favorationed by a reporter Senator Cullom "I am not surprised. I had intimations of its coming from various sources, and, indeed, from the secretary himself, but nothing definite. It opens the field for the nomination."

"Does that mean that you will enter?" "Yes, it does. I have said to my friends that, having given Illinois thirty years of earnest service-eight in the state legislature, six in the governor's chair, eight in the lower house of congress, and nine in the senate—I would esterm it a great honor to have the delegation to the national Republican convention from Illinois support me for the presidential nomination."

CHICAGO, Feb.9. -Blame's withdra wal is the political sensation of the hour. The members of the numerous Blaine clubs are much chagrined, but Harrison's supporters are jubilant. The leadcertainly means Harrison's renomination at Minneapolis, -Major Brockaway, president of the Illinois Blaine club, says it means victory for Harrison, The Tribune, the Blaine organ of the north-, west, accepts the resignation as final and says it points une ringly to Harrison's renomination.

Washington, Feb. 10. - President Harrison and his cabinet officials were in session an hour and a half yesterday. The business before the meeting related almost entirely to the Behring sea matter, but as Lord Salisbury's approval of the treaty submitting the subject to arbitration had not yet been received by Sir Julian Pauncefote nothing was ac complished. Secretary Blaine came in some time after the rest of the cabinet gathered, and is said to have been in particularly good spirits. There was, of course, some discussion of the secre-tary's letter of withdrawal, and it was the unanimous expression of the members that President Harrison's renomination by acclamation was practically assured. The prospect of this is said to have been highly satisfactory to every one of his official family.

The Reading's Big Scoop.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 13.—The absorption by the Philadelphia and Reading railroad of the Lehigh Valley, Jersey Central and Lehigh and Susquenanna roads, thus gaining control of threefourths of the coal carrying trade of the country, causes considerable comment in railroad circles. A prominent official of the Pennsylvania road says it is against the law of the state which prohibits the sale of a road to a competing line, and that the state authorities will prevent it. In the national house of representatives Mr. Stout, of Michigan, introduced a resolution calling on the interstate commerce committee to investigate the matter.

Tennessee Miners Again. Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 13,-Perhaps the most remarkable celebration of Lincoln's birthday in the country occurred at Coal Creek, in the mountains of East Tennessee, where a garrison of guards are standing between free and convict miners. A large crowd was in attendance, and red hot speeches were made by three leaders. One of them, Ingraham, said: "The eyes of the world are on you, and if a citizen of Coal Creek loses his life in this struggle the fellow soldier named Edward McMillan army of Tennessee will be exterminated." The wires have been cut, and a fight is looked for by the garrison.

Both Were Disappointed. Some time ago Thomas A. Maxwell, of Austin, came across a Chicago paper with this advertisement: "A young lady, handsome brunette twenty-five years of age and of lively disposition, wishes to correspond with middle aged, wealthy gentleman, with a view to matrimony. Address B. T.,

Greenwood, Wis." The lively disposition settled Maxwell he answered the advertisement. The lively lady, who proved to be Miss Belle Taylor, replied, and then she sent her photograph and he his tintype. The other day at the Union depot the attendant on the ladies' waiting room observed a woman of "uncertain age" sitting by herself in a corner weeping. "Look at that tintype," she sobbed. "How old would you take that man to be?" "That man's about thirty years old, I should say," replied the attendant, "Thirty! He's sixty. He's nothing but a wretched old fraud. I'm out my fare from Green Bay to Chicago. Can't 1 have him arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses?" "To think that an old hen like tha should do me up in the first round," said Mr. Maxwell in the gentlemen's waiting room. "Sent me the photograph of he youngest sister, and had the gall to lie me out until I stuck it under her nose and called down her bluff." The old maid from Wisconsin and Mr Maxwell, of Texas, had a cat-and-dog time for about an hour, when Miss Tay lor arose, and with a sarcastic "Goodby dearest," took a train for Wisconsin. "She has a lively disposition," said Mr. Maxwell, "and don't yer ferget it." -Chicago Cor. St. Louis Globe-Demo Evils of an Electric Light. All is not gold that glitters, and many and wide spreading as are the benefits conferred on mankind by the electric light, it appears that there are conditions under which its use is fraught with grievous inconvenience and distress This has been shown by the institution of a recent suit against an electric light ing company by a householder.

Two are lights of the company threw their bright beams all through the night over the show windows of a store on the ground floor of the house. These lamps. however, fill with a flood of light the rooms of the flat above, in which the suitor resided, much to his disgust.

A third nuisance consisted in the myriad of moths, bugs and other insects which the intense light attracted. The suitor claimed that he had suffered tor tures during the hot weather. If the windows were left open to admit the cool
